Ashish Saraf, President of our Company, Deep Saraf – Vice President of our Company, who are also related to our Promoter have been involved in Recovery proceedings in the capacity of Guarantors for default in repayment of loans by certain companies. Further there are some outstanding cases against our Promoter Group member Ramesh Saraf & Prem Products Private Limited also. Though it is not mandated by SEBI ICDR Regulation to disclose such litigations in the above table, for information purposes, we have included the details of their cases in the chapter titled “Outstanding Litigation” on page 242 of the Prospectus. For further details about litigation against them please refer the head “Outstanding litigation against other companies or any other person whose outcome could have an adverse effect on our Company” in Outstanding litigation chapter on page 242 of the Prospectus.

- The availability of our main raw materials is seasonal in nature. Further the same are sourced from tribals spread across the forests of Central India. Increase in costs or a shortfall in availability of the raw materials we purchase could have a material adverse effect on our Company’s sales, profitability and results of operations.

We mainly require tree borne seeds such as sal seeds, mango kernel, etc. for manufacturing our products. Such raw materials are mainly to be procured from forests of different regions of our country such as Chhattisgarh, Jharkand, Odisha and parts of Madhya Pradesh, etc. which is dependent on various factors such as season, forest produce, quality, availability, etc. Though we also import certain materials and procure from local government authorities at times, we are majorly dependent on the local tribes to meet our raw material requirements. We are therefore exposed to fluctuations in the prices of these raw materials as well as its unavailability, particularly as we typically do not enter into any long term supply agreements with our suppliers and our major requirement is met in the spot market. If we were to experience a significant or prolonged shortage of such materials due to severe climatic conditions, changes in government regulations, shortage due to sourcing by the tribals or other factors, and we cannot procure the raw materials from other sources, we would be unable to meet our production schedules and to deliver such products to our customers in timely fashion, which would adversely affect our sales, margins and customer relations. Any change in the supplying pattern of our products, the cost and availability of our raw materials and any increase in their cost and/or availability at a reasonable price or at all, could adversely affect our margins, sales and results of operations

Management Perception

Our procurement system has been established over a period of many years and is now at a developed stage. We have been servicing tribals on time and over the years, we have built goodwill in the community which help us getting the material consistently. There are around 18,000 collection centres over different areas which services our raw material requirements. As a part of our business strategy, we shall also diversify our raw material requirement to Shea seeds to the tune of 20-25% which shall be imported. As per CARE Industry Report, the estimated annual production for sal seeds is generally 10 lakhs mt and for mango kernel is generally 6 lakhs mt. Thus we do not foresee any issues due to non availability of raw material naturally.

- Our top five and top ten customers contributed 72.16% and 87.19% of our total revenue from operations for the year ended March 31, 2018. Any loss of business from one or more of them may adversely affect our revenues and profitability.

Our top ten customers contributed to a substantial portion of our revenues for the year ended March 31, 2018. However, the composition and revenue generated from these clients might change as we continue to add new customers in normal course of business. Any decline in our quality standards, growing competition and any change in the demand for our products by these customers may adversely affect our ability to retain them. We believe we have maintained good and long term relationships with our customers. However, there can be no assurance that we will continue to have such long term relationship with them. Also any delay or default in payment by these customers may adversely affect our business, financial condition and results of operations. We cannot assure that we shall generate the same quantum of business, or any business at all, from these customers, and loss of business from one or more of them may adversely affect our revenues and profitability.

4. Our Company has recently ventured into cocoa butter equivalent manufacturing.

In the erstwhile standards of chocolate, use of vegetable fat other than cocoa butter was not permitted, however use of vegetable fat other than cocoa butter was in the international practise in Europe, Japan, Russia. Therefore in line with International Practise and CODEX, the standard for chocolate in India has been revised to permit the use of vegetable fat other than Cocoa butter upto 5% of the finished products. Recently on January 1, 2018, the Food Safety and Standards (Food Products Standards and Food Additives) Fourth Amendment Regulations, 2017 notified and revised the standards vide F. No. Stds /SCSS&H/ Notification (02)/FSSAI-2016 for chocolate including addition of standards of two types of chocolate i.e. Praline and couverture. Prior to the above notification coming into effect, we used to mainly process and sell CBE related ingredients and other related products such as Sal stearin, Sal butter, Sal NBD fat, mango butter, Kokum, phulwara, mahua, dhupa, (fats),etc. We commenced processing and sale of CBE only pursuant to the above notification coming into effect and therefore have no operating history as an owner/operator upon which investors can evaluate its performance. The Company has currently started generating revenues in sales of CBE but expects to generate a substantial revenue from CBE as it envisages a huge demand for the product. We also propose to set up an integrated manufacturing facility for manufacturing Cocoa Butter Equivalent and other related products through the use of Net Proceeds. For further details, refer the chapter titled “Objects of the Issue” beginning on page 104 of the Prospectus. Investors should understand that an investment in a business without operating history is significantly riskier than an investment in a business with any significant operating history.

There can be no assurance that the Company will achieve revenues or profitability from such line of products. The Company’s operations are subject to all of the risks inherent in the establishment of a new business initiative. The likelihood of our success must be considered in light of the problems, expenses, difficulties, complications and delays frequently encountered in connection with the formation of a pre-revenue business. Our lack of a significant and relevant operating history in domestic and export market makes it difficult to manage operations and predict future operating results. The time required for us to become profitable is uncertain, and there can be no assurance can be no assurance that we will achieve profitability on a sustained basis, if at all.

Management Perception: Our Company has been dealing in the ingredients of cocoa butter equivalents and other related products for more than a decade and believes that it shall not any face major challenges in developing a clientele base for cocoa butter equivalents as the same is next level value added product of our current products. Further our management envisages opportunities in this segment pursuant to the abovementioned notification coming to effect. We have also entered into an agreement with one of the leading chocolate manufacturers for supply of CBE for a period of two years from April, 2018.

5. Our trading operations constituted more than 55% of our total revenue from operations for the last three financial years. However our Company has been experiencing a loss on such trading activities. As a part of our future strategy, our Company may not pursue trading activities which may adversely affect our total revenue from operations. Further investors may not be able to compare financial results of future periods directly with the past periods.

Our Company generated 71.78%, 60.24% and 57.22% of total revenue from operations from its trading activities of agro based commodities such as rice, maize, soya DOC, etc. for the year ended March 31, 2018, 2017 and 2016 respectively. However we have generally experienced loss on our trading activities in the past years. We earlier harboured the ambition of becoming agro-product trading house along with manufacturing. However, the trading business could not yield results as envisaged by our management. As a part of our future business strategy, our Company may not pursue the trading business going forward, which may adversely affect our total revenue from operations. Further investors may not be able to compare financial results of future periods directly with the past periods.

6. We utilise services of certain third parties for carrying out solvent extraction process required for manufacturing our products.

Our manufacturing process can be broadly divided into two parts i.e solvent extraction and fractionation. At present, we are utilising services of certain third parties at Chhatisgarh for carrying out solvent extraction process required for manufacturing our products. Although we conduct quality checks on sample basis and such process is carried out under supervision of our team, any semi finished goods received by us which do not comply with the quality specifications or standards prevalent in the business or market segment, may result in deterioration of our final products leading to customer dissatisfaction, and consequently may have an adverse effect on our sales and profitability. Another important factor in our industry is timeliness of delivery. Any refusal from suppliers to adhere to the delivery schedules or to supply in the necessary quantities may adversely affect our ability to deliver orders on time and as a result we may lose customers.

Though our management have not experienced any quality deterioration so far and believes that there shall be no difficulties in finding new solvent extraction facilities if required, there can be no assurance that our existing or potential solvent extraction facility providers will continue to provide us with the necessary services, at the desired level of quality and within the scheduled timelines. Further we are in the process of establishing an integrated manufacturing facility at Birkon, near Raipur and once the said factory is set, such activities shall be majorly carried in house only.

7. If we are subject to product liability claims, it could expose us to costs and liabilities and adversely affect our reputation, revenues and profitability.

We are exposed to risks associated with product liability claims as a result of developing, producing, promoting and selling cocoa butter equivalents and other related products like sal stearin, mango stearin, mango butter, sal NBD fat etc. in India and other jurisdictions in which our products are sold. Such claims may arise if any of our products are deemed or proven to be unsafe, ineffective or defective contaminated or if we are alleged to have engaged in practices such as improper, insufficient or improper labelling of products or providing inadequate warnings. There can be no assurances that we will not be subjected to product liabilities claims or that we will be able to successfully defend ourselves against any such claims. In addition, we may be required to recall the relevant products, suspend sales or cease sales. Other jurisdictions in which our products are sold, or may be sold in the future, may have similar or more onerous product liability and regulatory regimes, as well as more litigious environments that may further expose us to the risk of product liability claims. We have been consistently audited by our customers for best practices and at present we have taken product liability insurance, however even if we are able to successfully defend ourselves against any such product liability claims, doing so may require significant financial resources and the time and attention of our management. Moreover, even the allegation that our products are defective, whether or not ultimately proven, may adversely affect our reputation and sales volumes.

8. We generate our major portion of domestic sales from our operations in certain geographical regions especially Maharashtra and Madhya Pradesh. Any adverse developments affecting our operations in these regions could have an adverse impact on our revenue and results of operations.

For the year ended March 31, 2018 our revenue from our customers situated in Maharashtra and Madhya Pradesh contributed 51.75% and 25.28% of our total revenue from operations as per our Restated Financial Statements. Such geographical concentration of our business in these regions heightens our exposure to adverse developments related to competition, as well as economic and demographic changes in these regions which may adversely affect our business prospects, financial conditions and results of operations. We may not be able to leverage our experience in Maharashtra and Madhya Pradesh region to expand our operations in other parts of India, should we decide to further expand our operations. Factors such as competition, regulatory regimes, business practices and customs, industry needs, transportation, in other markets where we may expand our operations may differ from those in such regions, and our experience in these regions may not be applicable to other markets. While our management believes that the Company has requisite expertise and vision to grow and mark its presence in other markets going forward, investors should consider our business and prospects in light of the risks, losses and challenges that we may face and should not rely on our results of operations for any prior periods as an indication of our future performance.

Management Perception: We have been focusing on increasing our manufactured product sales and have been widening our reach in international markets. With the allowance of usage of CBE in India from 01.01.2018, we are endeavouring to widen our domestic reach also.

9. The Company is yet to place orders for 98.92% of the plant & machinery for our proposed object, as specified in the Objects of the Issue. Any delay in placing orders, procurement of plant & machinery may delay our implementation schedule and may also lead to increase in price of these plant & machineries, further affecting our revenue and profitability.

Although we have identified the type of plant and machinery required to be bought for setting up of a new integrated manufacturing facility at Raipur, as on the date of the Prospectus, we have only placed order for few machineries amounting to Rs. 49.46 lakhs. We are yet to place orders for 98.92% of the plant & machinery as detailed in the — “Objects of the Issue” beginning on page 104 of this Prospectus. These are based on our estimates and on third-party quotations, which are subject to a number of variables, including possible cost overruns, changes in management’s views of the desirability of current plans, change in supplier of equipments, among others, which may have an adverse effect on our business and results of operations. Further, we cannot assure that we would be able to procure these plant and machineries, or procure the same within budgeted costs and timelines. Delays in acquisition of the same could result in the cost and time overrun in the implementation of the Project, which would have a material adverse effect on our business, results of operations and financial condition. For further details, please refer to the chapter titled “Objects of the Issue” beginning on page 104 of this Prospectus.

10. The improper handling, processing or storage of our raw materials or products, or spoilage of and damage to such raw materials and products, or any real or perceived contamination in our products, could subject us to regulatory action, damage our reputation and have an adverse effect on our business, results of operations and financial condition.

Our manufactured products are mainly used as ingredients of food products which are used for human consumption and in cosmetic products and are subject to risks such as contamination, adulteration and product tampering during their manufacture, transport or storage. Further our traded products are also used for human consumption or as cattle feed. Although all our raw materials and finished products are extensively tested at our facilities, we cannot assure you that the quality tests conducted by us will be accurate at all times. Also certain of our raw materials and our products are required to be stored, handled and transported under certain food safety conditions. Any shortcoming in the production or storage of our products due to negligence, human error or otherwise, may damage our products and result in noncompliance with applicable regulatory standards. Any allegation that our products contain contaminants could damage our reputation, adversely affect our sales and result in legal proceedings being initiated against us, irrespective of whether such allegations have any factual basis. Further we generally sell certain ingredients to institutional customers and if the end products manufactured by those customers are found to be contaminated on account of our ingredients, our customers may return our goods, terminate their relationships with us and initiate legal proceedings against us. Should any of our products be perceived or found to be contaminated, we may be subject to regulatory action, product recalls and our reputation, business, results of operations and financial condition may be adversely affected. Although we attempt to maintain quality standards, we cannot assure that all our products would be of uniform quality, which in turn could adversely affect the value of our brand, and our sales could be diminished if we are associated with negative publicity.

11. Our Company has negative cash flows from its operating activities for FY 2017-18, as well as from investing activities and financing activities in the past years, details of which are given below. Sustained negative cash flow could impact our growth and business.

Our Company had negative cash flows from our operating activities for FY 2017-18, as well as from investing activities and financing activities in the previous year(s) as per the Restated Financial Statements and the same are summarized as under:

(Rs. in lakhs)

Particulars	For The Year Ended
	2018	2017	2016	2015	2014
Cash Flow from / (used in) Operating Activities	(1,186.86)	1,065.69	130.86	1,039.48	16.25
Cash Flow from / (used in) Investing Activities	(90.36)	33.08	(33.47)	(13.58)	73.90
Cash Flow from / (used in) Financing Activities	1,615.93	(543.59)	223.23	(986.96)	(41.04)

Cash flow of a company is a key indicator to show the extent of cash generated from operations to meet capital expenditure, pay dividends, repay loans and make new investments without raising finance from external resources. If we are not able to generate sufficient cash flows in future, it may adversely affect our business and financial operations.

Management Perception:

As India has opened up for 5% CBE consumption with effect from 1st January 2018 and hence the demand from multinational companies has gone up and to cater to this demand, additional production was done which is reflected in increase in inventory and lead to negative cash from operations. . On account of this deregulation, the company has increased its inventory of CBE related ingredients from INR 103.61 lakhs in FY 17 to INR 1,672.23 lakhs in FY 18 in order to fulfil the domestic demand along with the existing global demand. Such inventories has been started to dispatch from April 2018. The higher production of inventory was financed through cash credit facilities.

12. Our Company requires concentrated working capital for a continued growth. Our inability to meet our working capital requirements may have an adverse effect on our results of operations.

Our working capital requirement is generally high during May-July when we procure our major raw materials i.e. sal seeds and mango kernel. Since we make concentrated buying during this period, we generally use our banking limits fully during this period. Further we need to give fixed deposits as collateral security against our cash credit facilities. Summary of our working capital position as per our Restated Financial Statements is given below:-

(Rs. in lakhs)

Particulars	As at March 31,
	2018	2017	2016	2015	2014
A. Current Assets
Inventories	1,803.41	189.98	551.27	286.32	761.29
Trade Receivables	157.96	107.05	37.52	100.45	316.47
Cash and Cash Equivalents	1,912.24	1,573.55	1,018.36	697.72	658.79
Short Term Loans & Advances	108.93	59.64	43.72	273.46	116.87
Other Current Assets	218.04	26.09	50.42	0.64	3.93

Particulars	As at March 31,
	2018	2017	2016	2015	2014
B. Current Liabilities
Trade Payables	102.87	717.30	152.44	129.99	45.45
Other Current Liabilities	35.32	84.89	64.00	189.56	45.18

Working Capital (A-B)	3,803.25	1,145.25	1,461.94	1,025.49	1,747.06

We intend to continue growing by expanding our business operations. This may result in increase in the quantum of current assets particularly inventories and trade receivables. Our inability to maintain sufficient cash flow, credit facility and other sources of fund, in a timely manner, or at all, to meet the requirement of working capital could adversely affect our financial condition and result of our operations. For further details regarding working capital requirement, please refer to the chapter titled "Objects of the Issue" beginning on page 104 of this Prospectus.

13. Delay in schedule of implementation of our project for setting up of a new integrated manufacturing facility may subject our Company to risks related to time and cost overrun which may have a material adverse effect on our business, results of operations and financial condition.

Our Company is currently proposing to set up a new integrated manufacturing facility at Birkoni, near Raipur. For further details regarding to our proposed setting up a new integrated manufacturing facility, please refer the chapter titled "Objects of the Issue" on page 104 of this Prospectus. We may face risks relating to the setting up of our new facility, complete the projects within our estimated budget, failure of our contractors and suppliers to adhere to our specifications and timelines, and changes in the general economic and financial conditions in India. We have limited control over the timing and quality of services, equipment or other supplies from third party contractors and/or consultants appointed by us, and we may be required to incur additional unanticipated costs to remedy any defect or default in their services or products to ensure that the planned timelines are adhered to. Further as and when we complete our upgradation work, our material requirements and costs as well as our staffing requirements and employee expenses may increase and we may face other challenges in extending our financial and other controls to our unit managing our consequent growth.

In the event that the risks and uncertainties discussed above or any other unanticipated risks, uncertainties, contingencies or other events or circumstances limit or delay our efforts to use the Net Proceeds to achieve the planned growth in our business, the use of the Net Proceeds for purposes identified by our management may not result in actual growth of our business, increased profitability or an increase in the value of your investment in our Equity Shares.

14. Our business operations may be materially adversely affected by strikes, work stoppages or increased wage demands by our employees or those of our suppliers.

We face competitive pressures in recruiting and retaining skilled and unskilled labour. Shortage of skilled/unskilled personnel or work stoppages caused by disagreements with employees could have an adverse effect on our business and results of operations. We have not experienced any major disruptions to our business operations due to disputes or other problems with our work force in the past; there can be no assurance that we will not experience such disruptions in the future. Such disruptions may adversely affect our business and results of operations and may also divert the management's attention and result in increased costs. India has stringent labour legislation that protects the interests of workers, including legislation that sets forth detailed procedures for the establishment of unions, dispute resolution and employee removal and legislation that imposes certain financial obligations on employers upon retrenchment. We are also subject to laws and regulations governing relationships with employees, in such areas as minimum wage and maximum working hours, overtime, working conditions, hiring and terminating of employees and work permits. Although our employees are not currently unionized, there can be no assurance that they will not unionize in the future. If our employees unionize, it may become difficult for us to maintain flexible labour policies, and we may face the threat of labour unrest, work stoppages and diversion of our management's attention due to union intervention, which may have a material adverse impact on our business, results of operations and financial condition.

15. If we are unable to comply with the terms of the leases pertaining to any of our facilities or renew our agreements or enter into new agreements on favourable terms, or at all, our business, results of operations and financial condition may be adversely affected.

We cannot assure you that we will be able to fully comply with all the terms of the lease deeds which we have entered into in relation to our processing facility, warehouses and offices, renew such leases or enter into new leases in the future, on terms favourable to us, or at all. Further, generally the lessors are entitled to terminate the lease deeds prior to the end of their tenure due to any non-compliance with terms of the lease agreements or non-payment of rent for over a specified period. In the event that any lease deed is terminated prior to its tenure or not renewed, we will be unable to utilize our leased properties which shall hamper our business operations. Additionally, we may be required to expend time and financial resources to shift our leasehold facilities to a new location and there can be no assurance that the arrangement we enter into in respect of new premises would be on such terms and conditions as the present one. Further as on the date of the Prospectus, some of our lease agreements have expired and we are in the process of renewal of such agreements. However, we are in the process of setting up an integrated plant, which is one of the objects of the issue and this risk shall be mitigated to the applicable extent once the new plant is fully operational as per the estimated time schedule. For details refer the chapter titled "Objects of the Issue" beginning on page 104 of the Prospectus.

16. Any disruption in production at, or shutdown of our sole processing facility could adversely affect our business, results of operations and financial condition.

Our processing facility is situated at Nagpur. We carry out refining and fractionation process at this facility. Our processing facility is susceptible to damage or interruption or operating risks, such as human error, power loss, breakdown or failure of equipment, power supply or processes, performance below expected levels of output or efficiency, obsolescence, loss of services of our external contractors, terrorist attacks, acts of war, break-ins, and industrial accidents and similar events. Further, our processing facility is also subject to operating risk arising from compliance with the directives of relevant government authorities. Operating risks may result in personal injury and property damage and in the imposition of civil and criminal penalties. If our Company experiences delays in production or shutdowns due to any reason, including disruptions caused by disputes with its workforce or any external factors, our Company's operations will be significantly affected, which in turn would have a material adverse effect on its business, financial condition and results of operations.

17. We do not have any offshore office or business place to look after our export operations.

We sell our products to both domestic as well as international markets. A significant portion of our revenue from manufacturing operations is derived from international markets. However, we do not have any offshore office as a result of which we may not be able to capitalize on opportunities offered by the evolving international cocoa butter equivalents and other related products sector in a timely manner. The business operations of our Company are mainly handled from our corporate office located at Raipur and our registered office situated at Mumbai. Apart from this, our Company does not have any place of business overseas either in the nature of liaison office or corporate office. Due to this, we may not be able to expand our business effectively in the international market, thereby affecting the results of operations and profitability. However our management believes that we sell our products to many large MNCs who buys the product after conducting suitable & thorough due diligence on our capabilities. Hence this is an involved customer relationship & sales process; and does not require multiple office overseas to conduct & grow the business.

18. The shortage or non-availability of power may adversely affect our processing operations and have an adverse impact on our results of operations and financial condition.

Our processing facility requires substantial amount of power facilities. The quantum and nature of power requirements of our industry and Company is such that it cannot be supplemented/ augmented by alternative/ independent sources of power supply since it involve significant capital expenditure and per unit cost of electricity produced is very high. We are mainly dependent on State Government for meeting our electricity requirements. Any disruption / non availability of power facilities shall directly affect our production which in turn shall have an impact on profitability and turnover of our Company. Though our Company has installed D.G. sets to face power contingencies, we cannot assure that our facilities will be operational during power failures.

19. We may need to write down our inventories, if unutilised or unsold beyond the shelf life.

The shelf life our manufactured products generally ranges from 1-2 years. Further since the raw material required to manufacture such products are also agro/ forest produce, they also typically have a shelf life of around 3 years. Although we have adequate storage facilities and we do not typically hold our manufactured products or raw materials beyond its shelf life, there is no assurance that the quality of the unsold or unutilised inventory of finished goods or raw material respectively will not deteriorate if kept for too long. In the event that the quality of such unused raw materials or unsold manufactured products deteriorate, we may have to write down our inventory value which may adversely affect our financial condition and results of operations.

20. We have certain contingent liabilities that have not been provided for in our Company's financials which if materialised, could adversely affect our financial condition.

Our contingent liabilities as per our Restated Financial Statements on March 31, 2018 is as under:

(Rs. in lakhs)

Sr.	Particulars	As at March 31, 2018
1.	Income Tax Demand AY 13-14	63.69
	Total	63.69

Further we have also been served with a demand notice dated January 3, 2018 by Office of the Deputy Director General of Foreign Trade for Rs. 14.48 lakhs for non-submission of proof of discharge of our earlier export obligation.

In the event any such contingencies mentioned above were to materialize or if our contingent liabilities were to increase in the future, our financial condition could be adversely affected. For further details, see the section entitled "Financial Statements" on page 219 of this Prospectus.

21. Credit Rating of the Company.

The cost and availability of capital, amongst other factors, is also dependent on our credit ratings. We had been rated by Brickwork Ratings as Long Term Rating BWR BBB Outlook: Stable dated July 11, 2018 & Short term Rating BWR A3+ date July 11, 2018. Also we have been rated "4A2" by Dun & Bradstreet Information Services India Private Limited vide rating Certificate dated June 30, 2018. Ratings reflect a rating agency's opinion of our financial strength, operating performance, strategic position, and ability to meet our obligations. Any downgrade of our credit ratings would increase borrowing costs and constrain our access to capital and lending markets and, as a result, could adversely affect our business. In addition, downgrades of our credit ratings could increase the possibility of additional terms and conditions being added to any new or replacement financing arrangements.

22. Our Company may not have complied with certain statutory provisions under Companies Act. Such non-compliances/lapses may attract penalties.

Our Company may have delayed and made incorrect filing of some forms under the Companies Act in the past. No show cause notice in respect of such filings has been received by the Company till date, however any penalty imposed for such non-compliance in future by any regulatory authority could affect our financial conditions to that extent. Such delay/noncompliance may in the future render us liable to statutory penalties and disallowing the resolutions, which may have consequence of violation of statutory provisions concerned. However our Company has now appointed a whole time Company Secretary who shall ensure that all compliances are made within necessary timelines.

23. Our statutory auditors have included certain observations on certain matters in their auditor's reports.

Our statutory auditors have also reported certain observations in their report on the Companies (Auditors Report) Order, 2015 for the financial year ended March 31, 2018. These matters include certain statutory dues not being deposited due to disputes with the relevant authorities. For details on such observations by our statutory auditor, please refer to the chapter titled "Financial Statements" beginning on page 219 of the Prospectus. Investors should consider the same in evaluation of our financial position, results of operation and cash flows.

24. Our Company has not prepared consolidated financial statements for financial year 2017-18.

During the year ended March 31, 2011 our Company had acquired 50.00% voting power by acquisition of shares in Manorama Energy Private Limited. Thus by definition Manorama Energy Private Limited is an associate of the Company. However the Company has sold off its investment in the associate company on March 1, 2018 therefore, the Company has not prepared consolidated financial statements as per requirement of section 129(3) of the Companies Act 2013 for the year ended March 31, 2018. Hence, to give a comparable view and based on the present situation, restated consolidated financial statements have not been prepared and given in the Prospectus.

25. We require a number of approvals, NOCs, licences, registrations and permits in the ordinary course of our business. All the approvals are required to be transferred in the name of MANORAMA INDUSTRIES LIMITED from MANORAMA INDUSTRIES PRIVATE LIMITED pursuant to name change of our company and any failure or delay in obtaining the same in a timely manner may adversely affect our operations. Our Company has twelve product logos out of which six logos are expired. In case of our failure to renew them, we may not able to use the same.

We need to apply for renewal of approvals which expire, from time to time, as and when required in the ordinary course of our business Pursuant to our conversion from a private limited company to a public limited company in the year 2018, we need to take necessary steps for transferring the approvals of our company in the new name. In case of delay or failure to obtain the same, it could affect our business operations. We have applied for Professional Tax Registration Certificate and it is currently pending. Any failure to renew the approvals that have expired, or to apply for and obtain the required approvals, licences, registrations or permits, or any suspension or revocation of any of the approvals, licences, registrations and permits that have been or may be issued to us, could result in delaying the operations of our business, which may adversely affect our business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects. We cannot assure you that the approvals, licences, registrations and permits issued to us would not be suspended or revoked in the event of non-compliance or alleged non-compliance with any terms or conditions thereof, or pursuant to any regulatory action. For more information, see chapter "Government and Other Statutory Approvals" on page 253 of this Prospectus.

Our ability to market and sell our products depends upon the recognition of our brand names and associated consumer goodwill. As on the date of the Prospectus, we have twelve product logos out of which six logos are expired. Consequently, we do not enjoy the statutory protections accorded to registered trademarks in India for the six logos. We may also be required to renew our other registered trademarks. In case of failure to renew our intellectual property on time, competitors and other companies may challenge the validity or scope of our intellectual property right over our brands or our corporate name or logo, which may adversely affect our business operations As a result, we may be required to invest significant resources in developing new brands or names, which could materially and adversely affect our business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects.

Our failure to comply with existing or increased regulations, or the introduction of changes to existing regulations, could adversely affect our business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects.

The material approvals, licences or permits required for our business includes tax laws, environment laws and shops and establishment licences, among others. See "Government and other Statutory Approvals" on page 253 of this Prospectus for further details on the required material approvals for the operation of our business.

- 26. It is the ‘Objects of our Issue’ to establish an integrated Greenfield project for manufacturing of CBE / specialty fats and tailor-made products at Birkoni, near Raipur, Chhattisgarh (“Acquisition Unit”). Our Company has not applied for a complete series of approvals or change in existing approvals like Employees Provident Fund Certificate, Employees State Insurance Scheme, Shops and Establishment Certificate under Chhattisgarh Shops and Establishments Act, 1958, GSTIN (addition of new unit in the existing certificate); in case of delay or failure to obtain the same, it could adversely affect our business operations.

In furtherance to meet this object, our Company has obtained approvals like Labour license, factory license, Consent to Establish and Consent to Operate. Any failure to apply for and obtain the required approvals, licences, registrations or permits, or any suspension or revocation of any of the approvals, licences, registrations and permits that have been or may be issued to us, could result in delaying the operations of our business, which may adversely affect our business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects. We cannot assure you that the approvals, licences, registrations and permits issued to us would not be suspended or revoked in the event of non-compliance or alleged non-compliance with any terms or conditions thereof, or pursuant to any regulatory action. For more information, see chapter “Government and Other Statutory Approvals” on page 253 of this Prospectus.

- 27. *Any slowdown in the confectionaries or cosmetics industry could significantly decrease the demand for our manufactured products.

The demand for our manufactured products is dependent, among other things, on the conditions of the global and, in particular, the Indian economy. For instance, the demand for our products is significantly affected by the confectionaries or cosmetics industry. A decline in economic activity in India or in international markets may have an adverse effect on consumer demand for our end products. Further our manufactured products generally are used in premium confectionaries and cosmetics and any decline in the consumer spending on such products would have a corresponding impact on the demand for our products leading to lower margins or slack in our capacity utilisation and may materially and adversely affect our business, financial condition, results of operations, cash flows and business prospects.

- 28. *Conflicts of interest may arise out of common business undertaken by our Company, Promoter and our Group Companies.

Our Group Companies M/s. Manorama Earth Private Limited, M/s Manorama Energy Private Limited and M/s Money Resources Private Limited are also authorized to carry similar activities as those conducted by our Company. As a result, conflicts of interests may arise in allocating business opportunities amongst our Company, and our Group Companies in circumstances where our respective interests diverge.. Any such present and future conflicts could have a material adverse effect on our reputation, business, results of operations and financial condition.

However our Company has entered into a non-compete agreement with the said Companies to avoid any potential conflict of interests wherein Group companies have confirmed that they will not take up any business which will conflict with our Company.

- 29. *Some of our Group Companies have incurred losses in the previous financial years.

Sustained financial losses by our Group Companies may not be perceived positively by external parties such as customers, bankers, suppliers etc, which may affect our credibility and business operations. The following of our Group Companies has incurred losses in previous years:

30. We have in the past entered into related party transactions and may continue to do so in the future.

Our Company has entered into various transactions with our Promoters, Promoter Group, Group Companies, Directors and their relatives. While we believe that all such transactions are conducted on arms length basis, there can be no assurance that we could not have achieved more favorable terms had such transactions were not entered into with related parties. Furthermore, it is likely that we will enter into related party transactions in future. There can be no assurance that such transactions, individually or in aggregate, will not have an adverse effect on our financial condition and results of operation. For details on the transactions entered by us, please refer to chapter “Related Party Transactions” beginning on page 217 of the Prospectus.

31. The Project Report envisages certain threats and concerns, in respect of establishing an integrated Greenfield project for Extraction / Refining / Fractionation and value addition of special fats and oils from Tree Oil Seeds (e.g. Mango, Sal, Shea Seeds and Palm) for the Manufacture of CBE / specialty fats and tailor-made products in Birkoni, near Raipur, Chhattisgarh, which might affect our profitability and results of operations. The concerns and threats provided for in the Detailed Project Report have been enumerated below:

The weakness and threats provided for establishing an integrated Greenfield project for Extraction / Refining / Fractionation and value addition of special fats and oils from Tree Oil Seeds (e.g. Mango, Sal, Shea Seeds and Palm) for the Manufacture of CBE / specialty fats and tailor-made products in Birkoni, near Raipur, Chhattisgarh in the Detailed Project report of Care Advisory Research & Training Limited dated May 10, 2018 have been enumerated below

Weakness

- Inadequate funds for working capital allocation for raw material sourcing due to all material available in same period in short span. Thus higher working capital finance is required.
- Difficulty in managing and catering to demand of multiple products and customers. Due to limited production capacity at present one cannot cater to complete demand of our customers

Threats

- Market/People Oriented

Consumer behavior can change in their taste and style. Change in the consumption patterns can lead to a fall in demand of chocolate and other related products. Economic recession due to global cues.

32. Compliance with, and changes in, safety, health and environmental laws and regulations may adversely affect our business, prospects, financial condition and results of operations.

Due to the nature of our business, we expect to be or continue to be subject to extensive and increasingly stringent environmental, health and safety laws and regulations and various labour, workplace and related laws and regulations. We are also subject to environmental laws and regulations, including but not limited to:

- a. Environment (Protection) Act, 1986
- b. Air (Prevention and Control of Pollution) Act, 1981

- c. Water (Prevention and Control of Pollution) Act, 1974
- d. Hazardous Waste Management & Handling Rules, 2008
- e. Other regulations promulgated by the Ministry of Environment and Forests and the Pollution Control Boards of the state of Maharashtra.

which govern the discharge, emission, storage, handling and disposal of a variety of substances that may be used in or result from the operations of our business.

The scope and extent of new environmental regulations, including their effect on our operations, cannot be predicted and hence the costs and management time required to comply with these requirements could be significant. Amendments to such statutes may impose additional provisions to be followed by our Company and accordingly the Company needs to incur clean-up and remediation costs, as well as damages, payment of fines or other penalties, closure of production facilities for non-compliance, other liabilities and related litigation, could adversely affect our business, prospects, financial condition and results of operations.

33. We have referred to the data derived from industry report commissioned from the CARE Advisory Research & Training Limited.

We have retained the services of an independent third party research agency, CARE Advisory Research & Training Limited, to prepare a report on overview of Cocoa Butter Equivalent industry, excerpts from which have been included in this Prospectus. The report prepared by CARE Advisory Research & Training Limited, is subject to various limitations and based upon certain assumptions that are subjective in nature. There can be no assurance that the assumptions adopted by this third party agency for the purposes of preparing their research report will prove to be accurate. If any of these assumptions are incorrect, the understanding of the Cocoa Butter Equivalent industry could be materially different from that set forth in the reports.

34. Our Company is dependent on third party transportation providers for the delivery of our raw materials and products and any disruption in their operations or a decrease in the quality of their services could affect our Company's reputation and results of operations.

Our Company uses third party transportation providers for delivery of our raw materials and final products. Further we are operating through a distributed set up with processes and warehouses at multiple locations including Nagpur in Maharashtra, Raipur and other parts in Chhattisgarh, leading to higher dependence on transportation services to carry out our business operations. Though, our business has not experienced any disruptions due to transportation strikes in the past, any future transportation strikes may have an adverse effect on our business. In addition, goods may be lost or damaged in transit for various reasons including occurrence of accidents or natural disasters. There may also be delay in delivery of products which may also affect our business and results of operation negatively. An increase in the freight costs or unavailability of freight for transportation of our raw materials or finished goods may have an adverse effect on our business and results of operations.

Further, disruptions of transportation services due to weather-related problems, strikes, lock-outs, inadequacies in the road infrastructure, or other events could impair ability to procure input materials on time. Any such disruptions could materially and adversely affect our business, financial condition and results of operations.

35. If we are unable to source business opportunities effectively, we may not achieve our financial objectives.

Our ability to achieve our financial objectives will depend on our ability to identify, evaluate and accomplish business opportunities. To grow our business, we will need to hire, train, supervise and manage new employees and to implement systems capable of effectively accommodating our growth. However, we cannot assure you that any such employees will contribute to the success of our business or that we will implement such systems effectively. Our failure to source business opportunities effectively could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations. It is also possible that the strategies used by us in the future may be different from those presently in use. No assurance can be given that our analyses of market and other data or the strategies we use or plans in future to use will be successful under various market conditions.

36. Our insurance coverage may not be adequate.

Our Company has obtained insurance coverage in respect of certain risks. We have taken Burglary policy, Fire floater policy and Standard Fire & Special perils policy, Commercial General Liability policy (including product liability) to secure the office premises, stock, operations and warehouse. Also we have insured our processing unit from fire and burglary. We also have taken workmen's compensation policy. While we believe that we maintain insurance coverage in adequate amounts consistent with size of our business, our insurance policies do not cover all risks, specifically risks like housebreaking, terrorism, etc. There can be no assurance that our insurance policies will be adequate to cover the losses in respect of which the insurance has been availed. If we suffer a significant uninsured loss or if insurance claim in respect of the subject-matter of insurance is not accepted or any insured loss suffered by us significantly exceeds our insurance coverage, our business, financial condition and results of operations may be materially and adversely affected.

For further details, please refer chapter titled "Our Business" beginning on page 163 of this Prospectus.

37. We face competition from other players which may affect our business operations and financial conditions.

The market for our products and services is competitive majorly on account of organized and international players. Players in this industry generally compete with each other on key attributes such as technical competence, quality of products and services, pricing and timely delivery. Some of our competitors may have longer industry experience and greater financial, technical and other resources, which may enable them to react faster in changing market scenario and remain competitive. Moreover, the unorganized international sector offers their products & services at highly competitive prices which may not be matched by us and consequently affect our revenue from operations and growth prospects. Growing competition may result in a decline in our market share and may affect our margins which may adversely affect our business operations and our financial condition.

38. Our revenue is susceptible to changes in consumer preferences and discretionary consumer spending.

Our continued growth and success depend, in part, on the popularity of confectionary & consumer consumer products. Shifts in consumer preferences away from such products could materially and adversely affect our business and profitability. In addition, our continued success is generally dependent on the level of disposable consumer income and discretionary consumer spending in the markets to which we sell to. Deterioration in economic conditions in markets or countries in which we sell our products may reduce the level of disposable income consumers spend on non-essential products such as chocolate confectionery and cosmetic products.

39. We are susceptible to risks relating to fluctuations in currency exchange rates.

We meet some of our raw material requirements through imports. Further we also generate a substantial portion of our revenues from exports. Any fluctuation in the value of the Indian Rupee against any other foreign currency will affect our results of operations. Although we enter into foreign exchange hedging contracts, we cannot assure you that such hedges will be available or commercially viable or effective to hedge our exposure to foreign currency risks. In addition, the policies of the RBI may also change from time to time, which may limit our ability to effectively hedge our foreign currency exposures and may adversely affect our costs of works contracts and financial results. We cannot guarantee that we will not experience foreign exchange losses going forward and that such losses will not adversely affect our business, financial condition or results of operations.

40. Our Company exports our products to many countries such as Italy, Netherlands, United Kingdom, USA, Germany, etc. Any adverse events affecting these countries could have a significant adverse impact on our results from operations.

Our Company derives a significant part of its revenue from export operations. For the year ended March 31, 2018, our revenue from export operations contributed to 18.34% of the total revenue from operations. Our Company exports its products to many countries namely Italy, Netherlands, United Kingdom, USA, Germany, etc. For details of country wise exports made by our Company during FY 2017-18 please refer chapter titled “Our History and Certain Other Corporate Matters” beginning on page 192 of this Prospectus. Consequently, any adverse changes in these economies such as slowdown in the economy, appreciation of the Indian Rupee vis-à-vis the currencies of these economies, acts of terrorism or hostility targeting these countries, etc. would directly impact our revenues and results from operations. In the event of change in policies or laws in these regions with respect to our industry, quality standards, our financial condition and business operations may be adversely affected. In case of any contingencies in future due to which we are unable to operate effectively in these markets, our results from operations, revenues and profitability may be adversely affected.

41. Failure or disruption of our IT and/or business resource planning systems may adversely affect our business, financial condition, results of operations, cash flows and prospects.

We have implemented some information technology (“IT”) and/or business resource planning systems to cover key areas of our operations. We are dependent on technology in relation to customer order management and dispatches, production planning and reporting, manufacturing processes, financial accounting and scheduling material purchase and shipments. We rely on our IT infrastructure to provide us with connectivity and data backup across our locations and functions. While the business resource planning systems that we have implemented have enabled us to improve our working capital cycles, despite an increase in our sales over the period, we can provide no assurance that we will be able to do so in the future.

We believe that we have deployed adequate IT disaster management systems including data backup and retrieval mechanisms, at our manufacturing facility and registered office and corporate office. However, any failure or disruption in the operation of these systems or the loss of data due to such failure or disruption (including due to human error or sabotage) may affect our ability to plan, track, record and analyze work in progress and sales, process financial information, manage our creditors, debtors, or otherwise conduct our normal business operations, which may increase our costs and otherwise adversely affect our business, financial condition, results of operations and cash flows.

42. Our business depends on our reputation and consumer perception of our brand, and any negative publicity or other harm to our brand or failure to maintain and enhance our brand recognition may materially and adversely affect our business, financial condition, results of operations and cash flows.

We believe that our reputation and consumer perception of our brand are critical to our business. Maintaining and enhancing our reputation and brand recognition depends primarily on the quality and consistency of our products and services, as well as the success of our marketing and promotional efforts. We believe that maintaining and enhancing our brand is essential to our efforts to maintain and expand our customer base. If customers do not perceive our products or services to be of high quality, our brand image may be harmed, thereby decreasing the attractiveness of our products. In addition, our brand image may be harmed by negative publicity relating to us or India’s cocoa butter equivalent industry regardless of its veracity. If we are unable to maintain and further enhance our brand recognition and increase market awareness for us and our products, our ability to attract and retain customers may be impeded and our business prospects may be materially and adversely affected.

43. If we are unable to manage our growth or execute our strategies effectively, our business and prospects may be materially and adversely affected.

Our revenue and our business operations have grown in recent years. We may not be able to sustain these rates of growth in future periods due to a number of factors, including, among others, our execution capability, our ability to maintain customer satisfaction, macroeconomic factors out of our control, the greater difficulty of growing at sustained rates from a larger revenue base, our inability to control our expenses and the availability of resources for our growth. In addition, our anticipated expansion will place a significant strain on our management, systems and resources. Our development and expansion strategies will require substantial managerial efforts and skills and the incurrence of additional expenditures and may subject us to new or increased risks. Further, pursuing these strategies may require us to expand our operations through internal development efforts as well as partnerships, joint ventures, investments and acquisitions. We may not be able to efficiently or effectively implement our growth strategies or manage the growth of our operations, and any failure to do so may limit future growth and hamper our business strategies.

44. Our Company has no formal supply agreement or contract with our vendors/suppliers for the uninterrupted supply of major materials. Our business may be adversely affected if there is any disruption in the material supply.

We do not have any formal agreements with our vendors/suppliers as we operate on a purchase order system. Due to the absence of any formal contract with our vendors/suppliers, we are exposed to the risks of irregular supplies or no supplies at all and delayed supplies which would materially affect our results of operations. In the event of any disruption in the materials supply or the non availability of materials, the production schedule may be adversely affected impacting the sales and profitability of the Company. In the event the prices of such materials were to rise substantially, we may find it difficult to make alternative arrangements for supplies of our materials, on the terms acceptable to us, which could materially affect our business, results of operations and financial condition.

Management Perception:

We source our products from Tribals through 18000 collections centres set up in the interiors of Chhattisgarh, Jharkhand, Madhya Pradesh, Odisha, Goa, Maharashtra, Karnataka, etc. We also maintain good relations with our collection network and we believe we shall also not face any challenge in finding alternative options of collection centres, if required.

45. We have taken guarantees from Promoters and members of our Promoter Group in relation to debt facilities provided to us.

We have taken guarantees from Promoters and members of Promoter Group in relation to our secured debt facilities availed from our Bankers. In an event any of these persons withdraw or terminate its/their guarantees, the lender for such facilities may ask for alternate guarantees, repayment of amounts outstanding under such facilities, or even terminate such facilities. We may not be successful in procuring guarantees satisfactory to the lender and as a result may need to repay outstanding amounts under such facilities or seek additional sources of capital, which could adversely affect our financial condition. For more information please see the chapter titled “Financial Indebtedness” beginning on page 238 of this Prospectus.

46. Our lenders have imposed certain restrictive conditions on us under our financing arrangements.

Under our financing arrangements, we are required to obtain the prior, written lender consent for, among other matters, changes in our capital structure, formulate a scheme of amalgamation or reconstruction and entering into any other borrowing arrangement. Further, we are required to maintain certain financial ratios.

There can be no assurance that we will be able to comply with these financial or other covenants or that we will be able to obtain the consents necessary to take the actions we believe are necessary to operate and grow our business. Our level of existing debt and any new debt that we incur in the future has important consequences. Any failure to comply with these requirements or other conditions or covenants under our financing agreements that is not waived by our lenders or is not otherwise cured by us, may require us to repay the borrowing in whole or part and may include other related costs. Our Company may be forced to sell some or all of its assets or limit our operations. This may adversely affect our ability to conduct our business and impair our future growth plans. For further information, see the chapter titled “Financial Indebtedness” on page 238 of the Prospectus. Though these covenants are restrictive to some extent for us, however it ensures financial discipline, which would help us in the long run to improve our financial performance.

47. Our lenders have charge over our movable properties in respect of finance availed by us.

We have secured our lenders by creating a charge over our movable properties in respect of loans / facilities availed by us from banks and financial institutions. The total amounts outstanding and payable by us as secured loans were Rs. 1,795.46 lakhs as on March 31, 2018 as per our Restated Financial Statements. In the event we default in repayment of the loans / facilities availed by us and any interest thereof, our properties may be forfeited by lenders, which in turn could have significant adverse effect on business, financial condition or results of operations. For further information on the “Financial Indebtedness” please refer to page 238 of this Prospectus.

48. We have not made any alternate arrangements for meeting our capital requirements for the Objects of the issue. Further we have not identified any alternate source of financing the ‘Objects of the Issue’. Any shortfall in raising / meeting the same could adversely affect our growth plans, operations and financial performance.

As on date, we have not made any alternate arrangements for meeting our capital requirements for the objects of the issue. We meet our capital requirements through our bank finance, owned funds, and internal accruals. Any shortfall in our net owned funds, internal accruals and our inability to raise debt in future would result in us being unable to meet our capital requirements, which in turn will negatively affect our financial condition and results of operations. Further we have not identified any alternate source of funding and hence any failure or delay on our part to raise money from this issue or any shortfall in the issue proceeds may delay the implementation schedule and could adversely affect our growth plans. For further details please refer to the chapter titled “Objects of the Issue” beginning on page 104 of this Prospectus.

49. Our ability to pay dividends in the future will depend upon our future earnings, financial condition, cash flows, working capital requirements, capital expenditure and restrictive covenants in our financing arrangements.

We may retain all our future earnings, if any, for use in the operations and expansion of our business. As a result, we may not declare dividends in the foreseeable future. Any future determination as to the declaration and payment of dividends will be at the discretion of our Board of Directors and will depend on factors that our Board of Directors deem relevant, including among others, our results of operations, financial condition, cash requirements, business prospects and any other financing arrangements. Additionally, under some of our loan agreements, we may not be permitted to declare any dividends, if there is a default under such loan agreements or unless our Company has paid all the dues to the lender up to the date on which the dividend is declared or paid or has made satisfactory provisions thereof. Accordingly, realization of a gain on shareholders investments may largely depend upon the appreciation of the price of our Equity Shares. There can be no assurance that our Equity Shares will appreciate in value. For details of our dividend history, see “Dividend Policy” on page 218 of this Prospectus.

50. Within the parameters as mentioned in the chapter titled ‘Objects of this Issue’ beginning on page 104 of this Prospectus, our Company’s management will have flexibility in applying the proceeds of this Issue. The fund requirement and deployment mentioned in the Objects of this Issue have not been appraised by any bank or financial institution.

We intend to use entire Issue Proceeds towards establishing an integrated Greenfield project for manufacturing of CBE / specialty fats and tailor-made products at Birkoni, near Raipur, Chhattisgarh. and general corporate purposes. We intend to deploy the Net Issue Proceeds in financial year 2018-19 and such deployment is based on certain assumptions and strategy which our Company believes to implement in future. The funds raised from the Issue may remain idle on account of change in assumptions, market conditions, strategy of our Company, etc., For further details on the use of the Issue Proceeds, please refer chapter titled “Objects of the Issue” beginning on page 104 of this Prospectus.

The deployment of funds for the purposes described above is at the discretion of our Company’s Board of Directors. The fund requirement and deployment is based on internal management estimates and has not been appraised by any bank or financial institution. Accordingly, within the parameters as mentioned in the chapter titled ‘Objects of the Issue’ beginning on page 104 of this Prospectus, the Management will have significant flexibility in applying the proceeds received by our Company from the Issue. Our Board of Directors will monitor the proceeds of this Issue.

51. The deployment of funds raised through this Issue shall not be subject to any Monitoring Agency and shall be purely dependent on the discretion of the management of our Company.

Since the Issue size is less than Rs.10,000 lakhs, there is no mandatory requirement of appointing an Independent Monitoring Agency for overseeing the deployment of utilization of funds raised through this Issue. The deployment of these funds raised through this Issue, is hence, at the discretion of the management and the Board of Directors of our Company and will not be subject to monitoring by any independent agency. Any inability on our part to effectively utilize the Issue proceeds could adversely affect our financials.

52. Our future funds requirements, in the form of issue of capital or securities and/or loans taken by us, may be prejudicial to the interest of the shareholders depending upon the terms on which they are eventually raised.

We may require additional capital from time to time depending on our business needs. Any issue of shares or convertible securities would dilute the shareholding of the existing shareholders and such issuance may be done on terms and conditions, which may not be favourable to the then existing shareholders. If such funds are raised in the form of loans or debt, then it may substantially increase our interest burden and decrease our cash flows, thus prejudicially affecting our profitability and ability to pay dividends to our shareholders.

53. Our success depends largely upon the services of our Directors, Promoters and other Key Managerial Personnel and our ability to attract and retain them. Demand for Key Managerial Personnel in the industry is intense and our inability to attract and retain Key Managerial Personnel may affect the operations of our Company.

Our success is substantially dependent on the expertise and services of our Directors, Promoters and our Key Managerial Personnel. They provide expertise which enables us to make well informed decisions in relation to our business and our future prospects. Our future performance will depend upon the continued services of these persons. Demand for Key Managerial Personnel in the industry is intense. We cannot assure you that we will be able to retain any or all, or that our succession planning will help to replace, the key members of our management. The loss of the services of such key members of our management team and the failure of any succession plans to replace such key members could have an adverse effect on our business and the results of our operations.

54. In addition to normal remuneration or benefits and reimbursement of expenses, some of our Directors and key managerial personnel are interested in our Company to the extent of their shareholding, as lenders and dividend entitlement in our Company.

Our Directors and Key Managerial Personnel are interested in our Company to the extent of remuneration paid to them for services rendered and reimbursement of expenses payable to them. In addition, some of our Directors and Key Managerial Personnel may also be interested to the extent of their shareholding, unsecured loan given by them or entities in which they are interested and dividend entitlement in our Company. For further information, see “Capital Structure” and “Our Management” on pages 85 and 197, respectively, of this Prospectus.

55. Our Promoters and members of the Promoter Group will continue jointly to retain majority control over our Company after the Issue, which will allow them to determine the outcome of matters submitted to shareholders for approval.

After completion of the Issue, our Promoters and Promoter Group will collectively own 59.69% of the Equity Shares. As a result, our Promoters together with the members of the Promoter Group will be able to exercise a significant degree of influence over us and will be able to control the outcome of any proposal that can be approved by a majority shareholder vote, including, the election of members to our Board, in accordance with the Companies Act and our Articles of Association. Such a concentration of ownership may also have the effect of delaying, preventing or deterring a change in control of our Company.

In addition, our Promoters will continue to have the ability to cause us to take actions that are not in, or may conflict with, our interests or the interests of some or all of our creditors or minority shareholders, and we cannot assure you that such actions will not have an adverse effect on our future financial performance or the price of our Equity Shares.

56. We could be harmed by employee misconduct or errors that are difficult to detect and any such incidences could adversely affect our financial condition, results of operations and reputation.

Employee misconduct or errors could expose us to business risks or losses, including regulatory sanctions and cause serious harm to our reputation. There can be no assurance that we will be able to detect or deter such misconduct. Moreover, the precautions we take to prevent and detect such activity may not be effective in all cases. Our employees and agents may also commit errors that could subject us to claims and proceedings for alleged negligence, as well as regulatory actions on account of which our business, financial condition, results of operations and goodwill could be adversely affected.

57. The average cost of acquisition of Equity Shares by our Promoters could be lower than the floor price.

Our Promoters average cost of acquisition of Equity Shares in our Company may be lower than the Floor Price of the Price Band as may be decided by the Company in consultation with the BRLM. For further details regarding average cost of acquisition of Equity Shares by our Promoters in our Company and build-up of Equity Shares by our Promoters in our Company, please refer to the section titled “Risk Factors – Prominent Notes” on page 21 of this Prospectus.

58. We have issued Equity Shares in the last twelve months, the price of which may be lower than the Issue Price.

Our Company has issued 53,92,665 Bonus Shares which is at a price lower than the issue price in the last twelve months. For further details of Equity Shares issued, please refer to chapter titled, ‘Capital Structure’ beginning on page 85 of this Prospectus.

• Issue Specific Risks

59. The Issue price of our Equity Shares may not be indicative of the market price of our Equity Shares after the Issue and the market price of our Equity Shares may decline below the issue price and you may not be able to sell your Equity Shares at or above the Issue Price.

The Issue Price of our Equity Shares has been determined by book built method. This price is based on numerous factors (For further information, please refer chapter titled “Basis for Issue Price” beginning on page 117 of this Prospectus) and may not be indicative of the market price of our Equity Shares after the Issue. The market price of our Equity Shares could be subject to significant fluctuations after the Issue, and may decline below the Issue Price. We cannot assure you that you will be able to sell your Equity Shares at or above the Issue Price. Among the factors that could affect our share price include without limitation. The following:

- Half yearly variations in the rate of growth of our financial indicators, such as earnings per share, net income and revenues;
- Changes in revenue or earnings estimates or publication of research reports by analysts;
- Speculation in the press or investment community;
- General market conditions; and
- Domestic and international economic, legal and regulatory factors unrelated to our performance.

60. Any future issuance of Equity Shares, or convertible securities or other equity linked securities by us may dilute your shareholding and any sale of Equity Shares by our Promoters or members of our Promoter Group may adversely affect the trading price of the Equity Shares.

Any future issuance of the Equity Shares, convertible securities or securities linked to the Equity Shares by us, including through exercise of employee stock options granted pursuant to the ESOP Schemes may dilute your shareholding in our Company, adversely affect the trading price of the Equity Shares and our ability to raise capital through an issue of our securities. In addition, any perception by investors that such issuances or sales might occur could also affect the trading price of the Equity Shares. We cannot assure you that we will not issue additional Equity Shares. The disposal of Equity Shares by any of our Promoters and Promoter Group, or the perception that such sales may occur may significantly affect the trading price of the Equity Shares. Except as disclosed in “Capital Structure” on page 85, we cannot assure you that our Promoters and Promoter Group will not dispose of, pledge or encumber their Equity Shares in the future.

61. Fluctuation in the exchange rate between the Indian Rupee and foreign currencies may have an adverse effect on the value of our Equity Shares, independent of our operating results.

On listing, our Equity Shares will be quoted in Indian Rupees on the Stock Exchanges. Any dividends in respect of our Equity Shares will also be paid in Indian Rupees and subsequently converted into the relevant foreign currency for repatriation, if required. Any adverse movement in currency exchange rates during the time that it takes to undertake such conversion may reduce the net dividend to foreign investors. In addition, any adverse movement in currency exchange rates during a delay in repatriating outside India the proceeds from a sale of Equity Shares, for example, because of a delay in regulatory approvals that may be required for the sale of Equity Shares may reduce the proceeds received by equity shareholders. For example, the exchange rate between the Rupee and the U.S. dollar has fluctuated substantially in recent years and may continue to fluctuate substantially in the future, which may have an adverse effect on the trading price of our Equity Shares and returns on our Equity Shares, independent of our operating results.

62. QIBs and Non-Institutional Investors are not permitted to withdraw or lower their Bids (in terms of quantity of Equity Shares or the Bid Amount) at any stage after submitting a Bid.

Pursuant to the SEBI ICDR Regulations, QIBs and Non-Institutional Investors are not permitted to withdraw or lower their Bids (in terms of quantity of Equity Shares or the Bid Amount) at any stage after submitting a Bid. Retail Individual Investors can revise their Bids during the Bid/Offer Period and withdraw their Bids until Bid/Offer Closing Date. While our Company is required to complete Allotment pursuant to the Offer within six Working Days from the Bid/Offer Closing Date, events affecting the Bidders’ decision to invest in the Equity Shares, including material adverse changes in international or national monetary policy, financial, political or economic conditions, our business, results of operation or financial condition may arise between the date of submission of the Bid and Allotment. Our Company may complete the Allotment of the Equity Shares even if such events occur, and such events limit the Bidders’ ability to sell the Equity Shares Allotted pursuant to the Offer or cause the trading price of the Equity Shares to decline on listing.

EXTERNAL RISK FACTORS

63. Changing laws, rules and regulations and legal uncertainties, including adverse application of tax laws, may adversely affect our business, prospects and results of operations.

The regulatory and policy environment in which we operate is evolving and subject to change. Such changes may adversely affect our business, results of operations and prospects, to the extent that we are unable to suitably respond to and comply with any such changes in applicable law and policy. For example, the Government of India implemented a comprehensive national goods and services tax (“GST”) regime with effect from July 1, 2017 that combines multiple taxes and levies by the Central and State Governments into a unified tax structure. While the Government of India and certain state governments have announced that all committed incentives will be protected following the implementation of the GST, given that the various rules and regulations regarding the new regime are being evaluated in terms of various implications concerning the GST, we cannot provide you with any assurance as to this or any other aspect of the tax regime following implementation of the GST including antiprofitereering regulations of the new tax regime and availability of input tax credit.

Further, the Union Budget presented in the Indian Parliament on February 1, 2018, proposed a number of amendments to the existing direct and indirect tax regime which includes the withdrawal of long term capital gains exemptions on equity shares, long term capital gains applicability in the hands of Foreign Institutional Investors and applicability of dividend distribution tax for certain transactions with shareholders, among others. The Union Budget is required to be approved by both houses of the Indian Parliament followed by Presidential Assent in order for the Income Tax Act, 1961 and other statutes to be amended and for the above proposals to have the effect of law. Prospective investors should consult their own tax advisors in relation to the consequences of investing in the Equity Shares.

Unfavourable changes in or interpretations of existing, or the promulgation of new, laws, rules and regulations including foreign investment laws governing our business, operations and group structure could result in us being deemed to be in contravention of such laws and may require us to apply for additional approvals. We may incur increased costs and other burdens relating to compliance with such new requirements, which may also require significant management time and other resources, and any failure to comply may adversely affect our business, results of operations and prospects. Uncertainty in the applicability, interpretation or implementation of any amendment to, or change in, governing law, regulation or policy, including by reason of an absence, or a limited body, of administrative or judicial precedent may be time consuming as well as costly for us to resolve and may impact the viability of our current businesses or restrict our ability to grow our businesses in the future.

64. Investors may not be able to enforce a judgment of a foreign court against our Company.

Our Company is incorporated under the laws of India. Our Company's assets are primarily located in India and all our Directors and Key Managerial Personnel are residents of India. As a result, it may not be possible for investors to effect service of process upon our Company or such persons in jurisdictions outside India, or to enforce against them judgments obtained in courts outside India. Moreover, it is unlikely that a court in India would award damages on the same basis as a foreign court if an action were brought in India or that an Indian court would enforce foreign judgments if it viewed the amount of damages as excessive or inconsistent with Indian public policy.

65. You may be subject to Indian taxes arising out of capital gains on the sale of the Equity Shares.

Under current Indian tax laws, unless specifically exempted, capital gains arising from the sale of Equity Shares in an Indian company are generally taxable in India. Any gain realized on the sale of listed equity shares on a stock exchange held for more than 12 months will not be subject to long term capital gains tax in India if Securities Transaction Tax ("STT") is paid on the sale transaction and additionally, as stipulated by the Finance Act, 2017, STT had been paid at the time of acquisition of such equity shares, except in the case of such acquisitions where STT could not have been paid, as notified by the Central Government under notification no. 43/2017/F. No. 370142/09/2017-TPL on June 5, 2017. However, Finance Bill, 2018, proposes to tax such long term capital gains exceeding ₹ 100,000 arising from sale of Equity Shares on or after April 1, 2018, while continuing to exempt the unrealized capital gains earned up to January 31, 2018 on such Equity Shares. Accordingly, you may be subject to payment of long term capital gains tax in India, in addition to payment of STT, on the sale of any Equity Shares held for more than 12 months. STT will be levied on and collected by a domestic stock exchange on which the Equity Shares are sold. Further, any gain realized on the sale of listed equity shares held for a period of 12 months or less will be subject to short term capital gains tax in India. Capital gains arising from the sale of the Equity Shares will be exempt from taxation in India in cases where the exemption from taxation in India is provided under a treaty between India and the country of which the seller is resident. Generally, Indian tax treaties do not limit India's ability to impose tax on capital gains. As a result, residents of other countries may be liable for tax in India as well as in their own jurisdiction on a gain upon the sale of the Equity Shares.

66. Significant differences exist between Indian GAAP and other accounting principles, such as U.S. GAAP and IFRS, which may be material to the financial statements prepared and presented in accordance with SEBI ICDR Regulations contained in this Prospectus.

As stated in the reports of the Auditor included in this Prospectus under chapter "Financial Statements as restated" beginning on page 219 the financial statements included in this Prospectus are based on financial information that is based on the audited financial statements that are prepared and presented in conformity with Indian GAAP and restated in accordance with the SEBI ICDR Regulations, and no attempt has been made to reconcile any of the information given in this Prospectus to any other principles or to base it on any other standards. Indian GAAP differs from accounting principles and auditing standards with which prospective investors may be familiar in other countries, such as U.S. GAAP and IFRS. Significant differences exist between Indian GAAP and U.S. GAAP and IFRS, which may be material to the financial information prepared and presented in accordance with Indian GAAP contained in this Prospectus. Accordingly, the degree to which the financial information included in this Prospectus will provide meaningful information is dependent on familiarity with Indian GAAP, the Companies Act and the SEBI ICDR Regulations. Any reliance by persons not familiar with Indian GAAP on the financial disclosures presented in this Prospectus should accordingly be limited.

67. Taxes and other levies imposed by the Government of India or other State Governments, as well as other financial policies and regulations, may have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

Taxes and other levies imposed by the Central or State Governments in India that affect our industry include:

- custom duties on imports of materials and components;
- Goods and service tax and other levies; and
- Other new or special taxes and surcharges introduced on a permanent or temporary basis from time to time.

These taxes and levies affect the cost and prices of our products and therefore demand for our product. An increase in any of these taxes or levies, or the imposition of new taxes or levies in the future, may have a material adverse effect on our business, profitability and financial condition.

68. Political instability or a change in economic liberalization and deregulation policies could seriously harm business and economic conditions in India generally and our business in particular.

The Government of India has traditionally exercised and continues to exercise influence over many aspects of the economy. Our business and the market price and liquidity of our Equity Shares may be affected by interest rates, changes in Government policy, taxation, social and civil unrest and other political, economic or other developments in or affecting India. The rate of economic liberalization could change, and specific laws and policies affecting the information technology sector, foreign investment and other matters affecting investment in our securities could change as well. Any significant change in such liberalization and deregulation policies could adversely affect business and economic conditions in India, generally, and our business, prospects, financial condition and results of operations, in particular.

69. Global economic, political and social conditions may harm our ability to do business, increase our costs and negatively affect our stock price.

Global economic and political factors that are beyond our control, influence forecasts and directly affect performance. These factors include interest rates, rates of economic growth, fiscal and monetary policies of governments, inflation, deflation, foreign exchange fluctuations, consumer credit availability, fluctuations in commodities markets, consumer debt levels, unemployment trends and other matters that influence consumer confidence, spending and tourism. Increasing volatility in financial markets may cause these factors to change with a greater degree of frequency and magnitude, which may negatively affect our stock prices.

70. Foreign investors are subject to foreign investment restrictions under Indian law that limits our ability to attract foreign investors, which may adversely impact the market price of the Equity Shares.

Under the foreign exchange regulations currently in force in India, transfer of shares between non-residents and residents are freely permitted (subject to certain exceptions) if they comply with the pricing guidelines and reporting requirements specified by the RBI. If the transfer of shares, which are sought to be transferred, is not in compliance with such pricing guidelines or reporting requirements or fall under any of the exceptions referred to above, then the prior approval of the RBI will be required. Additionally, shareholders who seek to convert the Rupee proceeds from a sale of shares in India into foreign currency and repatriate that foreign currency from India will require a no objection/ tax clearance certificate from the income tax authority. There can be no assurance that any approval required from the RBI or any other government agency can be obtained on any particular terms or at all.

71. Financial instability in other countries may cause increased volatility in Indian financial markets.

The Indian market and the Indian economy are influenced by economic and market conditions in other countries, particularly emerging market countries in Asia. Although economic conditions are different in each country, investors' reactions to developments in one country can have adverse effects on the securities of companies in other countries, including India. A loss of investor confidence in the financial systems of other emerging markets may cause increased volatility in Indian financial markets and, indirectly, in the Indian economy in general. Any worldwide financial instability could also have a negative impact on the Indian economy. Financial disruptions may occur again and could harm our business, our future financial performance and the prices of the Equity Shares.

72. Rights of shareholders under Indian laws may be more limited than under the laws of other jurisdictions.

Indian legal principles related to corporate procedures, directors' fiduciary duties and liabilities, and Shareholders' rights may differ from those that would apply to a company in another jurisdiction. Shareholders' rights including in relation to class actions, under Indian law may not be as extensive as shareholders' rights under the laws of other countries or jurisdictions. Investors may have more difficulty in asserting their rights as shareholder in an Indian company than as shareholder of a corporation in another jurisdiction/

73. The extent and reliability of Indian infrastructure could adversely affect our Company's results of operations and financial condition.

India's physical infrastructure is in developing phase compared to that of many developed nations. Any congestion or disruption in its port, rail and road networks, electricity grid, communication systems or any other public facility could disrupt our Company's normal business activity. Any deterioration of India's physical infrastructure would harm the national economy, disrupt the transportation of goods and supplies, and add costs to doing business in India. These problems could interrupt our Company's business operations, which could have an adverse effect on its results of operations and financial condition.

74. Any downgrading of India's sovereign rating by an independent agency may harm our ability to raise financing.

Any adverse revisions to India's credit ratings for domestic and international debt by international rating agencies may adversely impact our ability to raise additional financing, and the interest rates and other commercial terms at which such additional financing may be available. This could have an adverse effect on our business and future financial performance, our ability to obtain financing for capital expenditures and the trading price of our Equity Shares.

75. Natural calamities could have a negative impact on the Indian economy and cause our Company's business to suffer.

India has experienced natural calamities such as earthquakes, tsunamis, floods etc. in recent years. The extent and severity of these natural disasters determine their impact on the Indian economy. Prolonged spells of abnormal rainfall or other natural calamities could have a negative impact on the Indian economy, which could adversely affect our business, prospects, financial condition and results of operations as well as the price of the Equity Shares.

76. Terrorist attacks, civil unrests and other acts of violence or war involving India or other countries could adversely affect the financial markets, our business, financial condition and the price of our Equity Shares.

Any major hostilities involving India or other acts of violence, including civil unrest or similar events that are beyond our control, could have a material adverse effect on India's economy and our business. Incidents such as the terrorist attacks, other incidents such as those in US, Indonesia, Madrid and London, and other acts of violence may adversely affect the Indian stock markets where our Equity Shares will trade as well the global equity markets generally. Such acts could negatively impact business sentiment as well as trade between countries, which could adversely affect our Company's business and profitability. Additionally, such events could have a material adverse effect on the market for securities of Indian companies, including the Equity Shares.

GLOBAL ECONOMIC OVERVIEW

As per International Monetary Fund (IMF) January 2018 World Economic Outlook (WEO), Global output is estimated to have grown by 3.7 percent in 2017, the global growth forecast for 2018 and 2019 is at 3.9 percent for both the years. The growth rate for emerging market and developing economies is estimated to rise up by 4.7 percent in 2017 while it is forecast to rise to 4.9 percent in 2018, 5.0 percent in 2019. This Growth forecast primarily reflects stronger projected activity in emerging Europe and Asia for 2017, 2018 and 2019.

The US economy is estimated to be expanded at 2.3 percent in 2017 and projected to expand at 2.3 percent in 2018 and 2.2 percent in 2019. The projection of a continuation of near-term growth that is moderately above potential reflects very supportive financial conditions and strong business and consumer confidence. The U.S. tax policy changes are expected to stimulate activity, with the short-term impact in the United States mostly driven by the investment response to the corporate income tax cuts. Over a longer horizon, US growth is expected to moderate. Potential growth is estimated at 1.8 percent, reflecting the assumption of continued sluggish growth in total factor productivity and diminished growth of the workforce due to population aging.

The euro area recovery is expected to gather strength this year, with growth estimated to rise to 2.3 percent in 2017, before moderating to 2.2 percent in 2018 and 2.0 percent in 2019. The growth in 2017 mostly reflects acceleration in exports in the context of the broader pickup in global trade and continued strength in domestic demand growth supported by accommodative financial conditions amid diminished political risk and policy uncertainty. Growth in the United Kingdom is estimated at 1.7 percent in 2017 and to subside to 1.5 percent in 2018 and 2019. The slowdown is driven by softer growth in private consumption as the pound's depreciation weighed on household real income. The medium-term growth outlook is highly uncertain and will depend in part on the new economic relationship with the EU and the extent of the increase in barriers to trade, migration, and cross-border financial activity.

In China, growth is estimated to notch up to 6.8 percent in 2017, while projected to slow to 6.6 percent in 2018 and 6.4 percent in 2019. The upward revision to the 2017 forecast reflects the stronger-than-expected outturn in the year underpinned by previous policy easing and supply-side reforms.

In the rest of emerging market and developing Asia, growth is expected to be vigorous. Strong government spending and data revisions in India led to an upward revision of 2016 growth to 7.1 percent with upward revisions of about 0.2 percentage point, on average, for 2014 and 2015.

However, the growth estimated for 2017 to 6.7 percent reflecting still lingering disruptions associated with the currency exchange initiative introduced in November 2016, as well as transition costs related to the launch of the national Goods and Services Tax in July 2017. The latter move, which promises the unification of India's vast domestic market, is among several key structural reforms under implementation that are expected to help push growth above 8 percent in the medium term. In the ASEAN-5 economies (Indonesia, Malaysia, Philippines, Thailand, Vietnam), growth is estimated to strengthen in 2017 by 5.3 percent, partly because of stronger- than-expected external demand from China and Europe.

Global growth is forecast to increase marginally beyond 2018, reaching 3.8 percent by 2021. With growth in advanced economies projected to gradually decline toward potential growth rates of about 1.7 percent once economic slack is eliminated, this further pickup in global activity is entirely driven by emerging market and developing economies. In these countries, growth is projected to increase to 5 percent by the end of the forecast period, with their impact on global activity boosted by their rising world economic weight. This forecast assumes some strengthening of growth in commodity exports, though to rates much more modest than in 2000–15; a gradual increase in India's growth rate resulting from implementation of important Structural reforms; continued strong growth in other commodity imports; and a lower but still high trend growth rate in China.

OVERVIEW ON COCOA & COCO BUTTER MARKET

Cocoa - Introduction

Cocoa is the key ingredient for manufacturing of chocolates and is a cash crop, a critical export for producing countries and also a key import for consuming countries, which typically do not have a suitable climate for cocoa production. Traveling along a global supply chain, cocoa beans go through a complex production process that involves farmers, buyers, shipping organizations, processors, manufacturers, chocolatiers, and distributors.

Cocoa trees grow in a tropical environment, within 15 to 20 degrees latitude from the equator. The ideal climate for growing cocoa is hot, rainy, and tropical with lush vegetation to provide shade for the cocoa trees. The primary growing regions are Africa, Asia, and Latin America. The largest producing country by volume is Côte d'Ivoire which produces 33% of the global supply.

Once cocoa beans have been harvested, fermented, dried, and transported, they are processed into separate components for commercial consumption. Processing is the last phase in which demand for cocoa beans can be equitably compared to supply, and after processing into separate components, individual components of the cocoa beans are sold across many industries to manufacture of confectionery, soaps and cosmetic items.

Global market for processing of cocoa beans has remained stable. The Netherlands is the largest processing country by volume, handling about 13% of the global grindings. Though unsuitable for growing cocoa, Europe as a whole comprises nearly 40% of the processing market. The remaining 60% is divided almost evenly between Africa, Asia, and the Americas.

Global Cocoa Beans Market:

The demand for cocoa is dependent on the chocolate product market, comprising of chocolate confectionery and other chocolate and cocoa products. Global Chocolate Market is directly linked to economic growth progress.

The cocoa beans have captured the attention of consumers from around the world, due to the fast growth of the chocolate confectionery market. Other than chocolate confectionery market, factors stimulating the market growth include increasing disposable income among middle class and increasing popularity of cocoa based products like cocoa beverages and cocoa powder. However, the commodity price fluctuation, pest and diseases, low productivity, high dependence on seasons and environmental conditions and high cost of farm inputs are restraining the market growth.

Supply of Cocoa products:

The demand for chocolate products has expanded, which in turn has led to increased demand for the semi processed cocoa products required in their manufacture. These semi-processed products (comprising of cocoa liquor, cocoa butter and powder) are derived from cocoa bean grindings.

Cocoa Production worldwide in 000 Tonnes

Source:- International Cocoa organization portal

On an average, around 4 million metric tonnes of cocoa beans are produced each year. In line with the growing chocolate product demand, global cocoa grindings have increased by an average of 1.7% per annum over the last decade, in 2016-17 Cocoa production reached its peak at 4.5 Million metric tonnes.

Supply & production in India:

In India, cocoa is grown primarily as an intercrop in Andhra Pradesh, Tamil Nadu, Karnataka and Kerala, as the tree requires about 40-50 percent shade. More than two-thirds of cocoa is grown in coconut groves, with the rest in oil palm and rubber plantations.

The total area under cultivation in the four southern states at the end of 2015-16 was 81,274 hectares (1 ha equals 2.47 acres)

According to the International Cocoa Organization in 2015-16, India harvested 17,200 metric tons (MT) of cocoa beans, only 1.1 per cent of the yield in Ivory Coast, the largest cocoa bean producer in the world.

Pricing & Surplus in Production of Cocoa Beans:

The international market prices of cocoa are very volatile and change variably with demand and supply. Cocoa prices plunged 34 percent in 2016 and are down again in 2017 after big harvests in Ivory Coast and Ghana overwhelmed demand. Production in the two countries - which account for two thirds of global supply – is estimated to fall, so is the harvest in Indonesia, Asia's top producer. Citigroup Inc. forecasts that the surplus will shrink to as little as 50,000 metric tonnes in 2017-18 from almost 500,000 metric tonnes a year earlier.

Surplus & Cocoa forwards pricing trend:

Cocoa prices are volatile and influenced by many factors. These include changes in weather conditions, pests and diseases and political instability in producing countries.

Demand of Cocoa Beans Products:

Demand has picked up in Asia particularly, where countries including Philippines, Indonesia, India and China are consuming more powder in products like cookies and ice-cream and while West African growers may reap a second year of bumper crops, top producer Ivory Coast is unlikely to repeat last season's record harvest.

Global cocoa processing is expected to rise by more than 3 percent, processing exceeded 5 percent growth in 2016-17. About 8,000 new products were launched in the confectionery market last year.

Demand for cocoa butter and cocoa liquor, used to make chocolate bars, is also growing and the market is tight despite last season's record surplus that has helped boost cocoa-processing margins, with the so-called combined ratio - the price of cocoa products relative to beans - reaching the highest in more than a decade this year.

Region-wise Demand

1. North America

The NAFTA region consumes in the order of 850,000 tonnes of cocoa beans per annum. This volume has been stable over the last decade. Of this, the region grinds around 500,000 tons per annum, although there is considerable annual volatility.

U.S. accounted for the largest share in the North America chocolate market with an estimated size of USD 27.88 billion in 2016. Manufacturers are involved in initiatives to position chocolate as a healthier product by increasing the content of dark chocolate, fruits, nuts, and other ingredients to nutritive value and lower calorie indulgence. This is expected to be one of the reasons behind the dominance of U.S. in the North America market for chocolates.

2. European Union

The EU Consumes in the order of 1.7 Million tons of cocoa beans per annum. In Europe, growing demand for specialty chocolate can be found in traditional consuming countries such as Belgium, France, Germany, Italy, Switzerland and the United Kingdom.

Consumption in this segment is associated with higher incomes, consumer awareness and market exposure. On an average, use has increased by 1.5% per annum over the last decade and while grindings have grown by around 1% per annum, and the balance being taken up by the imports.

The Eastern European chocolate industry (dominated by Russia) grew strongly prior to the financial crisis in 2009. More recently, cocoa use has fluctuated around 250,000 to 300,000 tons, however consumption fell below 240,000 tons in 2015.

Middle East

Chocolate confectionery in the Middle East and Africa is growing by 5 percent in sales value year on year since 2011, against the global average of 2 percent for the same period. Growth in the savory snack segment is equally strong, increasing in sales value by 6 percent annually since 2011, and double the global average of 3 percent. Chocolate consumption volume has experienced a steady growth during last five years. For example, Iran's Chocolate confectionery consumption reached 41.1K tons in 2017 compared to 38.5k tons in 2012. Israel reached 25.9K tons in 2017 compared to 20.9k tons in 2012.

Middle East Chocolate market is anticipated to grow at a CAGR of 4.8% during 2017-23. Countries such as Saudi Arabia, UAE and Qatar would drive the market during 2017-23 due to growing organized retail sector and upcoming global events such as Dubai World Expo 2020 and FIFA World Cup 2022 in Qatar. Companies such as Mondelez International and Mars are targeting local markets by expanding their production facilities in the region. Luxury chocolate manufacturers are also growing their presence in the region.

India

In 2015-16, India's total consumption of cocoa beans was around 30,000 MT, 57 percent of which was imported. In the five years till 2015-16, India's cocoa bean production grew at a CAGR of just 3.6 percent, according to data from the Directorate of Cashewnut and Cocoa Development (DCCD).

India's per capita consumption is miniscule compared to the world's most chocolate-crazy nation, the Switzerland, whose citizens consumed a staggering 8.8 kg on average in 2015. According to Euro-monitor International, the size of the Indian chocolate confectionery market in 2016 was around Rs 11,260 crore. The top three players are all multinationals, with Mondelez India (formerly Cadbury India), maker of the popular Cadbury Dairy Milk chocolates, controlling nearly half the market, while Nestle and Ferrero accounting for 13 percent & 8 percent respectively.

China

China's consumption of chocolate per capita was 0.20 kilogram, versus 8.8 kilograms in the Switzerland, the world's largest chocolate consumer by volume per capita. Valued at about 20 billion Yuan ($3.02 billion) in 2015 in terms of sales, the market for chocolate in China is expected to grow to 40 billion Yuan by 2020.

Chocolate market in China is developing fast with imported foodstuffs by major European chocolate manufacturers. According to an industry report released by China Merchants Securities, famous chocolate brands such as Dove and M&M's under Mars, the world's largest candy maker, took up 39.8 percent of the domestic market share in 2016, and Ferrero Rocher, the Italian chocolatier, enjoyed a 17.8 percent stake, with other foreign brands including Hershey and Nestle following closely.

Japan

Japan is the largest confectionery market in Asia with a high per capita consumption of chocolate. The recession in 2009, along with the earthquake and tsunami in 2011, caused the Japanese economy to significantly retract, which negatively affected consumer spending. However, chocolate market has recovered a decent amount of sales after 2013, with most of the sales being created in the premium and luxury categories.

Japanese consumers are influenced by price but they are unlikely to compromise on the quality and freshness of products for more affordable pricing. Hence, the market has already moved towards luxury chocolates rather than everyday products and the average selling price of chocolate products is even higher than the global average.

OVERVIEW

Incorporated in 2005, our Company Manorama Industries Limited (“Manorama” or “Company” or “MIL”) is engaged in manufacturing, processing and supply of exotic and specialty fats & oils like Sal butter, Sal fat, Sal oil, Sal Stearine, Sal olein, Mango butter, Mango fat, Mango oil, Mango Stearine, Kokum butter, Kokum oil, Mowrah fat, and several value added tailor made products. Currently, we are among the leading manufacturers of Sal Oils and Stearine globally with an annual production of 3,000-4,000 tonnes. Globally, we are amongst the top 10 manufacturers of Stearine. [Source: CARE Industry Report]. As early as the 1970s, our Group had made its mark on global Oils and Fats industry with the Netherlands Government publishing special features on the Indian entrepreneur in leading Dutch newspapers publicizing the vast potential of Indian exotic fats.

We are majorly catering to chocolate and cosmetic industry. Our product stearine which is made out of sal or mango seeds is one of the key ingredients in the manufacturing of Cocoa Butter Equivalents (CBE), which has a demand in the Chocolate Industry. Further our product olein is generally demanded in cosmetic industry. Our products also serve as a non-palm oil ingredient as there is movement against usage of palm oil in many western countries. Further pursuant to the enactment of recent notification F. No. Stds /SCSS&H/ Notification (02)/FSSAI-2016 dated May 17th, 2017, from 1st Jan 2018, India has allowed 5% CBE produced from Indian exotic fats to be used in manufacturing of chocolates. The relaxation is not applicable for CBE produced out of imported Shea Stearine. This has been a major positive development for the Company. As the chocolate industry is growing rapidly in India, the demand for CBE should increase rapidly, which can be catered to by CBE produced from Sal, Mango, Kokum, Mahua, Phulwara, & Dhupa, which are Indian exotic fats and considering our Company has already been dealing in such ingredients and is proposing to set up an integrated facility for manufacturing of CBE at Raipur, the said notification should boost our revenue from operations and financial results. We have also entered into an agreement with one of the leading chocolate manufacturers for supply of CBE for a period of two year from 2018. As on date of the Prospectus, we have an order book to supply CBE worth Rs. 7680.00 lakhs over a period of two years from April, 2018.

Our key source of raw material is Sal seeds which are sourced from tribals living in Sal forests in Chhattisgarh, Jharkhand, Orissa & parts of Madhya Pradesh. The seeds start falling down during month of May and June and tribals collect them and bring them to the village centres. Manorama has been buying these seeds from tribals for many years and has an established network in more than 18,000 villages in the states of Chhattisgarh, Jharkhand, Orissa, Madhya Pradesh, etc. We also procure raw materials from forest departments and local markets if required.

Along with Sal Seeds, tribals also bring other forest and agri produced materials like rice, paddy, maize, etc. and we have been buying them in order to facilitate the tribals for ease of doing business and serving as a one point vendor for all of their products. We harboured the ambition of becoming Agro-Product trading house along with manufacturing. However, the trading business could not yield results as envisaged by our management. Though we have implemented better operational controls and systems, as a part of our future business strategy, our Company may not pursue the trading business.

Our manufacturing process can be divided into two parts i.e. i) Solvent extraction and pre-processing and ii) Refining and fractionation. We outsource solvent extraction and pre-processing activity to third parties at Chhatisgarh who conduct such processes under the supervision and guidance of our operations team. As on the date of the Prospectus, we have entered into agreements with 3 parties to carry out such activities on solvent extraction on our behalf. The second part i.e refining and fractionation process is carried out at our manufacturing facility situated at Nagpur. This facility has been registered by Intertek as conforming to the requirements of EFfCI GMP Guide for Cosmetic Ingredients, including the certification standard and scheme for GMP for Cosmetic Ingredients- Revision 2012. It also meets the requirements laid down by OneCert International Organic Standards (EU Equivalent), National Programme for Organic Production (India), National Organic Programme technical standards (USA) and India's National Programme for Organic Production Standards. Our Company is in the process of setting up an integrated manufacturing facility at Raipur with a capacity of around 11,250 tonnes p.a. of speciality fats and CBE; which shall enable us to carry out the entire manufacturing operations under one roof. For details, please refer the chapter titled "Objects of the Issue" beginning on page 104 of the Prospectus.

With the government of India allowing use of CBE upto 5% with effect from January 1, 2018 in manufacture of chocolates, we envisage a growth in our domestic operations and our marketing team has already taken initiatives in this directions.

BUSINESS STRATEGY

1. Setting up of new state of the art manufacturing facility

At present, we are operating through a distributed set up with processes and warehouses at multiple locations including Nagpur in Maharashtra, Raipur and other parts in Chhattisgarh. This is leading to increased logistics cost & loss on account of wastages. Hence, our Company plans to set up an integrated state of the art manufacturing plant at Raipur where, all processes including crushing, extraction, refining, fractionation & interstification will take place at one location. Further such facility shall have higher production capacity so as to cater to larger customer demands. The current combined installed production capacity is proposed to be enhanced from 4,500 mt p.a. to 11,250 mt p.a. Further an integrated manufacturing facility will not only result in reduced logistics costs but also shall improve the operational efficiency of the Company. This new integrated plant will predominantly process Indian exotic tree borne seeds like Sal, Mango, Dhupa etc. to service the CBE demand within India & globally. Largely the global CBE demand is being catered to by shea nuts which are primarily found in West Africa, we aim to manufacture CBE even through the use of shea nuts to the tune of 20%-25% in order to service the global needs. For details, please refer to the chapter titled “Objects of the Issue” beginning on page 104 of the Prospectus.

2. Yield & Quality Improvement – Dry Fractionation vs Solvent (Wet) Fractionation

Currently, the company follows a process of dry fractionation which is manual in nature resulting in being labour intensive and time consuming. In this process, at times some of the stearine mixes up with the oleine component which is one of the major drawbacks leading to inefficiency in production. The oleine component contains 35% stearine which needs to undergo re-fractionation, resulting in a lower yield and absorbing higher costs. With the proposed set up of the new integrated manufacturing facility, the Company shall follow a solvent fractionation process (Acetone) – which is much more sophisticated & modern. The in house fractionation of NBD Oil will increase the yield recovery of stearine & oleine. The process ensures complete separation of stearine from oleine. Further such process will result in lesser manual intervention and hence lead to a faster production and the stearine produced shall be of superior quality leading to lower consumption of stearine required in making CBE. The cost of fractionation through this process will also be lower with improved efficiencies and improved realisation on account of higher volume recovery of stearine. As per technical officers, wet fractionation should result in 90% efficiency as compared to the current dry fractionation of 60%.

3. Increase focus on production of CBE

Globally, the chocolate definition contains a certain quantity of cocoa butter made from cocoa beans. Cocoa Beans are a natural product, the prices of which are usually high and volatile in nature. Certain other natural products such as Shea nuts, Sal Seeds, Mango Kernel, Kokam have fats which match exactly in chemical and physical properties of cocoa butter. Hence, CBE which is made out of these other products is allowed to be used in the making of chocolates along with cocoa butter and still qualifies for the definition of chocolate.. From 1st Jan 2018, India has allowed 5% CBE produced from Indian exotic fats to be used for manufacture of chocolates. The relaxation is not applicable for CBE produced out of imported shea stearine. This has been a major positive development for the Company. India is one of the most important CBE markets with a likely increasing consumption. We believe that the demand has increased in recent years along with trends in chocolate production and increased use of CBE based coating and filling fats. With revised regulations from FSSAI, chocolate production should move to lower cost within India and the manufacturing and consumption of chocolate product should increase. [Source: Gazette of India Notification F. No. Stds /SCSS&H/ Notification (02)/FSSAI-2016 dated May 17th, 2017].

Our Company has largely been focused on manufacturing of stearine, an intermediate product, which needs to be mixed with Palm Mid Fraction to obtain CBE. However, recently, the Company had started manufacturing CBE albeit in a small proportion. Once we set up our proposed integrated manufacturing facility, we aim to focus on manufacture of CBE in a higher proportion as compared to manufacture of stearine with a view to grow our business and results of operations. CBE finds usage not only in chocolates but other confectionery items as well. Hotels, Bakeries etc have many products where CBE could be used. Being one of the leading organised player in India, our Company aims to command a substantial share in this fragmented market segment, thereby leading to an increased demand of CBE at an attractive price point.

4. Capitalise on growing demand of domestic chocolate & cosmetic industry

The Indian chocolate industry is expected to grow at a CAGR of 16% to reach INR 122 bn by FY2019 on account of an increase in middle class consumers and introduction of new forms of chocolates. The boost in chocolate consumption in India is largely influenced by changes in consumer eating habits, preferences, lifestyle and rise in income levels. India is amongst the fastest growing chocolate markets. In 2016, the chocolate market in the country grew by 13% year-on-year. Other than India, Poland's market which grew at 2% year-on-year is the only two countries globally have shown growth in the chocolate market. India is amongst the four countries projected to have the highest chocolate market growth in the period 2015-2020. Other countries include Mexico, China and Brazil. The chocolate market in India is currently growing at a rate of 13% annually and is projected to grow by 30% by 2020. Also the Indian cosmetics industry is majorly categorized into skin care, hair care, oral care, fragrances, and colour cosmetics segments. It currently has an overall market standing of USD 6.5 billion and is expected to grow to USD 20 bn by 2025 with a CAGR of 25%. In comparison, the global cosmetics market is growing steadily at 4.3% CAGR and will reach USD 450 billion 2025. By 2025, India will constitute 5% of the total global cosmetics market and become one of the top 5 global markets by revenue. [Source: CARE Industry Report]. For details including challenges that such industry faces, please refer to the chapter titled "Our Industry" beginning on page 122 of the Prospectus. Since we are majorly catering to the above industries with our manufactured products, we aim to increase our domestic presence by catering to the growing demand of such industries.

5. Certification of Fair Trade Practices and Sustainability

Given that our Company services the requirements of large MNCs who have stringent norms for the products that they sell, we follow all necessary process which comply with their individual respective needs. We plan to initiate formal steps to get the requisite certifications as per the global standards in the areas of Sustainability and Fair Trade Practices. This will enable our Company to further improve its positioning in this segment and will lead to a further cementing of its relationships with the global MNCs.

1. Strengths

- Market

The Company has an excellent relationship with its customers for the last four decades. The Company has reached and helped each and every tribal home and provided those jobs and as a result strengthened the collection potential and created a stable work force.

- Raw Material

Sourcing of raw material and other inputs is done by a well-designed, efficient and effective channel of logistics supply chain. The Company has about 80% of the share in purchasing the seed which allows for a better utilization of its facilities.

- Location Advantage

Raipur area provides good opportunity in terms of excellent raw materials sources in the radius of 50 to 300 km. There is availability of cheap labour, and well managed and trained maintenance staff. The project site is well connected with road, rail and air modes.

2. Weakness

- Inadequate funds for working capital allocation for raw material sourcing due to all material available in same period in short span. Thus higher working capital finance is required.

- Difficulty in managing and catering to demand of multiple products and customers. Due to limited production capacity at present one cannot cater to complete demand of our customers.

3. Opportunities

- Government Support

Present Indian political environment is investment friendly and enterprises supportive. Economic reforms, liberalisation and globalization provide a good opportunity to attract foreign collaboration. Government provides special incentive and support for agriculture, vegetable oil & fats and food processing industries.

On 24th December, 2017 Manorama Industries signed a Memorandum of Understanding with the Chhattisgarh government.

- Exempt of Import Duty

New Export-Import Policy under the new input-output norms for export of cocoa butter equivalents has announced an import entitlement of 1.02 MT's of Crude Palm Oil & 0.10 MT's of Mid Fraction against export of 1.02 MT's of Cocoa Butter Equivalents. The import as mentioned above will be exempt from duty (presently 75 % of the value of imports).

- Domestic Market

In domestic market there is an excellent opportunity for products like CBE, filling fats, margarine due to the excellent growth rate of chocolate, bakery, confectionery, ice-cream and food, fast-food

4. Threats

- Market/People Oriented

Consumer behavior can change in their taste and style. Change in the consumption patterns can lead to a fall in demand of chocolate and other related products. Economic recession due to global cues.

Details of the Object

The details of the objects of the Issue are set out below.

1. Establishing an integrated Greenfield project for manufacturing of CBE / specialty fats and tailor-made products at Birkoni, near Raipur, Chhattisgarh.

At present, we are operating through a distributed set up with processes and warehouses at multiple locations including Nagpur in Maharashtra, Raipur and other parts in Chhattisgarh. This is leading to very high logistics cost & loss on account of wastages. Hence, our Company plans to set up an integrated state of the art manufacturing plant where, all Processes including Crushing, Extraction, Refining, Fractionation & Interstification will take place at one location. This will reduce the logistics costs drastically & improve the operational efficiency of the company.

This new integrated plant will largely process Indian exotic tree borne seeds like Sal, Mango, Dhupa etc. to service the CBE demand within India & Globally. Given that more than 90% of the global CBE demand is being catered to by Shea nuts which are primarily found in West Africa, Manorama will produce CBE through Shea nuts (~25%) in order to service the global needs. We propose to utilize an aggregate of Rs 5,600.00 lakhs out of Net Proceeds and balance Rs. 2,400.00 lakhs out of internal accruals/networth.

GLOBAL ECONOMIC OVERVIEW

As per International Monetary Fund (IMF) January 2018 World Economic Outlook (WEO), Global output is estimated to have grown by 3.7 percent in 2017,

the global growth forecast for 2018 and 2019 is at 3.9 percent for both the years. The growth rate for emerging market and developing economies is estimated to rise up by 4.7 percent in 2017 while it is forecast to rise to 4.9 percent in 2018, 5.0 percent in 2019. This Growth forecast primarily reflects stronger projected activity in emerging Europe and Asia for 2017, 2018 and 2019.

The US economy is estimated to be expanded at 2.3 percent in 2017 and projected to expand at 2.3 percent in 2018 and 2.2 percent in 2019. The projection of a continuation of near-term growth that is moderately above potential reflects very supportive financial conditions and strong business and consumer confidence. The U.S. tax policy changes are expected to stimulate activity, with the short-term impact in the United States mostly driven by the investment response to the corporate income tax cuts. Over a longer horizon, US growth is expected to moderate. Potential growth is estimated at 1.8 percent, reflecting the assumption of continued sluggish growth in total factor productivity and diminished growth of the workforce due to population aging.

The euro area recovery is expected to gather strength this year, with growth estimated to rise to 2.3 percent in 2017, before moderating to 2.2 percent in 2018 and 2.0 percent in 2019. The growth in 2017 mostly reflects acceleration in exports in the context of the broader pickup in global trade and continued strength in domestic demand growth supported by accommodative financial conditions amid diminished political risk and policy uncertainty. Growth in the United Kingdom is estimated at 1.7 percent in 2017 and to subside to 1.5 percent in 2018 and 2019. The slowdown is driven by softer growth in private consumption as the pound's depreciation weighed on household real income. The medium-term growth outlook is highly uncertain and will depend in part on the new economic relationship with the EU and the extent of the increase in barriers to trade, migration, and cross-border financial activity.

In China, growth is estimated to notch up to 6.8 percent in 2017, while projected to slow to 6.6 percent in 2018 and 6.4 percent in 2019. The upward revision to the 2017 forecast reflects the stronger-than-expected outturn in the year underpinned by previous policy easing and supply-side reforms.

In the rest of emerging market and developing Asia, growth is expected to be vigorous. Strong government spending and data revisions in India led to an upward revision of 2016 growth to 7.1 percent with upward revisions of about 0.2 percentage point, on average, for 2014 and 2015.

However, the growth estimated for 2017 to 6.7 percent reflecting still lingering disruptions associated with the currency exchange initiative introduced in November 2016, as well as transition costs related to the launch of the national Goods and Services Tax in July 2017. The latter move, which promises the unification of India's vast domestic market, is among several key structural reforms under implementation that are expected to help push growth above 8 percent in the medium term. In the ASEAN-5 economies (Indonesia, Malaysia, Philippines, Thailand, Vietnam), growth is estimated to strengthen in 2017 by 5.3 percent, partly because of stronger- than-expected external demand from China and Europe.

Global growth is forecast to increase marginally beyond 2018, reaching 3.8 percent by 2021. With growth in advanced economies projected to gradually decline toward potential growth rates of about 1.7 percent once economic slack is eliminated, this further pickup in global activity is entirely driven by emerging market and developing economies. In these countries, growth is projected to increase to 5 percent by the end of the forecast period, with their impact on global activity boosted by their rising world economic weight. This forecast assumes some strengthening of growth in commodity exports, though to rates much more modest than in 2000–15; a gradual increase in India's growth rate resulting from implementation of important Structural reforms; continued strong growth in other commodity imports; and a lower but still high trend growth rate in China.

India's Foreign Exchange Reserves was measured at 377.5 USD bn in Nov 2017, compared with 374.8 USD bn in the previous month.

Recent Developments across various sectors:

India Industrial Production:

India's industrial output reversed the moderation of the previous month and surged to a 2 year high in November'17, surpassing expectations. The industrial output as measured by the Index of Industrial output (IIP) grew by 8.4% (y-o-y) in November'17, the highest monthly growth recorded since October'15. The growth in IIP last month was significantly higher than the 5.1% growth of November'16 and 2.2% growth of October'17.

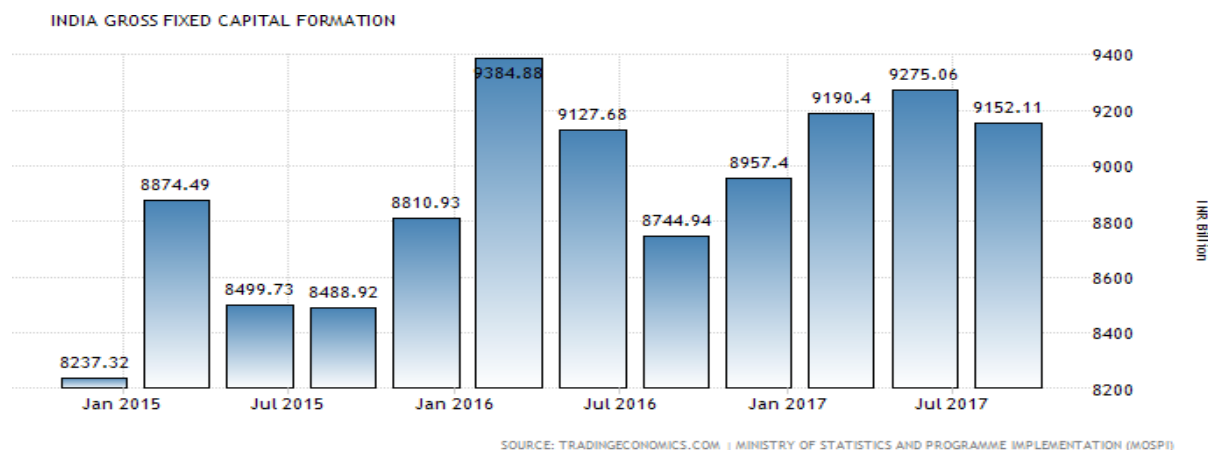

The manufacturing sector recorded a y-o-y of 10.2% in November'17 (4.1% in November'16), the highest growth in over 4.5 years. Consumer non-durables too grew by a record high 23.1% during the month (3.3% in November'16). Growth (y-o-y) during the month was the highest in case of the pharmaceuticals (40%), computers & optical products (29%), transport equipment (23%), food products (18%), motor vehicles (18%), basic metal (13%), non-metallic mineral products (10%), fabricated metal products (9%) and wood products (9%). The growth in pharmaceuticals and food products can be largely attributed to restocking.

OVERVIEW ON CHOCOLATE MARKET

Chocolate, a processed sweetened product made by using cocoa seed butter, forms a part of everyday consumption habit in developed countries. Currently, different types of chocolates with varying cocoa content are offered by chocolate makers across the globe.

Chocolate is delivered in the form of a paste or solid blocks made from cacao seeds usually sweetened and consumed as a confectionery. The overall confectionery sector generally includes chocolate confectionery, sugar confectionery, and gum confectionery. The retail chocolate confectionery sector is increasing steadily as specialist chocolate stores have become a top source of sales for various manufacturers.

Cocoa is the key ingredient for manufacturing of chocolates. The demand for cocoa is dependent on the chocolate product market, comprising of chocolate confectionery and other chocolate and cocoa products. Average global consumption growth of the industry was just over 2% per annum over the last ten years.

Majority of chocolate sales are accounted for by the US manufacturers like Mondelez International, Mars Inc. The largest chocolate manufacturer across the world i.e. Mars accounts for 42% of the American chocolate market. Global chocolate market registered a CAGR of about 3% during last five years i.e. 2012 to 2017.

OVERVIEW ON COCOA & COCO BUTTER MARKET

Cocoa - Introduction

Cocoa is the key ingredient for manufacturing of chocolates and is a cash crop, a critical export for producing countries and also a key import for consuming countries, which typically do not have a suitable climate for cocoa production. Traveling along a global supply chain, cocoa beans go through a complex production process that involves farmers, buyers, shipping organizations, processors, manufacturers, chocolatiers, and distributors.

Cocoa trees grow in a tropical environment, within 15 to 20 degrees latitude from the equator. The ideal climate for growing cocoa is hot, rainy, and tropical with lush vegetation to provide shade for the cocoa trees. The primary growing regions are Africa, Asia, and Latin America. The largest producing country by volume is Côte d'Ivoire which produces 33% of the global supply.

Once cocoa beans have been harvested, fermented, dried, and transported, they are processed into separate components for commercial consumption. Processing is the last phase in which demand for cocoa beans can be equitably compared to supply, and after processing into separate components, individual components of the cocoa beans are sold across many industries to manufacture of confectionery, soaps and cosmetic items.

Global market for processing of cocoa beans has remained stable. The Netherlands is the largest processing country by volume, handling about 13% of the global grindings. Though unsuitable for growing cocoa, Europe as a whole comprises nearly 40% of the processing market. The remaining 60% is divided almost evenly between Africa, Asia, and the Americas.

Global Cocoa Beans Market:

The demand for cocoa is dependent on the chocolate product market, comprising of chocolate confectionery and other chocolate and cocoa products. Global Chocolate Market is directly linked to economic growth progress.

The cocoa beans have captured the attention of consumers from around the world, due to the fast growth of the chocolate confectionery market. Other than chocolate confectionery market, factors stimulating the market growth include increasing disposable income among middle class and increasing popularity of cocoa based products like cocoa beverages and cocoa powder. However, the commodity price fluctuation, pest and diseases, low productivity, high dependence on seasons and environmental conditions and high cost of farm inputs are restraining the market growth.

Supply of Cocoa products:

The demand for chocolate products has expanded, which in turn has led to increased demand for the semi processed cocoa products required in their manufacture. These semi-processed products (comprising of cocoa liquor, cocoa butter and powder) are derived from cocoa bean grindings.

On an average, around 4 million metric tonnes of cocoa beans are produced each year. In line with the growing chocolate product demand, global cocoa grindings have increased by an average of 1.7% per annum over the last decade, in 2016-17 Cocoa production reached its peak at 4.5 Million metric tonnes.

Supply & production in India:

In India, cocoa is grown primarily as an intercrop in Andhra Pradesh, Tamil Nadu, Karnataka and Kerala, as the tree requires about 40-50 percent shade. More than two-thirds of cocoa is grown in coconut groves, with the rest in oil palm and rubber plantations.

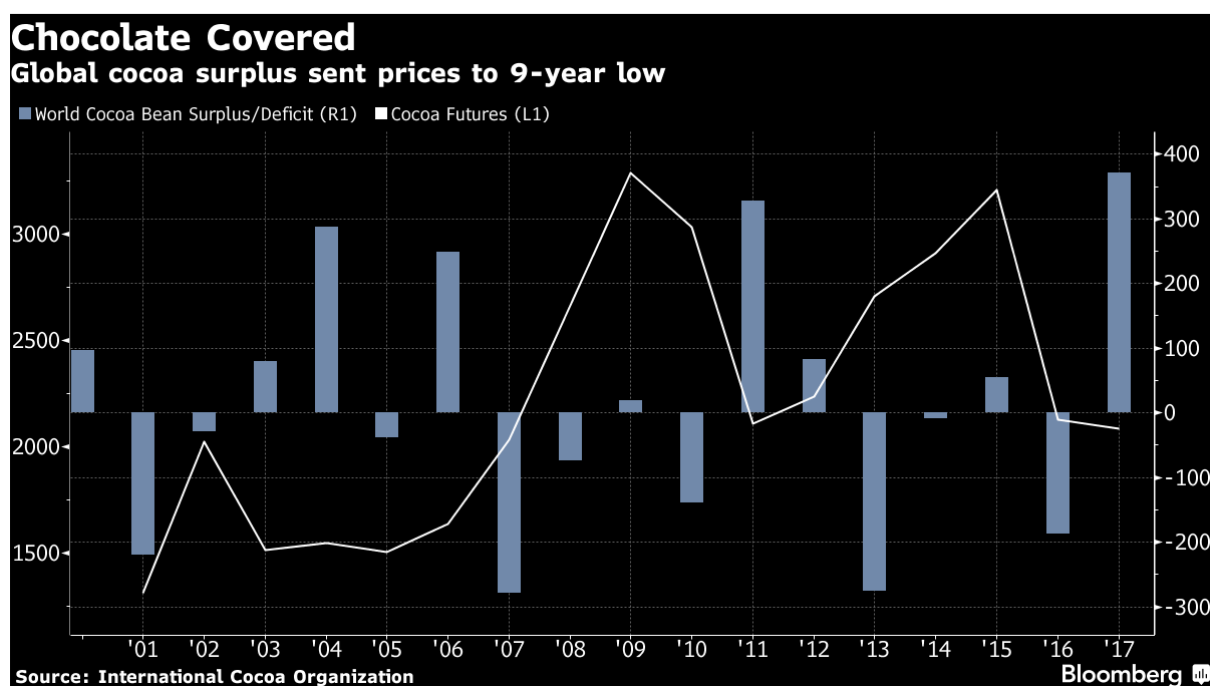

The total area under cultivation in the four southern states at the end of 2015-16 was 81,274 hectares (1 ha equals 2.47 acres)

According to the International Cocoa Organization in 2015-16, India harvested 17,200 metric tons (MT) of cocoa beans, only 1.1 per cent of the yield in Ivory Coast, the largest cocoa bean producer in the world.

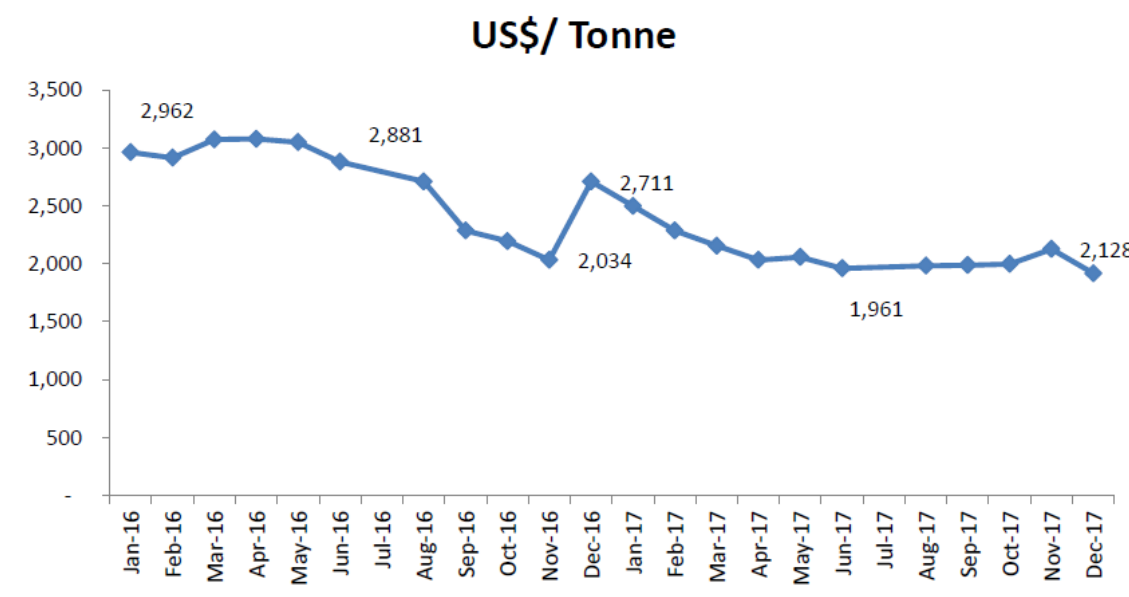

Pricing & Surplus in Production of Cocoa Beans:

The international market prices of cocoa are very volatile and change variably with demand and supply. Cocoa prices plunged 34 percent in 2016 and are down again in 2017 after big harvests in Ivory Coast and Ghana overwhelmed demand. Production in the two countries - which account for two thirds of global supply – is estimated to fall, so is the harvest in Indonesia, Asia's top producer. Citigroup Inc. forecasts that the surplus will shrink to as little as 50,000 metric tonnes in 2017-18 from almost 500,000 metric tonnes a year earlier.

Surplus & Cocoa forwards pricing trend:

Cocoa prices are volatile and influenced by many factors. These include changes in weather conditions, pests and diseases and political instability in producing countries.

Demand of Cocoa Beans Products:

Demand has picked up in Asia particularly, where countries including Philippines, Indonesia, India and China are consuming more powder in products like cookies and ice-cream and while West African growers may reap a second year of bumper crops, top producer Ivory Coast is unlikely to repeat last season's record harvest.

Global cocoa processing is expected to rise by more than 3 percent, processing exceeded 5 percent growth in 2016-17. About 8,000 new products were launched in the confectionery market last year.

Demand for cocoa butter and cocoa liquor, used to make chocolate bars, is also growing and the market is tight despite last season's record surplus that has helped boost cocoa-processing margins, with the so-called combined ratio - the price of cocoa products relative to beans - reaching the highest in more than a decade this year.

Region-wise Demand

3. North America

The NAFTA region consumes in the order of 850,000 tonnes of cocoa beans per annum. This volume has been stable over the last decade. Of this, the region grinds around 500,000 tons per annum, although there is considerable annual volatility.

U.S. accounted for the largest share in the North America chocolate market with an estimated size of USD 27.88 billion in 2016. Manufacturers are involved in initiatives to position chocolate as a healthier product by increasing the content of dark chocolate, fruits, nuts, and other ingredients to nutritive value and lower calorie indulgence. This is expected to be one of the reasons behind the dominance of U.S. in the North America market for chocolates.

4. European Union

The EU Consumes in the order of 1.7 Million tons of cocoa beans per annum. In Europe, growing demand for specialty chocolate can be found in traditional consuming countries such as Belgium, France, Germany, Italy, Switzerland and the United Kingdom.

Consumption in this segment is associated with higher incomes, consumer awareness and market exposure. On an average, use has increased by 1.5% per annum over the last decade and while grindings have grown by around 1% per annum, and the balance being taken up by the imports.

The Eastern European chocolate industry (dominated by Russia) grew strongly prior to the financial crisis in 2009. More recently, cocoa use has fluctuated around 250,000 to 300,000 tons, however consumption fell below 240,000 tons in 2015.

Middle East

Chocolate confectionery in the Middle East and Africa is growing by 5 percent in sales value year on year since 2011, against the global average of 2 percent for the same period. Growth in the savory snack segment is equally strong, increasing in sales value by 6 percent annually since 2011, and double the global average of 3 percent. Chocolate consumption volume has experienced a steady growth during last five years. For example, Iran's Chocolate confectionery consumption reached 41.1K tons in 2017 compared to 38.5k tons in 2012. Israel reached 25.9K tons in 2017 compared to 20.9k tons in 2012.

Middle East Chocolate market is anticipated to grow at a CAGR of 4.8% during 2017-23. Countries such as Saudi Arabia, UAE and Qatar would drive the market during 2017-23 due to growing organized retail sector and upcoming global events such as Dubai World Expo 2020 and FIFA World Cup 2022 in Qatar. Companies such as Mondelez International and Mars are targeting local markets by expanding their production facilities in the region. Luxury chocolate manufacturers are also growing their presence in the region.

India

In 2015-16, India's total consumption of cocoa beans was around 30,000 MT, 57 percent of which was imported. In the five years till 2015-16, India's cocoa bean production grew at a CAGR of just 3.6 percent, according to data from the Directorate of Cashewnut and Cocoa Development (DCCD).

India's per capita consumption is miniscule compared to the world's most chocolate-crazy nation, the Switzerland, whose citizens consumed a staggering 8.8 kg on average in 2015. According to Euro-monitor International, the size of the Indian chocolate confectionery market in 2016 was around Rs 11,260 crore. The top three players are all multinationals, with Mondelez India (formerly Cadbury India), maker of the popular Cadbury Dairy Milk chocolates, controlling nearly half the market, while Nestle and Ferrero accounting for 13 percent & 8 percent respectively.

China

China's consumption of chocolate per capita was 0.20 kilogram, versus 8.8 kilograms in the Switzerland, the world's largest chocolate consumer by volume per capita. Valued at about 20 billion Yuan ($3.02 billion) in 2015 in terms of sales, the market for chocolate in China is expected to grow to 40 billion Yuan by 2020.

Chocolate market in China is developing fast with imported foodstuffs by major European chocolate manufacturers. According to an industry report released by China Merchants Securities, famous chocolate brands such as Dove and M&M's under Mars, the world's largest candy maker, took up 39.8 percent of the domestic market share in 2016, and Ferrero Rocher, the Italian chocolatier, enjoyed a 17.8 percent stake, with other foreign brands including Hershey and Nestle following closely.

Japan

Japan is the largest confectionery market in Asia with a high per capita consumption of chocolate. The recession in 2009, along with the earthquake and tsunami in 2011, caused the Japanese economy to significantly retract, which negatively affected consumer spending. However, chocolate market has recovered a decent amount of sales after 2013, with most of the sales being created in the premium and luxury categories.

Japanese consumers are influenced by price but they are unlikely to compromise on the quality and freshness of products for more affordable pricing. Hence, the market has already moved towards luxury chocolates rather than everyday products and the average selling price of chocolate products is even higher than the global average.

Cocoa Butter- Introduction

Cocoa butter is a type of vegetable fat that is extracted from cocoa beans. The other name for cocoa butter is Theobroma oil, a popular ingredient around the world. It is used in various applications, including cosmetics, chocolates, ointments, and some pharmaceuticals.

Cocoa butter (cacao fat) naturally occurs in the cocoa bean at about 50% of the cocoa nib (EU). Cocoa butter is resistant to oxidation due to high levels of natural tocopherols and fatty acid composition.

Typical Fatty acid composition (%)

- Stearic (C18:0) 34.5%
- Oleic (C18:1) 34.5%
- Palmitic (C16:0) 26.0%
- Linoleic (C18:2) 3.2%
- Arachidic (C20:0) 1.0%
- Palmitoleic (C16:1) 0.3%
- Other Fatty Acids 0.5%

When tempered properly to achieve the correct crystal formulation, cocoa butter creates a finished chocolate with a high gloss and texture snap. Additionally, cocoa butter contracts when solidified, which enables efficient molding production.

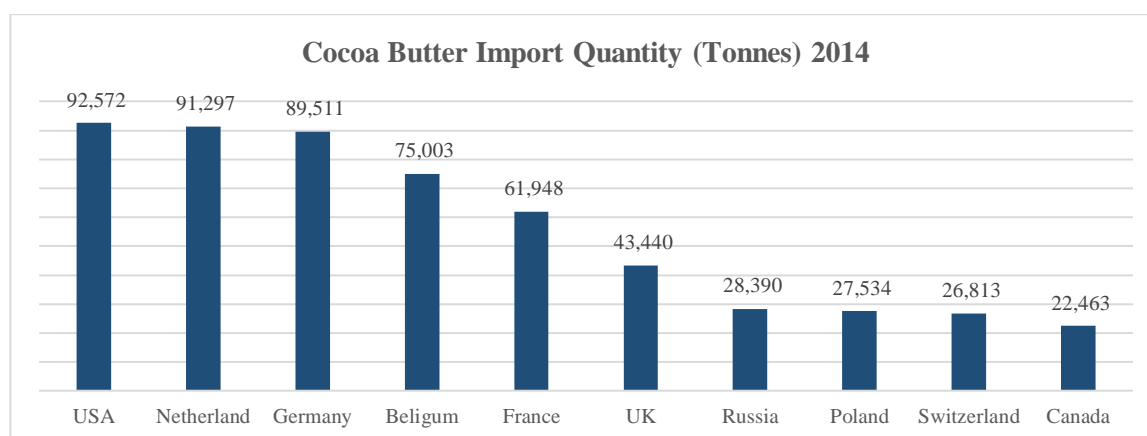

As a pure vegetable fat, cocoa butter is whitish in color and soft in texture. It has been used for ages as the solid to make white chocolate as well as other chocolate bars. It holds together at room temperature providing that ideal candy bar crispness. It has a mild chocolate taste and flavor and carries only trace amounts of caffeine, theobromine, or nutritive elements found in chocolates. Cocoa butter is ideal for beauty care products as well since it stays solid at room temperatures and contains naturally occurring antioxidants which prevent rancidity, giving it a shelf life of years.

Cocoa butter is valuable due to its excellent fragrance and specific physical properties. Cocoa butter is hard below the room temperature and is rapidly dissolved at the body temperature to endow fresh fine appearance. In addition, as it is extremely stable for oxidation, cocoa butter can be used as food such as chocolates which can be preserved for a long time. Cocoa butter has melting point of 32 to 35° C.

Cocoa butter, unlike other fats or oils, comprises above 90% of three major fatty acids, i.e. palmitic acid, stearic acid and oleic acid, and above 75% of symmetric triglyceride structure in which oleic acid is bonded to 2 position of triglyceride and palmitic acid and stearic acid are bonded to 1, 3 positions of triglyceride. The major symmetric oil consists of 34 to 39 mol % of palmitic acid-oleic acid-stearic acid (POS), 23 to 30 mol % of stearic acid-oleic acid-stearic acid (SOS) and 14 to 17 mol % of palmitic acid-oleic acid-palmitic acid (POP), thus above 80% of oleic acid is being on 2nd position of triglyceride.

Since it consists of single triglyceride, the cocoa butter shows characteristic polymorphism by solidifying due to cooling.

Cocoa butter is a byproduct of cocoa processing, and is widely used in chocolate manufacturing. The biggest importer of cocoa butter is the US with 92 thousand tons followed by the Netherlands with 91 thousand tons and Germany with 89 thousand tons.

Production Process

Cocoa butter (CB) is extracted from the cocoa bean, the seed of the Theobroma cocoa tree. The three main Theobroma varieties are Criollo, Forastero and Trinitario. The beans and pulp are removed from the pod and collected in heaps, boxes or wooden baskets where the fermentation occurs. The fermentation is the first step in the flavor development by producing flavor precursors. After fermentation the beans are dried. The beans are spread out on mats, trays or terrace on the ground to dry in the sun. Afterwards the beans are roasted, as such flavor develops from the precursors formed during fermentation and drying. The beans are then cracked and the shell is removed to give cocoa nibs. These nibs are ground to cocoa mass, an important ingredient of chocolate. Extra cocoa butter is needed to make chocolate, therefore cocoa butter is extracted from the cocoa beans and cocoa mass by pressing process, by expulsion in an expeller press or by solvent extraction.

Cocoa butter generally acts as the continuous phase in chocolate, supporting the nonfat ingredients. This continuous phase has a major influence on the properties of chocolate, it is responsible for the 'snap', gloss, heat stability, mouth feel and flavour release. The shelf life of chocolate is also determined by the used fat.

COCOA BUTTER ALTERNATIVES

Need for Cocoa Butter Alternatives

Cocoa Butter (CB) is an important constituent of chocolate formulation. It enjoys a very high status in the chocolate & cosmetics industry due to its property of remaining hard, moldable and brittle at room temperature and completely melting at the mouth temperature.

However, CB has its own disadvantages such as:

- Low milk-fat tolerance.
- Lack of stability at elevated temperatures.
- Tendency to bloom.

The increasing cost & fluctuations in supply of cocoa butter and desire for healthy foods has led many companies to look for alternatives. Cocoa butter gives chocolate a fatty goodness and glossy appearance. However, using cocoa butter alternatives in chocolate, baked goods and candies is becoming a popular choice. Alternatives fall into three categories – cocoa butter substitutes (CBSs), cocoa butter replacers (CBRs) and cocoa butter equivalents (CBEs).

Cocoa butter alternatives (CBAs) are fats that address the function of cocoa butter completely or in parts. On the basis of functional differences in the vegetable fats added to chocolate, CBAs are to be distinguished and are labeled as cocoa butter replacer (CBRs), cocoa butter equivalents (CBEs) and as cocoa butter substitutes (CBSs). All fats that are used in place of CB to replace it either partially or wholly in chocolate or other confectionery products are generally known as the CBAs.

A CBA is usually cheaper than CB and serves the purpose of CB. It can also be processed just like CB and meet specific country legal requirements such as use of non-animal and non-synthetic fats in chocolate products. The fatty acid compositions of CBAs are similar to that of CB with more or less similar triglycerides structure.

Efforts have been made to find certain fats produced from tree borne oilseeds that have unique triglyceride combination consisting of the right proportion of POP, POS_t and StOS_t types of glycerides. These fats matched the properties of cocoa butter and could be blended with cocoa butter proportionately. So, basically Cocoa Butter Equivalents (CBEs) are fats which behave like cocoa (cocoa butter) in all respects and are able to mix with cocoa butter in any proportion without altering the melting rheological and processing characteristics of cocoa butter in all types of formulation. CBEs are non-mono-unsaturated triglycerides like cocoa butter.

Palm Oil is fractionated to produce middle-melting fractions rich in POP. So also, exotic fats such as Sal, Mango, Shea, Kokum etc. are fractionated to get triglyceride cuts in POS and SOS careful preparation and blending of these results in tailor-made fat that is equivalent to cocoa butter.

The principle advantages of incorporating CBA are:

- Reduction in the production cost of chocolate, as CBA's are cheaper than cocoa butter.
- Stabilizing influence on fluctuating price of cocoa butter.
- Improves tolerance of milk-fat.
- Improves stability of chocolates in tropical climate.

Types of Cocoa Butter Alternatives:

Cocoa Butter Substitutes (CBSs)

A cocoa butter substitute is a fat compound that is non-hydrogenated (PKs) or fully hydrogenated (fully hydro PKs). This makes it healthier than traditional cocoa butter, and the right type of substitute can offer the same taste and texture to chocolate as the real thing. Palm kernel or coconut oil is frequently used as CBSs in sweet treats. They are easier to handle when used in chocolate treats and have a high melting point. Both substitutes also do not crystallize when overcooked the way cocoa butter does. The downside of these substitutes is that they do not mix well with other fats used to make chocolate. According to Rick Schwartz of Cargil Cocoa and Chocolate, CBSs are only able to mix well with recipes that have 5% or less of other fats.

CBS Features:-

- Palm oil or coconut oil based and normally contains lauric fatty acids.
- Does not require tempering.

- Lauric fat in the presence of enzymes like lipase (found in cocoa beans), under the right conditions (moisture, temperature), can react and produce a soapy off-note.
- Not compatible with cocoa butter, although can be mixed in at a low percentage.

Cocoa Butter Replacers (CBRs)

CBRs are physically similar to cocoa butter, but have different chemical characteristics. These are fats with different fatty acid composition, as well as completely different structure of triglycerides than cocoa butter. Due to this reason they mix with cocoa fat only in limited quantities; however they behave similar to it in final products. These replacers are obtained by hydrogenation, interesterification and/or fractionation of plant fats with high concentrations of C16 and C18 fatty acids. These fats do not require tempering during technological processing.

CBRs can be used for production of: high-fat cocoa powder and cocoa pulp, coatings, stuffed bars, nuggets and white chocolate. However, CBRs obtained during hydrogenation process are characterized by high content of Trans fatty acids, mostly oleic acid isomer.

CBR Features:-

- Non-lauric containing fats like palm oil, soybean oil, rapeseed oil and cottonseed oil.
- Does not require tempering.
- Partially compatible with cocoa butter.

Cocoa Butter Equivalents (CBEs)

CBEs are vegetable fats used both for food and cosmetics applications. CBEs include Shea, Sal and other common butters such as illipe, kokum, mowrah, mango and palm butters. Cocoa butter is made from the beans of the cacao tree, grown across the tropics, while Shea & Sal butter is made from the oilseeds of the Shea nut and Sal seeds respectively.

The most beneficial CBA is a CBE. Physical and Chemical Properties of CBE is similar to Cocoa Butter. Palm and Shea oil/ Sal Oil are frequently used as a low cost alternative to cocoa butter. Both have no maximum amount of fat that they can be mixed with, which helps them be versatile in chocolate, candies and other sweet treats. The right amount of oil is dependent on the texture and consistency of a recipe. More oil is used to replace cocoa butter in chocolate but less will be needed in candies due to the high cooking temperature. Any type of substitution is a trial and error process to find the right balance that does not diminish the taste and quality of the product.

Other than chocolates, these fats are also predominantly used for the production of compound coatings used for enrobing bakery and confectionery products where the coating forms 10% to 30% of the total weight of the enrobed products.

CBE is better of all the alternatives:

- Enable the chocolate manufacturer to make more consistent products by leveling out the variable hardness of cocoa butter.
- Improve the stability of the fat phase of chocolate product, thereby combating undesired fat migration from fillings to “coating” of chocolate.
- Prevent the formation of fat bloom, a white discoloration generated by heat. Fat bloom is common in summers, is a major source of consumer complaints.
- Improve hardness and snap, especially in chocolate products with high milk content. Dairy fats are soft and a small amount of CBE can correct this.
- Help to maintain texture and “gloss” thereby enhancing consumer appeal.
- Facilitate the efficient manufacture of chocolate by influencing such parameters as tempering behavior, viscosity and rate of crystallization.

- CBE is designed to contain a glyceride composition similar to that of CB. Their properties are expected to be similar and compatible with CB in mixtures for chocolate manufacture. The major fatty acids contained in CBEs are palmitic acid, stearic acid and oleic acid, which are similar to that of CB.
- Most of CBE is prepared from blending of different mixtures of palm oil, palm oil fractions, Shea, illipe, sal and mango kernels fat etc. It contains approximately 12% POSt, 40% of (StOSt), 25% of (POP) and 21% of (POP) and minor amounts of other triglycerides

COCOA BUTTER EQUIVALENTS

CBE Brief Production process

The Cocoa Butter Equivalent (CBE) has triglyceride composition similar to natural cocoa butter and is superior to compatibility and also is necessary for tempering. Palm Middle Fraction oil (PMF), illepe fat, Shea fat, sal fat and kokum fat come under the category of the CBE. It can be obtained oil similar to cacao butter by mixing PMF with Stearine obtained from Shea/ Sal seeds which is rich in palmitic acid than cocoa butter and sal/Shea stearine which is rich in stearic acid. The CBE can substitute for natural cocoa butter in the production of chocolate without difference in aspect of taste, properties, i.e. CBE has no difference in texture, flavor and taste when compared with cocoa butter. Such kinds of oil are in demand in Europe Union annually in amount of 15,000 ton and have been used in the whole world instead of natural cocoa butter.

Lauric and palm oil both are used as some of the prime sources of raw materials in order to obtain economical cocoa butter alternatives. Moreover, palm oil serves as a common raw material in producing alternative fats as it contains symmetrical triglycerides in forming cocoa butter equivalents. With the increasing research and development activities in the field of alternative fats and oil products are one of the major driving factors is contributing to the positive development of the market. Latin America and MEA (The Middle East and Africa) are anticipated to show significant growth rate owing to the increasing demand for cost-effective personal care products and confectioneries.

The most commonly used exotic vegetable fats are Sal, Palm oil, illipe and Shea. Next to these fats also mango kernel, kokum, gurgi, mowrah are allowed although the European legislation only allows these five fats, other fats have been successfully used as CBE in the past, for example acituno oil and dhupa fat.

It is beneficial to add Indian Exotic Fats to Chocolate and Confectionery Fats and Oils. Sal has good digestive property because of presence of Arachidic Acid. Sal Fat is used as an Equivalent / Substitute for cocoa butter in chocolate and confectionery.

Natural sources of cocoa butter alternative fats:

- Sal fat

Shorea Robusta (Sal) belongs to the family of Dipterocarpaceae. Sal has an important role in the economics of central states of India (i.e. Orissa, Jharkhand, Madhya Pradesh and Chhattisgarh). These states cover about 45 % of forest area. Sal is a deciduous tree that reaches up to 50 m height. Sal is famous for its seed and oil. Sal fruit pulp is edible; it contains sugar, gum, malic, citric and tartaric acids. Sal is a crucial plant for veterinary medicines (used as vaccine and medicine for respiratory diseases). Sal fruit content 66.4% of kernel and pod, remaining 33.6% is shell and calyx.

Sal seeds possess a fat content of 12% to 14%. The fat is extracted in a Solvent Extraction Plant in the presence of hexane. The extracted Sal oil is refined using conventional refining methods.

For Sal the market is now open to all states & free trade in India. Sal is now denationalized in all the states like Chhattisgarh, Odisha, Madhya Pradesh and Jharkhand.

Map showing distribution of Sal

Sal seed production is concentrated in the central India. Orissa has largest area that covers sal trees with area over of 38,300 Kms followed by Madhya Pradesh 27,800 km and Chattisgarh with 24,245 Km.

India has the largest Sal forest in the world. The country has vast potential of Tree Borne Oil Seeds like Sal, Mango, Phulwara and huge forests with huge population to collect the seeds in Madhya Pradesh, Bihar, Orissa, West Bengal, Chattisgarh, Nepal, Uttar Pradesh, Utranchal. In India 16% of its total land is covered by Sal forest.

Sal Stearine:

Sal Stearine is a fractionated product of Sal Fat produced by physical press fractional or by Solvent Fractionation Process. The stearine thus obtained is 56% to 70% of the Sal Fat taken initially. The Stearine is harder than cocoa butter and can thus be used easily as a substitute in CBE or CBR, which is why it is also used in the manufacture of plain chocolates.

Sal Oleine:

When Sal Fat is fractionated, Sal Oleine is obtained. Sal Oleine is liquid at room temperature, with a certain part of it – forming solid lumps. Sal Oleine is effective as an emollient, which is why it is used in skin care products and other cosmetics.

Sal Oleine has zero transfat and it is used widely in Vanaspati (Vegetable fats) and is also being used in Ice Cream and Bakery Products.

Advantages & Uses of Sal Seed

The Central Committee of Food Standards has also cleared Sal oil (fat) for confectionery use. Sal fat in Vanaspati ghee (upto 20%) is preferred as there is no fear of this fat settling as cholesterol in blood vessels to cause blockage in the heart. Besides, the fat gives a natural green colour to soaps.

- Sal oil are exported in countries like Italy, UK, France, Malaysia, Japan, and Netherlands, where it is used as a substitute for cocoa butter. Sal Fat has a good export market due to its better quality, keeping free fatty acid (FFA) below 5% and use of less hydroxyglycerides content. Sal fat is competitive in the export market due to its low price.
- The other thing that goes in favour of Sal fat as CBE is that it is invariably organic, free from pollutants and fertilizers.
- The best quality Sal oil, i.e. with FFA below 3-5%, is used in the chocolate industry and exported to Japan and the European Union countries.

- Oil with 5-7% FFA is used in the Vanaspati sector, above 7% FFA is used for soap making and still inferior quality with FFA above 10% finds use in manufacturing of paints, lubricants, etc.
- The oil cake is used for boiling plants, as a sizing material in textile industries and as cattle feed after standardization. A rough estimate of the uses of de-oiled cakes shows that 80% of the produce is used as fuel in solvent extraction plants, 3-5% in making coal briquettes and the rest is used as feed for cattle, poultry and fish. The de-oiled cake also has a good export market as cattle feed

Sal fat as component of Cocoa Butter Equivalent:

Sal Fat is an important component of CBE. Cocoa butter has unique chemical and physical properties which provide chocolates with special qualities like maintaining hardness and staying brittle at 30 degree Celsius and melting completely at 35 degree Celsius. Such a unique and rapid transformation is due to the unique chemical composition comprising about 80 percent symmetrical triglycerides like POP, POS and SOS. Sal Fat manifests in itself all these properties and is thus an ideal ingredient of CBE.

The estimated annual production of Sal seeds is 10 lakh MT. Out of which only ~1.5 lakh MT (10%) is currently being collected / utilized. Hence, over 8.5 lakh MT is being thrown as waste annually. In the matured fruit, the enclosed nut remains green but gradually turns brown on storage. It browns quickly on artificial drying. On the basis of extensive studies carried out in the country it has been found that sal seed meal could serve as a source of energy in animal feeds.

How Sal is used in CBE Production

Fractionation of sal fat is necessary for making cocoa butter which resembles triglycerides, which is a valuable ingredient for CBEs. CBEs are produced by blending of stearine of sal fat with palm mid fractionated oil (PMF Oil) in different ratios. As a result the solidification properties and solid fat indices of blends 70-80% of sal fat stearine and 20-30% of PMF oil show similar properties to CB. Cocoa butter extender is made by decreasing the sal fat stearine to 50-67% in the blend, series of cocoa butter extenders can also be made by changing the sal fat and PMF oil ratios in the blends which show similar chemical and physical properties like CB. Due to the unique chemical composition comprising about 80% symmetrical triglycerides that is POP, POS and SOS Sal fat is used as a substitute for cocoa butter in confectionery & Chocolate.

Indian customs data suggest that export peaked in 2012 at over 9,000 tonnes (sal oil equivalent). Exports declined in 2013 and remained at 6,000 tonnes (sal oil equivalent) in both 2014 and 2015. India is now exporting Shea stearin and sal oil to the same destinations. The EU is the most important importer of both sal & sal oil, accounting for over half of 80% of trade over the last five years

It is high in stearic and oleic acids and has a few polyunsaturated fatty acids. SAL BUTTER is often used to enhance spreadability of creams, lotions and cosmetic foundations combining good emolliency with superior oxidative stability. Comparable to cocoa butter in its physical properties, SAL BUTTER can be used in similar applications. It is also beneficial for the treatment of many different conditions.

Other application of Sal Seed Oil

- Sal butter is used for making cosmetic products
- Sal fat is used in the manufacturing of edible ghee or Vanaspati.
- It is also used for soap manufacturing industries up to 30%.
- It is also used for paints, pigments, lubricant, and auto oil.
- Sal seed oil can also be used for production of bio gas and biodiesel.
- The de-oiled seed cake is a cheap natural substrate for lipase production under submerged fermentation.

Shea butter

Shea butter comes from the nuts of the Shea tree; Shea (Vitellaria paradoxa) is a small to medium sized tree spread over West African countries. The fruit is oblong in shape. The epicarp of the ripe fruit is initially green and when matured - yellowish green. The average fresh weight of the nut is 8-10 gms which makes Shea nuts one of the heaviest oilseeds available. The fresh nut contains 43-68% moisture by weight and as much as 30-45% of the kernel can be recovered.

This fat is sometimes called Karité butter or Galam butter. The kernel contains approximately 40% to 60% fat. The fat has a very high content of non-triacylglycerol matter. Shea butter has a low content (\pm 39%) of SatOSat triacylglycerol's, the main SatOSat triacylglycerol present is StOSt, and therefore the stearin fraction is mostly used. Next to fractionation, a refining step needs to be done. (Timms, 2003).

Shea butter contains a high proportion of di-and tri-unsaturated glycerides, which give it the softer consistency. The heavier carbon molecules (stearic and oleic acid) dominate which result in a high melting point of 37.8 degree C. The unsaponifiable fraction makes Shea butter a useful ingredient in cosmetic products. Estimation of the proportion of unsaponifiables varies but their presence makes the fat prone to oxidation. Some of the triterpenes and sterols are characteristics of Shea oil and can be used to detect its presence as an adulterant in cocoa butter.

Illipe butter

Illipe butter is derived from the nuts of the illipe tree (Shorea stenoptera). Another name for illipe butter is Borneo tallow or Tenkgawang. The kernel contains between 45% and 70% fat (Bockisch, 1998). The fat has a relatively high level of POST and StOSt, therefore resembles very well to cocoa butter (Storgaard, 2000). The high level of POST results in a high SFC at 20°C (Timms, 2003). Before its use, this fat must be refined.

Kokum butter

The kokum kernel contains on average 45% fat. Kokum Butter (Kokum fat) is extracted from Kokum nuts (Garcinia indica). The yield of oil (fat) is about 32-35%. Kokum Fat increases the hardness of chocolates and is used in various confectionaries. It is a very important component for filling and used as an alternative fat in cosmetics. It is also used in the manufacture of soap, cosmetics, candles and ointments. When mixed with Mowrah stearine and PMF, this fat can be used to produce CBE.

Mango kernel fat

Mango Kernel Fat is obtained from the seed kernels of mango (Mangifera Indica). Mango trees are abundantly distributed throughout India, with innumerable and regional varieties of the fruit. The fruit is consumed both as a delicacy and as food.

The estimated production of mangoes in India is around 7 million tones. Mango contains an ovoid oblique solitary seed, also called stone. The latter consists of a hard shell with a kernel inside. The potential availability of mango kernels in the country is around one million tones which can yield about 70,000 tons of mango kernel fat. Mango fat contains 8-12% oil.

To produce the oil, mango kernels are either collected wild from the countryside around Chhattisgarh & Orissa states, or collected in the villages following the consumption of the fruit. The season is limited to June & July. The process employed in the mango pulping factories disturbs the kernel and this process is not viable. Most mango kernel is processed into stearin before export, with oil used on the domestic market. The EU is the main market, with some exports also going to Malaysia.

The mango kernel meal can be used as cattle feed, manure, and for production of starch, with good export potential. Mango kernels contain 7-11% grayish-white colored fat which is suitable for edible purpose after refining. The fat is solid, closely resembling cocoa butter in physical and chemical characteristics and is therefore used as a substitute or extender. It has a good potential as edible oil. The raw fat is used in soap making. Refined fat is suitable as an edible fat, and in cosmetics formulations.

Mango Stearine

Mango Stearine is produced by solvent fractionation or press fractionation of Mango fat. It is mainly used as an alternative fat in Cocoa Butter Equivalents and Replacers.

Palm oil

Palm oil is extracted from the flesh of the fruit of Elaeis guineensis without using a solvent. Up to 80% of the fatty acids are palmitic and oleic acid. Palm oil contains mainly POP and POO. Palm oil can be fractionated in palm olein and palm stearin. Fractionation is used to concentrate particular triacylglycerols. The fat is melted and then slowly cooled to produce crystals. These crystals are separated by filtration. Without the use of a solvent this is called dry fractionation, but sometimes solvents are used to facilitate the separation of the crystals from the liquid. Mostly hexane, acetone and 2-nitro-propane are used as solvent for wet fractionation. Acetone, a polar solvent, is preferred to hexane because of its effectiveness in removing diglycerides and other polar lipids. By further fractionation of the olein fraction, soft palm mid-fraction (PMF) is produced. The stearin fractionation of soft PMF is hard PMF and is often used in chocolate and other confectionery products.

Dhupa

Dhupa fat is obtained from the seed kernels of DHUPA also known as the Indian copal tree (Vateria indica). DHUPA trees grow mostly in moist evergreen forests in the Western Ghats of India.

Dhupa Fat is produced from Dhupa seeds after crushing in a solvent extraction plant. Refined Fat is obtained after chemical conventional refining, and this is suitable for edible uses. It is used as a component for filling, as Cocoa Butter Substitute/Extender after proper processing, as well as in yarn-sizing and manufacture of candles, soaps and other cosmetics.

CBE Production

CBEs can be obtained by blending refined fractions of exotic vegetable oils. The vegetable fats contain the same triacylglycerols but in different ratios compared to cocoa butter. No natural fat contains as much POST as cocoa butter.

For blending, certain process conditions need to be taken into account. All components should be liquid, the agitation should be effective without introducing too much air into the oil and to blend the fats homogeneously, sufficient time is required.

Palm mid-fraction (PMF), which contains high concentration of POP can sometimes be used to give a softer texture to the chocolate. Because of its high amount of StOSt, Shea fat is used to improve the heat stability of chocolate.

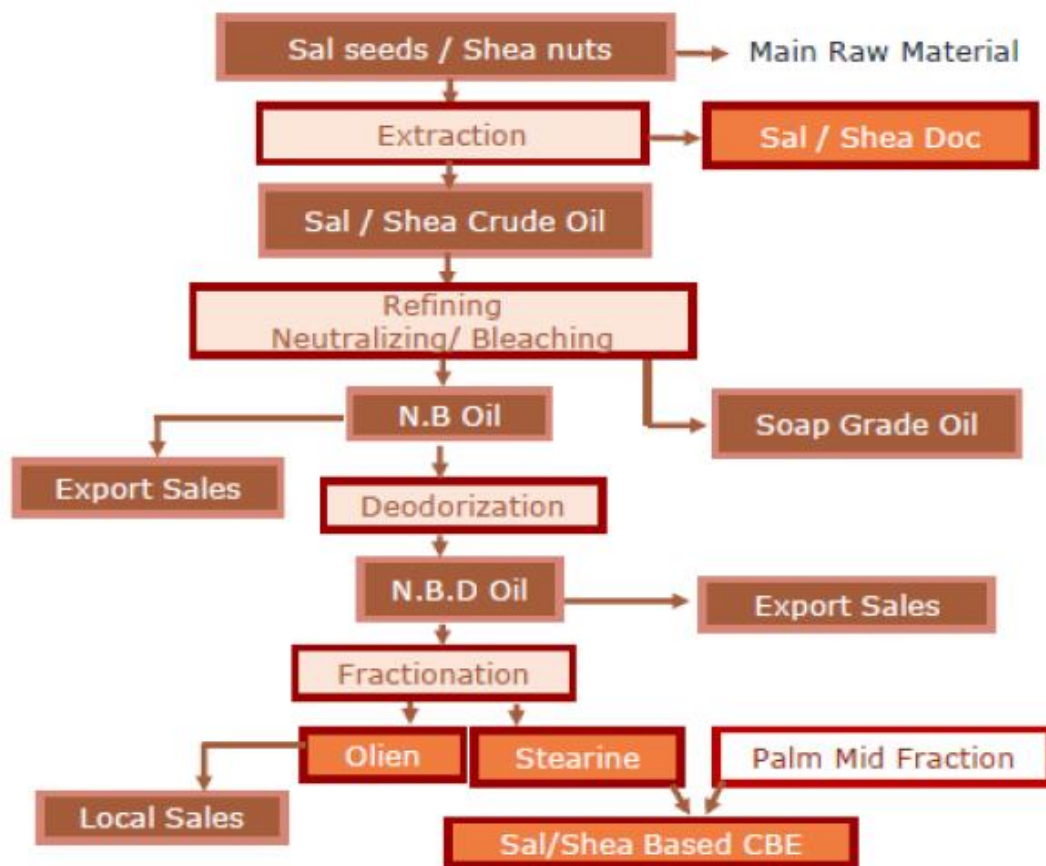

If PMF is mixed with illipe, Sal fat and Shea fat, a CBE is obtained with the same amount of SatOSat-type triacylglycerols, but less POST and more POP will be present in the mixture compared to cocoa butter. In general CBEs contain substantially more POP and less POST than CB but similar amount of StOSt. Next to blending natural fats, the specific triacylglycerols can also be produced by interesterification, chemically or enzymatically.

Chemical Synthesis

In this process a hydrogenated palm oil/soya bean blend are brought in reaction with glycerol. A mixture of 1,3/1,2-diglycerides is produced. From this mixture the 1,3-diglycerides are isolated by slow crystallization with hexane. Afterwards the palmito/stearo-diglyceride is reacted with oleyl chloride or oleic anhydride.

Enzymatic synthesis:- In enzymatic interesterification reactions, enzymes (lipases) are used which catalyse the reaction only at the 1- and 3- positions of the glycerol to generate SatOSat- triacylglycerols. The lipases used, originate from micro-organisms, e.g. Aspergillus, Mucor or Rhizopus species or Geotrichum candidum. Different vegetable fats, e.g. palm oil, high oleate sunflower oil or high oleate rapeseed oil are used as substrate in this sort of reaction.

Demand for CBE Region wise

The CBE Market grew rapidly due to combination of changes in legislation and rising cocoa butter prices, this encouraged the growth of coatings based on CBE's and a switch in higher quality filling fats towards those based on CBEs. Region wise demand for CBE is outlined below.

European Union

The EU is one of the most important CBE markets, with an annual consumption of 60,000 tons. Demand has increased in recent years along with trends in chocolate production and increased use of CBE based coating and filling fats. With increased regulations chocolate production has moved to lower cost countries within EU and the trade in chocolate product has increased. This has altered the demand for CBE's within Europe. The EU market is stable and growth is expected to come from increasing consumption along the line of population growth, with modest switching in the case of high cocoa butter prices.

EU Regulation on Cocoa Butter Equivalent

Under Directive 2000/36/EC vegetable fats other than cocoa butter are permitted up to 5% by weight in chocolate, milk chocolate, family milk chocolate, white chocolate, chocolate and chocolate equivalent. Vegetable fats permitted include palm oil, Shea, mango kernel, sal, kokum gurgi and illipe. The use of vegetable fats other than cocoa butter must be indicated on the label. All products labelled chocolate must contain less than 35% total dry cocoa solids, including at least 18% cocoa butter and no less than 14% dry non-fat cocoa solids. The directive also sets a minimum content of cocoa solids per chocolate type. For example a minimum of 25% total dry cocoa solid is required in milk chocolate.

Eastern Europe

Russia is largest CBE market in Eastern European region. CBEs were not permitted in chocolate until 2008. Prior to this, they were used as coating on filled chocolate products. In these products, CBR's and some cocoa butter were replaced by CBE's. Eastern Europe chocolate industry was hit by recession in 2009 and again between 2014 & 2016. In 2016, the signs are that the market has bottomed out and is slowly returning to growth.

CBE imports into Russia reached 10.8 thousand tons in 2016 in the first 8 months of 2017, imports dropped by 32.7% to the similar period of 2016, reaching 4.5 thousand tons. In monetary terms, the volume decreased by 29.7%.

Swedish products are leading in the segment of CBE, their share having occupied 45.2% of imports in January–August 2017. Against the similar period of 2016, there is a 9.6% decline in supply volumes in physical terms. “AarhusKarlshamn” (“AAK”) is the leader in CBE imports, having a share of 45.3% in volume terms. Its closest competitor is “IOI Group Loders Croklaan” (the Netherlands) – unlike the leader, during the first 8 months of 2017 the company increased its import volumes by 33.3%.

According to official statistics, production of CBEs, improvers and substitutes in Russia amounted to 26.7 thousand tons in January–August 2017. The bulk of production falls on Belgorod region, where production facilities by “Efko” Group, a major player of the oils and fats industry, are located.

It should be noted that imports of cocoa butter (products reviewed above serving as an alternative to it) into the country have been declining as well – in 2014, volumes of imports amounted to 35.7 thousand tons, whereas in 2016 they equaled 28.9 thousand tons. However, 19.4% growth was recorded in January–August 2017, compared to the similar period of 2016. Indonesian manufacturers are leading in cocoa butter imports; in particular, “PT Asia Cocoa Indonesia” accounted for 18% of imports in 2016, and its share in January–August 2017 equaled 16.6%.

North America

Demand in North America region is estimated around 8000 tons as CBE's are not currently permitted for the chocolate use in USA. Some US manufacturers use CBE's as a coating for filled bars for instance Hershey's has one product that contains CBE. Demand is limited to filling fats and super coatings. The US FDA has a chocolate standard identity which requires manufacturers to use approved ingredients in making chocolate, and it protects the consumer from any substitution of other ingredients. As a result, chocolate industry must obtain approval from the FDA to make any changes to the standard of identity of chocolate.

A change in legislation would potentially increase CBE demand. The potential CBE market size in the USA is 40,000 tons.

How a change in US chocolate labeling rules could benefit CBE

The effect on sal seed & Shea nuts demand

Estimated current annual US chocolate consumption is approximately 1.4 billion kilograms – based on annual per capita US chocolate consumption of 4.3kg and the US population of 323.2 million. If the US follows the EU example and allows a substitution of up to 5 percent of chocolate ingredients (in terms of volume) to be CBEs, and sal fat is used for half of the CBEs then the potential increase in sal fat demand would be 34.8 million kilograms (i.e., 2.5 percent of 1.4 billion kilograms). Alternatively, if only half of chocolate producers made the CBE substitution, the potential increase in sal fat demand would be 17.4 million kilograms. A 34.8 million kilograms increase in Shea butter demand translates to 69.6 million kilograms of Shea nut kernels, with a market value of US$34.8 million. Given the volume of annual Shea nut exports of 349.9 million kilograms, this translates into a 20 percent increase. If only half of the chocolate were to make the CBE substitution, then the estimated increase in exports would be 10 percent. If US changes their policy and allows use of CBEs up to certain extent the demand for CBEs would increase in the market.

South America

The South American CBE market is estimated to be 38,000 tons. Demand grew quickly in the early 2000s as regulations changed and chocolate consumption grew strongly with rising GDP. Brazil & Argentina are total largest chocolate markets in the region.

The Demand has since stagnated as chocolate consumption has slowed. The region is one of the most price sensitive with respect to CBE's with demand falling as lower cocoa butter prices resulted in a switch away from CBE's. Due to the slowing Brazilian economy, the consumption has also declined for confectionery consumption and in cocoa butter use.

In Argentina, standards were changed in 2012 with up to 5% CBE permitted in chocolate products. CBE use has risen to 4,000 tons per annum.

In Colombia, the law of restricting use of CBE in chocolate was changed in May 2011. They are similar as EU regulations.

East Asia

East Asia is another important regional CBE market, accounting for an estimated consumption of 28,000 tons in 2013. Both chocolate consumption and production growth are dominated by Japan. It is the major chocolate and CBE market within the East Asia region.

The main reason for relatively large size in Japan is that the Japanese standards for chocolate define the level of cocoa solids (35% or over, including at least 18% cocoa butter) but they do not define level of other ingredients, such as sugar and vegetable fat, this means that if the total fat content of plain chocolate were 30%, up to 12% may comprise CBE. In case of milk chocolate at 30% fat, this allows for 9% CBE. The relatively liberal Japanese legislation has accelerated the development of CBE's, allowing CBE manufacturers to make innovative confectionery fats that have, for example, enabled chocolate manufacturers to market winter and summer chocolates which have different melting points.

China

The Chinese government tightened regulations regarding purity of the chocolate and whereas chocolate had largely been made with cheap substitutes, the new regulations stipulate that a maximum of 5% non-cocoa butter fat by weight is allowed. This has led to the replacement of up to 5% of cheaper vegetable fats with CBE's. Chinese CBE demand grew quickly with growth of the domestic consumption.

India

In May 2017, the Food Safety and Standards Authority of India (FSSAI) allowed the use of CBEs in chocolate from January 1st, 2018. CBE in India can only be produced by using Indian Exotic Fats including Sal (Shorea robusta), Kokum gurgi (Garcinia indica), Mango kernel (Mangifera indica), Palm oil (Elaeis guineensis and Elaeis olifera), Mahua Oil (Bassia latifolia or B. longifolia), Dhupa Fat (Vateria indica), Phulwara fat (Madhuca butyracea), and Dharambe fat (Garcinia cambogia) of which Sal is the most suitable because of its quality & availability.

India is one of the most important CBE markets with a likely consumption of ~8,000 tonnes per annum in 2018 & projected go upto ~20,000 tonnes by 2022. Demand has increased in recent years along with trends in chocolate production and increased use of CBE based coating and filling fats. With revised regulations from FSSAI chocolate production has moved to lower cost within India and the manufacturing and consumption of chocolate product has increased. The Indian market is growing and is expected to come more from increasing consumption along with the line of population growth, with modest switching in the case of high cocoa butter prices.

FSSAI Notifies the Revision of Standard for Chocolate

The Food Safety and Standards (Food Products Standards and Food Additives) Fourth Amendment Regulations, 2017 have been notified to revise the standards for chocolate including addition of standards of two types of chocolate.

In the existing standards of chocolate use of vegetable fat other than cocoa butter is not permitted, however use of vegetable fat other than cocoa butter is in the international practice. Therefore in line with international practice and CODEX, the standard for chocolate has been revised to permit the use of vegetable fat other than cocoa butter up to 5% of the finished products. The source of vegetable fat and its requirements have also been prescribed in this regulation which can be used in chocolate. Further, this regulation prescribes a specific label declaration in case of chocolate having vegetable fat, so as to declare the quantity of vegetable fat used.

Standards for vegetable fats

The vegetable fats must be non-lauric vegetable fats, which are rich in symmetrical monounsaturated triglycerides of the type POP (palmitic acid -oleic acid- palmitic acid), POST (palmitic acid -oleic acid- stearic acid) and StOSt (stearic acid -oleic acid- stearic acid) miscible in any proportion with cocoa butter and are compatible with its physical properties (melting point and crystallization temperature, melting rate, need for tempering phase) obtained by the process of refining and /or fractionation, which excludes enzymatic modification of the triglyceride structure and in conformity with above standard.

Based on cocoa grindings and cocoa product imports, the Indian chocolate market has grown by 5% per annum over the last 5 years. In contrast, cocoa powder has grown by 10% per annum over the same period. With changes in regulations Chocolate manufacturers can alter recipes to include CBE's. Indian CBE demand would be in the order of 8,000 tons per annum.

Specialist chocolate stores are evolving from a marketing gimmick to a legitimate source of sales for many manufacturers. Alongside this, more niche chocolate products will be available in high-spend chocolate markets, leading to a more fragmented competitive landscape.

Negative health connotations continue to undermine chocolate sales in Western Europe and North America. There are a wealth of new snacks such as energy bars, nuts and meat snacks, which have managed to attract audiences looking for healthy alternatives to confectionery. These products are here to stay and will make it difficult for chocolate to grow, unless it can tap into local health trends.

Relative to other snacks, chocolate is beyond the price range of many markets such as India, China and the Middle East. This will not change any time soon. Players with a small presence will need to target second- and third-tier cities, where newly-formed middle classes have developed, in order to gain market share. That said, targeting these cities is fraught with risks, as witnessed by Hershey's acquisition of Shanghai Golden Monkey.

Indian Chocolate Industry

Confectionery sector in India is broadly divided into three segments – sugar-boiled confectionery (SBC), chocolates, gum-based confectionery. Of the total market, sugar confectionery dominates the market share of around 52% and chocolate and gum-based confectionery segments hold the rest.

The industry is expected to grow at a CAGR of 16% to reach INR 122 bn by FY2019 on account of an increase in middle class consumers and introduction of new forms of chocolates.

India chocolate market has seen a gradual shift of consumer preferences from sweets towards other substitutes, of which chocolates are the prominent ones. About six of the top ten global chocolate manufacturers have already entered the India chocolate market until 2015.

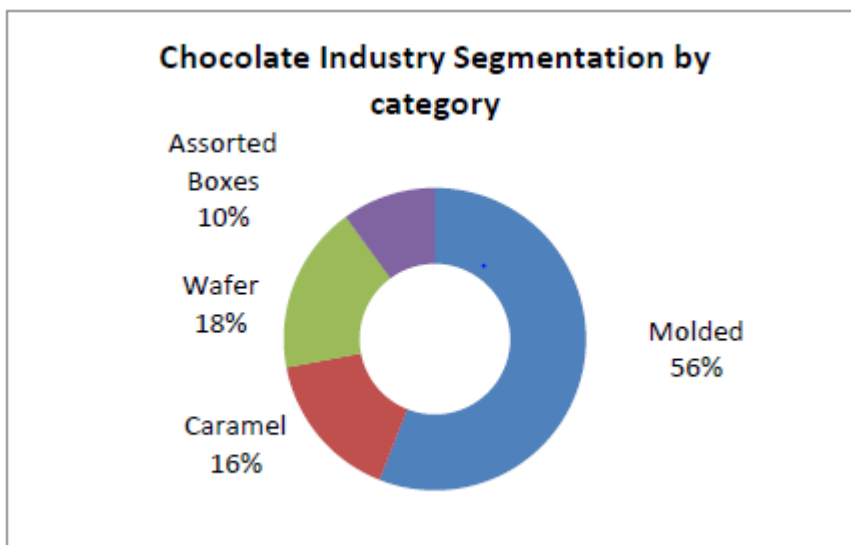

The boost in chocolate consumption in India is largely influenced by changes in consumer eating habits, preferences, lifestyle and rise in income levels. As a result, chocolates are slowly becoming a part of everyday consumption rather than occasional consumption. Recent few years have witnessed an increase in innovative promotional campaigns by chocolate companies such as 'Celebrations' by Cadbury to maximize their revenue share by making chocolates a part of everyday life. As a result, consumer preferences have also strongly shifted to chocolates as a substitute for sweets, leading to higher demand.

In India, the demand for premium chocolates is on the rise. The chocolates, which are priced above USD1.66 for a single unit of bar or tablet, fall in the category of premium segment. In 2012, the chocolates in the premium segment accounted for more than 30% of the share of the overall Indian market.

Increasing tradition of chocolate gifting and the fear of adulteration in traditional sweets is also expected to be a major driver of the industry.

Molded chocolates continue to be the favorite of the Indian market

Molded Chocolate

Molded chocolates have the highest market share due to its rich taste and ease of availability. Cadbury Dairy Milk, a form of molded chocolate has the highest share in the Indian chocolate market. It is also highly advertised, which has led to an overall increase in the size for molded chocolates.

Caramel

Caramel chocolates are preferred by fewer customers as they are priced higher than wafer chocolates. They are not advertised as much as molded chocolate and hence have lower penetration levels in India.

Wafer

The low production cost of wafer chocolates has enabled many national as well as regional companies to produce wafer chocolates. Wafer chocolates are mostly consumed by health conscious people as it contains less sugar.

Chocolate Industry Segmentation

Chocolate Industry Segmentation by category

Urban cities account for approximately 80% of the consumption of chocolates owing to a higher purchasing power and ease of availability.

Although distribution has been improving in rural India, the segment still remains largely untapped.

Smaller chocolate packets weighing less than 30 gm priced at INR 5 and INR 10, are the fastest growing segments in the rural areas.

Chocolate consumption in rural regions is expected to increase as consumers in the areas are moving from the deprived to the aspirers.

India is amongst the fastest growing chocolate markets. In 2016, the chocolate market in the country grew by 13% year-on-year. Other than India, Poland's market which grew at 2% year-on-year is the only two countries globally have shown growth in the chocolate market. India is amongst the four countries projected to have the highest chocolate market growth in the period 2015-2020. Other countries include Mexico, China and Brazil. The chocolate market in India is currently growing at a rate of 13% annually and is projected to grow by 30% by 2020.

Close to 70% of the chocolate is consumed in urban India. Factors such as poor infrastructure, lack of cold storage facilities and greater affinity for traditional Indian sweets inhibit the growth of the rural chocolate market. In recent times, chocolate consumption in the smaller towns and villages of the country has been increasing and smaller packets typically priced at INR 5 and 10 see higher consumption in these areas. Emerging trends in the sector include a growing affinity for dark and sugarless chocolate, along with growing demand for premium chocolates.

Recently, draft amendments were presented by the Food Safety and Standards Authority of India (FSSAI) to the Food and Safety Regulations for permitting the use of vegetable fats in chocolates. Chocolates containing vegetable oil are less likely to lose their shape and texture that could otherwise be altered by India's sunny and humid climate, i.e. vegetable oil can increase chocolate's melting point.

The draft amendments insist that inclusion of vegetable fats that are not cocoa butter and that do not exceed 5% of the final product can be allowed in chocolates. The changes are likely to broaden the product range and boost the market as popular European chocolate brands that use vegetable oil will be able to enter the Indian markets.

In order to target the consumers of a different age group, the chocolate manufacturing companies have started introducing different variants of chocolates in the market. As a result, so many variants of chocolates such as sugar free, low calorie, energy bars and vegetarian chocolates have now become available in stores and supermarkets to target different consumer segments.

Demand Drivers of chocolate industry:

Increase in disposable income

Increase in disposable income will lead to an increase in the standard of living and expenditure. Growth of the chocolate industry directly depends on the increase in per capita income. According to the World Bank, purchasing power of Indian consumers is expected to triple in the next 10 years.

According to the McKinsey Global Institute, rise in consumption across higher income levels (Seekers, Strivers and Globals) will be the driving factor behind the growth in consumption in India. Consumers in these income brackets are the ones who consume chocolates. Thus, growth of the chocolate industry directly depends on the growth of this consumer segment.

The urban and semi-urban market is also witnessing consumers' propensity to spend more on quality products.

Increase in chocolate gifting

Tradition of gifting sweets during festivals and the shift in customer preference from mithai to chocolates will lead to an increase in chocolate sales. A targeted promotional campaign by chocolate companies during the festival period over the last decade has shifted consumers' preference of gifting. Seasonal launches of chocolates, for the purpose of gifting, has proved to be successful across the market as there was a 300% increase in seasonal launches between 2008 and 2011. These seasonal launches accounted for 7% of total new product launches in 2011 from only 2% in 2008.

Increase in sales of dark chocolates

Increasing awareness of consumers with regards to the health benefits of dark chocolates is expected to drive sales of chocolates in the country. People are also slowly getting accustomed to the taste of dark chocolate.

Chocolate manufacturers are bringing about innovation not only in their products, but also in their style of business, contributing to the overall development and increase in market for chocolates in India.

Innovation in chocolate marketing

Volatility in cocoa prices have a direct impact on the profit margins and has been a major discouraging factor, eroding the profit margins of chocolate manufacturers. Majority of rural India is still untapped due to issues such as poor transport and communication infrastructure, inadequate storage, etc.

The Indian chocolate market has been witnessing tremendous growth in terms of value as well as volume thanks to modernization. The Indian chocolate industry has registered a growth of 15% per annum in recent years and is projected to grow even at a higher rate in future. The rising per capita income and gifting culture in the country has spruced up the Indian chocolate industry. It is expected that India chocolate industry will be growing at the CAGR 23% by volume between the years 2013-2018 and reach at 3,41,609 Tons. The dark chocolates are expected to account for the larger market share when compared to milk and white chocolates in the coming years. Increased per capita consumption and a liking for international brands have helped the industry to register huge growth rates. The Indian chocolates sales globally have witnessed a decline in the last few years due to 2009 economic crisis. However, the chocolate market has shown an upward trend since late 2010 with the improvement in the economy. It is forecasted that Indian chocolate market will reach USD 3.2 Billion revenues by 2018 due to increasing gifting culture in the country and increase in the income bracket which will fuel the demand for chocolate products in India. India chocolate market is divided into four segments where Bars chocolate segment accounts for maximum share of 36%. However, the demand for assorted chocolates is expected to increase in the coming years on account of festive-gifting.

Industry Attractiveness

Porter's analysis of chocolate industry in India:

Market Potential	The chocolate industry stands at INR 58bn in FY 2014 and is expected to touch INR 122bn by FY2019. There is a huge untapped market for chocolates in the country as the per capita consumption in India is much lower than that of other countries or even the global average.
Growth Rate	Estimates suggest that Demand for chocolate will grow at a CAGR of 16% over the next five years, mainly due to the increase in disposable income and the chocolate gifting trend.,
Competitiveness	National players like Cadbury and Nestlé hold ~80% share in the country's chocolate market. Additionally, the entry of foreign manufacturers like Ferrero and Mars has further intensified the competition in the industry, making it difficult for domestic players to survive.

2. Cosmetic Industry

In 2016, the global cosmetic market grew an estimated of four percent in comparison to the previous year. Skincare, hair care, make-up, perfumes, toiletries and deodorants, and oral cosmetics are the main product categories of the cosmetic market. Skincare was the leading category, accounting for about 36 percent of the global market. Hair care products made up a further 23 percent, while make-up accounted for 18.2 percent in 2016. Skin care has been forecast to remain the most profitable product category, as its market value is projected to grow by 20.1 billion U.S. dollars between 2014 and 2019. As of 2016, Asia and Oceania was the industry leader, accounting for approximately 40 percent of the global market. Between 2016 and 2021, the Asia Pacific mass beauty market is projected to grow by nearly 14.9 billion U.S. dollars in sales.

In recent years, consumers have been spending higher levels of disposable income on cosmetics than they had in the past. Unfortunately, the global financial crisis has put a damper on the market and during those years, more affordably priced merchandise and do it yourself at home products were key in the beauty market. However, in recent years as Generation Y has really entered the job market, they have become a big driver of the cosmetics market; especially in the United States. The United States is the biggest cosmetic market in the world, with estimated total revenue of about 62.46 billion U.S. dollars and employing about 63,816 people by 2016.

Trending Demand for Low-Fat Content Products to Drive Cocoa Butter Equivalent Sales

Segmentation of the CBE market takes place based on its applications into different industries inclusive of medicinal, food, personal care and cosmetics and others. The market demand for CBE is increasing in personal care and cosmetics industry because of its moisturizing, inflammatory and skin care properties. CBE and oil that has low-fat content is a substitute for cocoa and palm oil which comparatively has high-fat contents and therefore in the growing food industry where demand for low-fat content products is trending, Shea butter & Sal butter is a perfect example. Based on the processing and purity, commercial CBE is made available in the market as grade A, B, C, D & E. Unrefined or raw, Refined, Extracted with solvents or highly refined, Lowest pure CBE.

The Indian cosmetics industry is majorly categorized into skin care, hair care, oral care, fragrances, and colour cosmetics segments. It currently has an overall market standing of USD 6.5 billion and is expected to grow to ~ USD 20bn by 2025 with a CAGR of 25%. In comparison, the global cosmetics market is growing steadily at 4.3% CAGR and will reach ~USD 450 billion 2025. By 2025, India will constitute 5% of the total global cosmetics market and become one of the top 5 global markets by revenue.

With the improving purchasing power, demand for enhanced products and increasing image consciousness of the Indian clientele, many international brands started establishing footprints in India – among them are Mac Cosmetics, Avon, Estée.

By 2020, a pool of luxury brands such as Labiocos, Bodyography, and Victoria secret are expected to clamour for the Indian consumer wallet and mindshare. Social media & favourable demographics are playing an important role in spreading awareness about cosmetics products and developing fashion consciousness, not only in metros but also in tier-1 & 2 cities. This is a golden opportunity for many cosmetics companies to expand beyond the top-8 cities and generate handsome revenue from all across the country.

Coupled with multiple other factors, herbal cosmetics products are driving growth due to increasing adoption, and the segment alone is expected to grow at 15%, as people become more aware of the possible perils in consistently using chemical formulations switch to ‘safer’ herbal and Ayurvedic products like Himalaya, Biotique, Dabur, Lotus, Patanjali, etc.

Many Indian & international brands have been trying to seize the established player position in this segment by launching multiple products across categories. With rising demand, luxury and super luxury brands such as Shahnaz Hussain demand for CBE would also increase.

Essentials and Kama Ayurveda have also launched products in this space.

The herbal brands are not only catering to the domestic market but also expanding to overseas market - the export recorded for FY 2015-16 was approximately USD 0.093mn and is expected to grow at a 20% CAGR.

Demand drivers of cosmetics industry

Alternative channel: online cosmetics market:

With the increasing internet penetration, online market has seen a rapid growth in last 3-4 years, along with horizontal players like Flipkart, Amazon adding this category as a key focus area. The online cosmetics market, valued at USD 50 Mn, is 2% of the total Indian cosmetics market. This category has attracted a few vertical specialists like Nykaa, Purpille, etc. who are riding on increasing e-tailing growth and vying for a significant pie in online cosmetics space. Nykaa, a vertical online market place started in 2012, offers more than 600 brands in both offline and online stores. It recorded a total sale of USD 43 million in 2016, out of which offline stores contribute 5%. Nykaa, as part of its future expansion strategy, plans to increase its offline footprint by establishing 35 stores pan-India and targets a yearly sale of over USD 155 mn by 2025.

Market share category wise and channel split

The split to be seen in the Indian cosmetics market as per category and revenue is as follows. Hair care products, with market leader Marico, are leading with the share of USD 3 bn. This is followed by oral care products, led by Colgate Palmolive, with market share USD 1.74 bn. Skin care products, in which HUL leads, have a slice of USD 1.63 billion, followed by fragrances product, led by Vini Cosmetics, with USD 0.47 billion. Lastly, color cosmetics, led by HUL again, has a market share of USD 0.16 billion.

The Indian cosmetics industry caters to the population by two channels - organized and unorganized. Currently, the organized market constitutes only 25% of the total pie, out of which online stores has 2% market share. They consist of EBOs, MBOs, LSF, direct selling channels etc., which offer premium to luxury brands. The unorganized market, in contrast, makes up 75% of the total pie, and majorly deals with mass market positioned products from brand like Lakme, L'Oreal, Fair & Lovely etc.

Business opportunity for foreign brands and online players

With the compelling demand for branded products, the Indian cosmetics industry has opened up the market to foreign brands for investment. On a related line, it also throws an opportunity for online players to establish the vertical marketplace and increase customer touch points to better cater to the latter's needs.

DEMAND DRIVERS FOR THE INDUSTRY

Chocolate Demand influences demand for CBE

Demand for chocolate is strongly driven by per capita income with consumption rising as income rise. Chocolate consumption is linked to per capita incomes, with consumption rising as income rise. The demand for chocolate can be split between mature markets- characterized by high per capita incomes.

For Mature markets, Chocolate consumption growth is limited and in line with population growth. Growth in CBE demand is therefore more dependent upon the substitution with cocoa butter (as can occur with high cocoa butter prices and regulation/legislation changes) than chocolate market per se.

Chocolate is considered as a mass consumer product in Western countries like Switzerland, UK, Germany, etc. whereas it is still considered a luxury product in Asian countries like China and India.

For Emerging markets, consumption is fast, but is also influenced by changes in GDP. Thus rising GDP can lead to strong increase in chocolate consumption while falling GDP levels can lead to a fall in confectionery consumption or substitution between chocolate & alternative, cheaper confectionery products. This often means a switch from cocoa butter to cocoa powder based products.

Cocoa Butter Prices

Chocolate typically contains about 20 percent cocoa butter, so confectioners in Asia and Europe looking to save money can replace about a quarter of the cocoa butter with something else.

The cocoa butter ratio is determined by chocolate demand. When the demand for cocoa butter outstrips supply, manufacturers look for alternative ingredients to substitute their product in order to maintain the profit margins.

Chocolate makers in the fast-growing Asian market are replacing a bigger proportion of cocoa butter, which gives confectionery its melt-in-the-mouth texture, with cheaper palm oil-based alternatives. Cocoa butter prices jumped 28 percent this year to as high as $8,200 a tonne on strong demand and tight supply after global grinders cut processing to reduce inventory.

Palm oil-based butter mimics the taste of cocoa butter but is much cheaper. Higher demand for butter alternatives, known as cocoa butter equivalent (CBE), has pushed prices up by about 10 percent to $3,300 a tonne in the past year, but this is still more than $4,000 below the price of butter from cocoa beans.

Fall in cocoa butter prices has a direct impact on its consumption by user industry, As and when prices of Cocoa butter start rising, chocolate manufacturer, cosmetic companies switch to CBE's to lower their production costs.

Change in Regulations in India

FSSAI has revised the standards for use of vegetable fat in chocolates. In the existing standards the use of vegetables fats was not permitted in chocolates with the exception of cocoa butter. FSSAI has now permitted the use of other vegetable fats, besides cocoa butter in chocolates in keeping with international practices and CODEX. The use of vegetable fat must not exceed the limit of 5% in the finished product. The FBOs must prescribe to the source of the vegetable fat for use in chocolates as is given in the regulation.

With changes in regulations Chocolate manufacturers can alter recipes to include CBE's, Indian CBE demand would be in the order of 8,000 tons per annum.

CHALLENGES FOR CBE SECTOR

Restricted Regulations

The degree of CBE acceptance varies country to country. If in future regulations are further relaxed/ made more liberal for cocoa butter equivalents, it will open up the market for CBE manifold.

Taste

In some of the countries and regions, food manufacturers are reluctant to use cocoa butter alternatives in fear of consumer backlash. In Europe, chocolate manufacturers are keen on producing confectioneries and chocolates in conventional method by using actual cocoa butter. These trends in this region may hinder the growth of cocoa butter alternatives market. Moreover, different regulations related to food safety and quality maintenance may act as challenges for the cocoa butter alternatives market. However, consumer awareness and demand for cocoa flavored and cost effective, processed confectioneries along with increasing usage of cosmetics and other personal care products across emerging countries of developing nations are some of the prime opportunities in the cocoa butter alternatives market.

Cocoa Butter Equivalent mimics the taste of cocoa butter and is much cheaper. However since people in general, especially chocolate lovers are used to taste of chocolate with CB as main ingredient Confectioners in Asia and Europe are allowed to add cocoa butter equivalent to chocolate, but hold the maximum amount at 5 percent since a higher content can alter the taste and put off customers. In the United States, products using butter alternatives cannot be labeled "chocolate".

COMPETITIVE LANDSCAPE

Followings are the major players in manufacturing of CBE products and which could be considered as competitors to each other due to its similar nature of business:

1. Manorama Industries Limited.
2. AAK Kamani
3. Wilmar International.
4. 3F Industries

OVERVIEW

Incorporated in 2005, our Company Manorama Industries Limited (“Manorama” or “Company” or “MIL”) is engaged in manufacturing, processing and supply of exotic and specialty fats & oils like Sal butter, Sal fat, Sal oil, Sal Stearine, Sal olein, Mango butter, Mango fat, Mango oil, Mango Stearine, Kokum butter, Kokum oil, Mowrah fat, and several value added tailor made products. Currently, we are among the leading manufacturers of Sal Oils and Stearine globally with an annual production of 3,000-4,000 tonnes. Globally, we are amongst the top 10 manufacturers of Stearine. [Source: CARE Industry Report]. As early as the 1970s, our Group had made its mark on global Oils and Fats industry with the Netherlands Government publishing special features on the Indian entrepreneur in leading Dutch newspapers publicizing the vast potential of Indian exotic fats.

We are majorly catering to chocolate and cosmetic industry. Our product stearine which is made out of sal or mango seeds is one of the key ingredients in the manufacturing of Cocoa Butter Equivalents (CBE), which has a demand in the Chocolate Industry. Further our product olein is generally demanded in cosmetic industry. Our products also serve as a non-palm oil ingredient as there is movement against usage of palm oil in many western countries. Further pursuant to the enactment of recent notification F. No. Stds /SCSS&H/ Notification (02)/FSSAI-2016 dated May 17th, 2017, from 1st Jan 2018, India has allowed 5% CBE produced from Indian exotic fats to be used in manufacturing of chocolates. The relaxation is not applicable for CBE produced out of imported Shea Stearine. This has been a major positive development for the Company. As the chocolate industry is growing rapidly in India, the demand for CBE should increase rapidly, which can be catered to by CBE produced from Sal, Mango, Kokum, Mahua, Phulwara, & Dhupa, which are Indian exotic fats and considering our Company has already been dealing in such ingredients and is proposing to set up an integrated facility for manufacturing of CBE at Raipur, the said notification should boost our revenue from operations and financial results. We have also entered into an agreement with one of the leading chocolate manufacturers for supply of CBE for a period of two year from 2018. As on date of the Prospectus, we have an order book to supply CBE worth Rs. 7680.00 lakhs over a period of two years from April, 2018.

Our key source of raw material is Sal seeds which are sourced from tribals living in Sal forests in Chhattisgarh, Jharkhand, Orissa & parts of Madhya Pradesh. The seeds start falling down during month of May and June and tribals collect them and bring them to the village centres. Manorama has been buying these seeds from tribals for many years and has an established network in more than 18,000 villages in the states of Chhattisgarh, Jharkhand, Orissa, Madhya Pradesh, etc. We also procure raw materials from forest departments and local markets if required.

Along with Sal Seeds, tribals also bring other forest and agri produced materials like rice, paddy, maize, etc. and we have been buying them in order to facilitate the tribals for ease of doing business and serving as a one point vendor for all of their products. We harboured the ambition of becoming Agro-Product trading house along with manufacturing. However, the trading business could not yield results as envisaged by our management. Though we have implemented better operational controls and systems, as a part of our future business strategy, our Company may not pursue the trading business.

Our manufacturing process can be divided into two parts i.e. i) Solvent extraction and pre-processing and ii) Refining and fractionation. We outsource solvent extraction and pre-processing activity to third parties at Chhatisgarh who conduct such processes under the supervision and guidance of our operations team. As on the date of the Prospectus, we have entered into agreements with 3 parties to carry out such activities on solvent extraction on our behalf. The second part i.e refining and fractionation process is carried out at our manufacturing facility situated at Nagpur. This facility has been registered by Intertek as conforming to the requirements of EFfCI GMP Guide for Cosmetic Ingredients, including the certification standard and scheme for GMP for Cosmetic Ingredients- Revision 2012. It also meets the requirements laid down by OneCert International Organic Standards (EU Equivalent), National Programme for Organic Production (India), National Organic Programme technical standards (USA) and India's National Programme for Organic Production Standards. Our Company is in the process of setting up an integrated manufacturing facility at Raipur with a capacity of around 11,250 tonnes p.a. of speciality fats and CBE; which shall enable us to carry out the entire manufacturing operations under one roof. For details, please refer the chapter titled "Objects of the Issue" beginning on page 104 of the Prospectus.

OUR COMPETITIVE STRENGTHS

1. Our Raw Material Suppliers Network

The major raw materials used in our manufacturing process are sal seeds and mango kernels. During the year ended March 31, 2018, we have consumed 26, 772 mt p.a. of sal seeds and 5,972 mt p.a. of mango kernels in our manufacturing process. Sal Seeds are normally available in the month of May till July and are picked up by tribals staying in these forests who brings them to Mandis or local markets. We have established strong network of more than 18,000 collection centres operational and spread over the regions of Chhattisgarh, Odisha, Jharkhand, Madhya Pradesh, etc. During the year ended March 31, 2018, we had relationships with approximately 7.8 mn tribals vendors across all the sal forest producing states and these centers have been operating for more than decade with Manorama Industries Ltd. With the advent of technology and banking system, we are now able to reach the last mile much more effectively ensuring that the tribals get the immediate payment while we get a better costing. All our customers being International MNCs are sensitive about sustainability and fair trade practices and they conduct regular audits on our procurement systems. We have been awarded by Pujya Swami Ramdev Baba for Excellence in CSR & Sustainable Fair Trade Sourcing, at The Globoil India 2017 for our work in the procurement from Tribals. We also procure raw materials from forest departments and local markets if required.

With the government of India allowing use of CBE upto 5% with effect from January 1, 2018 in manufacture of chocolates, we envisage a growth in our domestic operations and our marketing team has already taken initiatives in this directions.

BUSINESS STRATEGY

1. Setting up of new state of the art manufacturing facility

At present, we are operating through a distributed set up with processes and warehouses at multiple locations including Nagpur in Maharashtra, Raipur and other parts in Chhattisgarh. This is leading to increased logistics cost & loss on account of wastages. Hence, our Company plans to set up an integrated state of the art manufacturing plant at Raipur where, all processes including crushing, extraction, refining, fractionation & interstification will take place at one location. Further such facility shall have higher production capacity so as to cater to larger customer demands. The current combined installed production capacity is proposed to be enhanced from 4,500 mt p.a. to 11,250 mt p.a. Further an integrated manufacturing facility will not only result in reduced logistics costs but also shall improve the operational efficiency of the Company. This new integrated plant will predominantly process Indian exotic tree borne seeds like Sal, Mango, Dhupa etc. to service the CBE demand within India & globally. Largely the global CBE demand is being catered to by shea nuts which are primarily found in West Africa, we aim to manufacture CBE even through the use of shea nuts to the tune of 20%-25% in order to service the global needs. For details, please refer to the chapter titled “Objects of the Issue” beginning on page 104 of the Prospectus.

2. Yield & Quality Improvement – Dry Fractionation vs Solvent (Wet) Fractionation

Currently, the company follows a process of dry fractionation which is manual in nature resulting in being labour intensive and time consuming. In this process, at times some of the stearine mixes up with the oleine component which is one of the major drawbacks leading to inefficiency in production. The oleine component contains 35% stearine which needs to undergo re-fractionation, resulting in a lower yield and absorbing higher costs. With the proposed set up of the new integrated manufacturing facility, the Company shall follow a solvent fractionation process (Acetone) – which is much more sophisticated & modern. The in house fractionation of NBD Oil will increase the yield recovery of stearine & oleine. The process ensures complete separation of stearine from oleine. Further such process will result in lesser manual intervention and hence lead to a faster production and the stearine produced shall be of superior quality leading to lower consumption of stearine required in making CBE. The cost of fractionation through this process will also be lower with improved efficiencies and improved realisation on account of higher volume recovery of stearine. As per technical officers, wet fractionation should result in 90% efficiency as compared to the current dry fractionation of 60%.

3. Increase focus on production of CBE

Globally, the chocolate definition contains a certain quantity of cocoa butter made from cocoa beans. Cocoa Beans are a natural product, the prices of which are usually high and volatile in nature. Certain other natural products such as Shea nuts, Sal Seeds, Mango Kernel, Kokam have fats which match exactly in chemical and physical properties of cocoa butter. Hence, CBE which is made out of these other products is allowed to be used in the making of chocolates along with cocoa butter and still qualifies for the definition of chocolate. From 1st Jan 2018, India has allowed 5% CBE produced from Indian exotic fats to be used for manufacture of chocolates. The relaxation is not applicable for CBE produced out of imported shea stearine. This has been a major positive development for the Company. India is one of the most important CBE markets with a likely increasing consumption. We believe that the demand has increased in recent years along with trends in chocolate production and increased use of CBE based coating and filling fats. With revised regulations from FSSAI, chocolate production should move to lower cost within India and the manufacturing and consumption of chocolate product should increase. [Source: Gazette of India Notification F. No. Stds /SCSS&H/ Notification (02)/FSSAI-2016 dated May 17th, 2017].

Our Company has largely been focused on manufacturing of stearine, an intermediate product, which needs to be mixed with Palm Mid Fraction to obtain CBE. However, recently, the Company had started manufacturing CBE albeit in a small proportion. Once we set up our proposed integrated manufacturing facility, we aim to focus on manufacture of CBE in a higher proportion as compared to manufacture of stearine with a view to grow our business and results of operations. CBE finds usage not only in chocolates but other confectionery items as well. Hotels, Bakeries etc have many products where CBE could be used. Being one of the leading organised player in India, our Company aims to command a substantial share in this fragmented market segment, thereby leading to an increased demand of CBE at an attractive price point.

4. Capitalise on growing demand of domestic chocolate & cosmetic industry

The Indian chocolate industry is expected to grow at a CAGR of 16% to reach INR 122 bn by FY2019 on account of an increase in middle class consumers and introduction of new forms of chocolates. The boost in chocolate consumption in India is largely influenced by changes in consumer eating habits, preferences, lifestyle and rise in income levels. India is amongst the fastest growing chocolate markets. In 2016, the chocolate market in the country grew by 13% year-on-year. Other than India, Poland's market which grew at 2% year-on-year is the only two countries globally have shown growth in the chocolate market. India is amongst the four countries projected to have the highest chocolate market growth in the period 2015-2020. Other countries include Mexico, China and Brazil. The chocolate market in India is currently growing at a rate of 13% annually and is projected to grow by 30% by 2020. Also the Indian cosmetics industry is majorly categorized into skin care, hair care, oral care, fragrances, and colour cosmetics segments. It currently has an overall market standing of USD 6.5 billion and is expected to grow to USD 20 bn by 2025 with a CAGR of 25%. In comparison, the global cosmetics market is growing steadily at 4.3% CAGR and will reach USD 450 billion 2025. By 2025, India will constitute 5% of the total global cosmetics market and become one of the top 5 global markets by revenue. [Source: CARE Industry Report]. For details including challenges that such industry faces, please refer to the chapter titled "Our Industry" beginning on page 122 of the Prospectus. Since we are majorly catering to the above industries with our manufactured products, we aim to increase our domestic presence by catering to the growing demand of such industries.

5. Certification of Fair Trade Practices and Sustainability

Given that our Company services the requirements of large MNCs who have stringent norms for the products that they sell, we follow all necessary process which comply with their individual respective needs. We plan to initiate formal steps to get the requisite certifications as per the global standards in the areas of Sustainability and Fair Trade Practices. This will enable our Company to further improve its positioning in this segment and will lead to a further cementing of its relationships with the global MNCs.

OUR PRODUCT RANGE

At present, we are engaged in manufacturing, processing and supply of exotic and specialty fats & oils like Sal butter, Sal fat, Sal oil, Sal Stearine, Sal olein, Mango butter, Mango fat, Mango oil, Mango Stearine, Kokum butter, Kokum oil, Mowrah fat, and several value added tailor made products. Further we also trade in agro based commodities such as rice, maize, soya doc, etc. For the year ended March 31, 2018, our revenue from manufacturing and trading operations constituted 27.83% and 71.78% respectively of our total revenue from operations. Similarly for the year ended March 31, 2017 our revenue from manufacturing and trading operations constituted 39.23% and 60.24% respectively of our then total revenue from operations.

Our key range of manufactured products include:

Chocolate Industry

Name of the product	Graphic representation	Description
Cocoa Based Equivalents		CBEs are vegetable fats used both for food and cosmetics applications. CBEs include Shea, Sal and other common butters such as illipe, kokum, mowrah, mango and palm butters. Physical and Chemical Properties of CBE is similar to Cocoa Butter. Palm and Shea oil/ Sal Oil are frequently used as a low cost alternative to cocoa butter. Both have no maximum amount of fat that they can be mixed with, which helps them be versatile in chocolate, candies and other sweet treats. We have recently, started manufacturing

		CBE albeit in a small proportion. Once we set up our proposed integrated manufacturing facility, we aim to focus on manufacture of CBE in a higher proportion as compared to manufacture of stearine with a view to grow our business and results of operations.
Sal Fat		Sal seeds possess a fat content of 12% to 14%. The fat is extracted in a Solvent Extraction Plant in the presence of hexane. The extracted Sal oil is refined using conventional refining methods. For Sal the market is now open to all states & free trade in India. Sal is now denationalized in all the states like Chhattisgarh, Odisha, Madhya Pradesh and Jharkhand.
Sal Stearine		Sal Stearine is a fractionated product of Sal Fat produced by physical press fractional or by Solvent Fractionation Process. The stearine thus obtained is 56% to 70% of the Sal Fat taken initially. The Stearine is harder than cocoa butter and can thus be used easily as a substitute in CBE or CBR, which is why it is also used in the manufacture of plain chocolates

Name of the product	Graphic representation	Description
Mango olein		Mango Olein is similar to Mango Butter. However, compared to the butter, Mango Olein contains a higher level of Oleic Acid and the essential fatty acid. In addition, Mango Olein contains potent antioxidant polyphenols, phytosterols and triterpenes making it valuable when formulating products to moisturize and heal dry, cracked skin and facilitate skin cell renewal. This product provides superior softening, spreadability, and conditioning to the skin and hair.
Sal olein		When Sal Fat is fractionated, Sal Oleine is obtained. Sal Oleine is liquid at room temperature, with a certain part of it – forming solid lumps. Sal Oleine is effective as an emollient, which is why it is used in skin care products and other cosmetics. Sal Oleine has zero transfat and it is used widely in Vanaspati (Vegetable fats) and is also being used in Ice Cream and Bakery Products.

Mango Butter		It is obtained from Mango seeds. It nourishes the skin rash, eczema, insect bites and poison ivy, providing it with various fatty acids and helps to keep it soft and supple.
Kokum Butter		It is obtained from kokum seeds, one of the most balanced of all the botanicals. It is specifically used in body lotions, creams and butter blends.
Sal Butter		It is high in stearic and oleic acids and has a few poly unsaturated fatty acids. Sal butter is often used to enhance spread ability of creams, lotions and cosmetics foundation
Organic castor oil		Castor oil has a unique structure. The triglyceride has up to 85 – 90 % of the so-called ricinoleic acid (12-hydroxy-oleic acid), which is responsible for the chemical, physical and physiological properties. Castor oil is non-drying; in contrast to other vegetable and animal oils or fats, it is soluble in alcohol and has a viscosity, which is 20 times as high. Chemical reactions with the ester groups, the double bonding and the hydroxyl groups allow a wide range of possibilities to produce various derivatives from castor oil.

Deoiled meals

Name of the product	Graphic representation	Description
Sal meal		Sal Meal contains up to 9% Protein and also has calorific value of around 3900 K/Cal. It is used as a feed for the cattle and is used as a raw material in power plants for burning purpose. Sal meal is also used in Plywood industry as an ingredient.
Mango kernel meal		Mango Meal contains up to 9-10% protein and around 60% carbohydrates. It is used mainly as cattle feed and by breweries to make alcohol.

Our key range of traded products includes agro based products like rice, de-oiled rice bran (DORB), maize, rapeseed doc, soya doc, etc. However going forward, our Company may not pursue trading activities.

OUR MANUFACTURING PROCESS

The manufacturing process is based on Extraction, Refining, Fractionation and Blending. The physical prepressing, solvent extraction and Supercritical process do extraction process depending on the quality of the seeds. Refining is done by conventional chemical and physical process. For the organic refining, the process is somewhat different and is established in this plant. Fractionation process is somewhat different and typical in this project. Two types of fractionation are included in this project. Solvent fractionation process where Acetone is used as a solvent is somewhat difficult and special technology involved. Physical fractionation is also included in this project for the palm and some organic processing. Blending is the complete confidential and based on R&D lab composition basis where the two critical components are mixed at a certain concentration to produce CBE products. Interesterification and some typical refining process to produce the low MPCD and GE and pesticide free product is included in this project. CBE and confectionery based specialty oils and fats are to be produced in this project. This project process is somewhat special for the specially oil production and not a common plant. The Company plans to use the Acetone Fractionation process for separating the Stearins from the Olefins. The Stearin is solid and the Olein is the liquid part. In order to understand the advantage of the Acetone process and to appreciate how this process builds in flexibility for the Company, one must have a look at the different types of fractionation.

- Dry Fractionation – This is a simple technique and a low cost process. As solids and liquids are separated in this method by a filter or a press. In this process, the quality of Stearin is not pure as some part of the Olein is retained with the Stearin. Hence the quality in terms of solid fat content (SFC) is lower. This is not desirable in a CBE manufacture since CBE is to be used in foods and here a high purity is a basic requirement. The inventory and process cost is very low.
- Solvent Fractionation – In solvent fractionation, we use a solvent to dissolve one of the components and remove it from the other before recovering it for use. Since the solvent is used, we are able to ensure that there is virtually no residual fraction left in either compound. Here the separation of Stearin and Olein is much more precise. In this method, we can use two types of solvents i.e. non-polar (hexane) and polar (acetone). When the quality of oil is good, it has a lower percentage of polar material (DG and MG) in it. Here, if we use a non-polar solvent (Hexane) for fractionation the recovery is good. But when the quality of oil is bad or not very good then the content of polar material (DG or MG) is high hence during the fractionation by the non-polar solvent, the DG and MG are not removed from the Stearin completely. As a result, the Stearin quality is poor in terms of cooling curve, SFC.

Further by using the processes of interesterification, hydrogenation and blending the Stearin and Olein are converted into CBE and specialty fats.

Oilseed prepressing

- Bean Drying - adjustment of feedstock moisture in feed silos
- Aspiration and Cleaning - removal of chaff and waste material
- Flaking and Pressing - crushing of the oilseed to reduce size and, in some cases, releasing some oil

Solvent Extraction

- Extraction - Dissolution of vegetable oil from the solid seed matrix, typically with hexane
- Evaporation - Removal of water and hexane from the crude oil under vacuum
- Flake desolventizing and Toasting - evaporation of the hexane from spent flakes, and heat
- treatment of flakes to improve nutritional characteristics
- Solvent-Water Separation - phase separation followed by polishing of waste water
- Air Scrubbing - Solvent scrubbing to remove organics from reject air streams
- Steam Generation - treatment and boiling of process water using multiple fuel sources
- Cooling Towers - treatment and cooling of water, rejecting heat to air by evaporation.
- Oil seeds are procured either from Forest Dept/local markets (Mandi) or from farmers/tribals and brought to the factory by trucks. The sample of seed is drawn for laboratory analysis. The seed that meets the specification is accepted. The seed that does not meet the specification is rejected and sent back to the vendors. The approved seed is unloaded into a vibrating screen where impurities such as dust, soil, husk, mud balls and other foreign matters are separated.
- The cleaned seed is sent for storage in storage silos.
- One day's requirement of seed is drawn from the storage silo or directly from vibratory screen section into a day silo. From day silo, the seed is taken into a cracker (through the secondary cleaner and de-stoner, if required). The seed is cracked in the cracker and then fed to the cooker. The cracked seed is cooked in the cooker in controlled conditions with the help of direct and indirect steam. The cooked seed is then taken to the flaker where flakes are made. The flakes are then dried in the dryer with the help of hot air and excess moisture is removed. The dried Flakes are fed to the solvent extraction plant (SEP).
- The flakes received in the SEP are first fed to the extractor where oil is extracted with the help of hexane as solvent. The extracted oil mixed with hexane (called miscella) is sent to the distillation unit where the solvent hexane is recovered. The hexane free oil (crude oil) is sent for storage (or directly) for refining.
- The wet de-oiled cake (DOC) containing hexane from the extractor is sent to desolventisation cum toaster-cum-dryer-cum-cooler (DTDC) for hexane recovery with the help of direct and indirect steam. The recovered hexane mixed with steam is passed through the condenser where it is condensed. The condensate passes through solvent-water separator where hexane is separated and recovered and recycled in the process. The hexane free de-oiled cake from DTDC is sent to DOC Storage for further packing.

Our manufacturing process starts with procurement of raw materials i.e. Sal seeds and Mango kernels. Our Company procures raw material from Forest department/ local markets or directly from tribals. The sample seeds are drawn for laboratory analysis and seeds that meet the required specification are accepted and those that do not meet the specification are rejected and sent back to vendors. The approved seed is unloaded into a vibrating screen where impurities such as dust, soil, husk, mud balls and other foreign matters are separated. The cleaned seed is sent for storage in storage silos.

The hexane free de-oiled cake from DTDC is sent to DOC Storage for further packing. The crude oil is then sent in refinery for further process.

The crude oil is received in refinery in the degumming and neutralization section, where gums and free fatty acid (FFA) are removed and neutral oil is obtained. The neutral oil is then sent to bleaching section for color removal. The bleached oil is then deodorized in the de-odorizer. The de-odorized oil called as refined oil and is the final product of the refinery. The refined oil is stored and subsequently packed into various containers depending upon the requirements.

We have entered into agreements with various parties to carry on the process of Solvent Crude Oil Extraction and refining the same.

SWOT ANALYSIS

As per the Project Report given by CARE Advisory Research Training Limited dated May 10, 2018, following is our Swot Analysis:

1. Strengths

The Company has an excellent relationship with its customers for the last four decades. The Company has reached and helped each and every tribal home and provided those jobs and as a result strengthened the collection potential and created a stable work force.

- Raw Material

Sourcing of raw material and other inputs is done by a well-designed, efficient and effective channel of logistics supply chain. The Company has about 80% of the share in purchasing the seed which allows for a better utilization of its facilities.

- Location Advantage

Raipur area provides good opportunity in terms of excellent raw materials sources in the radius of 50 to 300 km. There is availability of cheap labour, and well managed and trained maintenance staff. The project site is well connected with road, rail and air modes.

2. Weakness

- Inadequate funds for working capital allocation for raw material sourcing due to all material available in same period in short span. Thus higher working capital finance is required.

- Difficulty in managing and catering to demand of multiple products and customers. Due to limited production capacity at present one cannot cater to complete demand of our customers.

3. Opportunities

- Government Support

Present Indian political environment is investment friendly and enterprises supportive. Economic reforms, liberalisation and globalization provide a good opportunity to attract foreign collaboration. Government provides special incentive and support for agriculture, vegetable oil & fats and food processing industries.

On 24th December, 2017 Manorama Industries signed a Memorandum of Understanding with the Chhattisgarh government.

- Exempt of Import Duty

New Export-Import Policy under the new input-output norms for export of cocoa butter equivalents has announced an import entitlement of 1.02 MT's of Crude Palm Oil & 0.10 MT's of Mid Fraction against export of 1.02 MT's of Cocoa Butter Equivalents. The import as mentioned above will be exempt from duty (presently 75 % of the value of imports).

- Domestic Market

In domestic market there is an excellent opportunity for products like CBE, filling fats, margarine due to the excellent growth rate of chocolate, bakery, confectionery, ice-cream and food, fast-food

4. Threats

- Market/People Oriented

Consumer behavior can change in their taste and style. Change in the consumption patterns can lead to a fall in demand of chocolate and other related products. Economic recession due to global cues.

COMPETITION

Globally, largely CBE is made from Shea nuts which are available mainly in the West African region. However, CBE can also be produced from other tree borne seeds like Sal, Mango, Kokum, Dhupa etc which are available in India. The most suitable raw material i.e. Sal seeds are available only in India and that too in abundance. Manorama is the only player in India which is capable of manufacturing

CBE from Sal seeds given its procurement strength. Hence, the global players will find it difficult to compete with Manorama in the Indian context. Further, the Indian regulations also permit manufacture of CBE only from Indian exotic fats ie Sal, Mango, Kokum etc.

Since the products of our company are ultimately used for human consumption, the Chocolate manufacturers or cosmetic manufacturers give a lot of weightage to the long term relationships compared to pricing. Hence, the entry barrier to take away customer by reducing prices is very very high.

Additionally, the by-products produced from processing of Sal / Mango / Kokum i.e. De-oiled Cake, Soap Grade Oil etc. also have a huge market in India which improves realisation far better compared to any manufacturer in other developed countries there by giving Manorama to be more price competitive in international market compared to other producers.

END USERS

Our products are mainly used in chocolate and cosmetic industry.

MARKETING

These policies are subject to customary exclusions and deductibles. We believe that our insurance coverage is adequate for our business needs. We will continue to review our policies to ensure adequate insurance coverage maintained.

We have taken the insurance policies i.e. Burglary policy, Fire floater policy and standard Fire & Special perils policy, Commercial General Liability policy to secure the office premises, stock and warehouse,. The following discussion and analysis of our financial condition and results of operations is based on our Restated Financial Statements, as restated for the years ended March 31, 2018, March 31, 2017 and March 31, 2016, including the related notes and reports, included in this Prospectus is prepared in accordance with requirements of the Companies Act and restated in accordance with the SEBI Regulations, which differ in certain material respects from IFRS, U.S. GAAP and GAAP in other countries. Our Financial Statements, as restated have been derived from our audited statutory financial statements. Accordingly, the degree to which our Restated Financial Statements will provide meaningful information to a prospective investor in countries other than India is entirely dependent on the reader's level of familiarity with Indian GAAP, Companies Act, SEBI Regulations and other relevant accounting practices in India.

This discussion contains forward-looking statements and reflects our current views with respect to future events and financial performance. Actual results may differ materially from those anticipated in these forward-looking statements as a result of certain factors such as those described under "Risk Factors" and "Forward Looking Statements" beginning on pages 21 and 20 , respectively, and elsewhere in this Prospectus.

Our Fiscal ends on March 31 of each year. Accordingly, all references to a particular Fiscal are to the 12 months ended March 31 of that year.

OVERVIEW

Incorporated in 2005, our Company Manorama Industries Limited ("Manorama" or "Company" or "MIL") is engaged in manufacturing, processing and supply of exotic and specialty fats & oils like Sal butter, Sal fat, Sal oil, Sal Stearine, Sal olein, Mango butter, Mango fat, Mango oil, Mango Stearine, Kokum butter, Kokum oil, Mowrah fat, and several value added tailor made products. Currently, we are among the leading manufacturers of Sal Oils and Stearine globally with an annual production of 3,000-4,000 tonnes. Globally, we are amongst the top 10 manufacturers of Stearine. [Source: CARE Industry Report]. As early as the 1970s, our Group had made its mark on global Oils and Fats industry with the Netherlands Government publishing special features on the Indian entrepreneur in leading Dutch newspapers publicizing the vast potential of Indian exotic fats.

We are majorly catering to chocolate and cosmetic industry. Our product stearine which is made out of sal or mango seeds is one of the key ingredients in the manufacturing of Cocoa Butter Equivalents (CBE), which has a demand in the Chocolate Industry. Further our product olein is generally demanded in cosmetic industry. Our products also serve as a non-palm oil ingredient as there is movement against usage of palm oil in many western countries. Further pursuant to the enactment of recent notification F. No. Stds /SCSS&H/ Notification (02)/FSSAI-2016 dated May 17th, 2017, from 1st Jan 2018, India has allowed 5% CBE produced from Indian exotic fats to be used in manufacturing of chocolates. The relaxation is not applicable for CBE produced out of imported Shea Stearine. This has been a major positive development for the Company. As the chocolate industry is growing rapidly in India, the demand for CBE should increase rapidly, which can be catered to by CBE produced from Sal, Mango, Kokum, Mahua, Phulwara, & Dhupa ,which are Indian exotic fats and considering our Company has already been dealing in such ingredients and is proposing to set up an integrated facility for manufacturing of CBE at Raipur, the said notification should boost our revenue from operations and financial results. We have also entered into an agreement with one of the leading chocolate manufacturers for supply of CBE for a period of two year from 2018. As on date of the Prospectus, we have an order book to supply CBE worth Rs. 7680.00 lakhs over a period of two years from April, 2018.

Our key source of raw material is Sal seeds which are sourced from tribals living in Sal forests in Chhattisgarh, Jharkhand, Orissa & parts of Madhya Pradesh. The seeds start falling down during month of May and June and tribals collect them and bring them to the village centres. Manorama has been buying these seeds from tribals for many years and has an established network in more than 18,000 villages in the states of Chhattisgarh, Jharkhand, Orissa, Madhya Pradesh, etc. We also procure raw materials from forest departments and local markets if required.

Along with Sal Seeds, tribals also bring other forest and agri produced materials like rice, paddy, maize, etc. and we have been buying them in order to facilitate the tribals for ease of doing business and serving as a one point vendor for all of their products. We harboured the ambition of becoming Agro-Product trading house along with manufacturing. However, the trading business could not yield results as envisaged by our management. Though we have implemented better operational controls and systems, as a part of our future business strategy, our Company may not pursue the trading business.

Our manufacturing process can be divided into two parts i.e. i) Solvent extraction and pre-processing and ii) Refining and fractionation. We outsource solvent extraction and pre-processing activity to third parties at Chhattisgarh who conduct such processes under the supervision and guidance of our operations team. As on the date of the Prospectus, we have entered into agreements with 3 parties to carry out such activities on solvent extraction on our behalf. The second part i.e refining and fractionation process is carried out at our manufacturing facility situated at Nagpur. This facility has been registered by Intertek as conforming to the requirements of EFfCI GMP Guide for Cosmetic Ingredients, including the certification standard and scheme for GMP for Cosmetic Ingredients- Revision 2012. It also meets the requirements laid down by OneCert International Organic Standards (EU Equivalent), National Programme for Organic Production (India), National Organic Programme technical standards (USA) and India's National Programme for Organic Production Standards. Our Company is in the process of setting up an integrated manufacturing facility at Raipur with a capacity of around 11,250 tonnes p.a. of speciality fats and CBE; which shall enable us to carry out the entire manufacturing operations under one roof. For details, please refer the chapter titled "Objects of the Issue" beginning on page 104 of the Prospectus.

Our Company is promoted by Vinita Saraf. She has more than a decade of experience in the food processing and specialty oils industry. Her journey has been marked by ambitious and entrepreneur vision coupled with great vigour and hard work. She has been active in developing the seed collection systems as they are a critical component for the manufacture of specialty fats & CBE. Her leadership has enabled Manorama to achieve numerous milestones and also resulted in creation of a robust business model. As a family, we have been in this business for more than four decades and have built relationships with large global chocolate/CBE manufacturers like Ferrero (Italy), Ferrero (India), Ferrero (Singapore), Mitsui (Japan), Unigra (Italy), Walter Rau (Germany), Adeka Corporation (Japan), IOI (Malaysia), Fuji Oil (Singapore), etc. who regularly source Sal Stearine and other fats from us. We have also entered into a supply agreement with The Body Shop International Ltd. (U.K.) ("The Body Shop") for supply of Mango Butter. The Body Shop is one of the leading global cosmetic brands who have pioneered social audits with extremely stringent criteria for sourcing of their products & selection of suppliers. Similarly, we have been supplying oleins & fats which have been used by other leading cosmetic companies like L'oreal, Hallstar (USA), Jedward International INC (USA), Stearinerie Dubois FILS, France, etc.

Our Company is ISO 9001: 2008, ISO 22000:2005 and FSSC 22000 certified and the products manufactured by our Company are certified by various agencies such as Star Kosher Certification and meets the requirements set down by Food Safety & Standards Authority of India, Halal Certified Products List. We are supplying our products both in domestic and export markets. We have also been recognised as Star Export House by Government of India. Domestically, we majorly supply in Maharashtra, Gujarat, etc. and internationally, we mainly supply our products in countries like Japan, Italy, Malaysia, Indonesia, Singapore, Netherlands, Germany, Sweden, Denmark and UK. Further our Company has to its credit,

The increase in other operating revenue was mainly due to increase in gain on currency forward contract and excise refundable which was partially offset by decline in import duty received and duty drawback claim.

Other income: Our other income increased by 111.74% to Rs. 191.49 lakhs for the financial year 2017-18 from Rs. 90.44 lakhs for the financial year 2016-17. This was primarily due to higher level of closing stock at end of financial year 2017-2018 compared to financial year 2016-2017. As India has opened up for 5% CBE consumption with effect from 1st January 2018 and hence the demand from multinational companies has gone up and to cater to this demand, additional production was done which is reflected in increase in inventories. - d) Illustration of the Book Building and Price Discovery Process

Bidders should note that this example is solely for illustrative purposes and is not specific to the Issue; it also excludes Bidding by Anchor Investors.

Bidders can bid at any price within the Price Band. For instance, assume a Price Band of Rs.20 to Rs 24 per share, Issue size of 3,000 Equity Shares and receipt of five Bids from Bidders, details of which are shown in the table below. The illustrative book given below shows the demand for the Equity Shares of the Issuer at various prices and is collated from Bids received from various investors.

Bid Quantity	Bid Amount (Rs.)	Cumulative Quantity	Subscription
500	24	500	16.67%
1,000	23	1,500	50.00%
1,500	22	3,000	100.00%
2,000	21	5,000	166.67%
2,500	20	7,500	250.00%

The price discovery is a function of demand at various prices. The highest price at which the Issuer is able to Issue the desired number of Equity Shares is the price at which the book cuts off, i.e., Rs. 22.00 in the above example. The Issuer, in consultation with the BRLM, may finalise the Issue Price at or below such Cut-Off Price, i.e., at or below Rs. 22.00. All Bids at or above this Issue Price and cut-off Bids are valid Bids and are considered for allocation in the respective categories.

RESTRICTIONS ON FOREIGN OWNERSHIP OF INDIAN SECURITIES

Foreign investment in Indian securities is regulated through the Industrial Policy, 1991 of the Government of India and Foreign Exchange Management Act, 1999 ("FEMA"). While the Industrial Policy, 1991 prescribes the limits and the conditions subject to which foreign investment can be made in different sectors of the Indian economy, FEMA regulates the precise manner in which such investment may be made. Under the Industrial Policy, unless specifically restricted, foreign investment is freely permitted in all sectors of Indian economy up to any extent and without any prior approvals, but the foreign investor is required to follow certain prescribed procedures for making such investment. The government bodies responsible for granting foreign investment approvals are the Reserve Bank of India ("RBI") and Department of Industrial Policy and Promotion, Ministry of Commerce and Industry, Government of India ("DIPP").

The Government of India, from time to time, has made policy pronouncements on Foreign Direct Investment ("FDI") through press notes and press releases. The Department of Industrial Policy and Promotion, Ministry of Commerce and Industry, Government of India ("DIPP"), has issued consolidated FDI Policy Circular of 2017("FDI Policy 2017"), which with effect from August 28, 2017, consolidates and supersedes all previous press notes, press releases and clarifications on FDI Policy issued by the DIPP that were in force. The Government proposes to update the consolidated circular on FDI policy once every year and therefore, FDI Policy 2017 will be valid until the DIPP issues an updated circular.

The Reserve Bank of India ("RBI") also issues Master Circular on Foreign Investment in India every year. Presently, FDI in India is being governed by Master Circular on Foreign Investment dated July 01, 2015 as updated from time to time by RBI. In terms of the Master Circular, an Indian company may issue fresh shares to people resident outside India (who is eligible to make investments in India, for which eligibility criteria are as prescribed). Such fresh issue of shares shall be subject to inter-alia, the pricing guidelines prescribed under the Master Circular. The Indian company making such fresh issue of shares would be subject to the reporting requirements, inter-alia with respect to consideration for issue of shares and also subject to making certain filings including filing of Form FC-GPR.

Under the current FDI Policy of 2017, foreign direct investment in micro and small enterprises is subject to sectoral caps, entry routes and other sectoral regulations. At present 100 % foreign direct investment through automatic route is permitted in the sector in which our Company operates. Therefore applicable foreign investment up to 100% is permitted in our company under automatic route.

In case of investment in sectors through Government Route approval from competent authority as mentioned in Chapter 4 of the FDI Policy 2017 has to be obtained by the Company.

The transfer of shares between an Indian resident to a non-resident does not require the prior approval of the RBI, subject to fulfilment of certain conditions as specified by DIPP/RBI, from time to time. Such conditions include: (i) where the transfer of shares requires the prior approval of the Government as per the extant FDI policy provided that: a) the requisite approval of the Government has been obtained; and b) the transfer of shares adheres with the pricing guidelines and documentation requirements as specified by the Reserve Bank of India from time to time.; (ii) where the transfer of shares attract SEBI (SAST) Regulations subject to the adherence with the pricing guidelines and documentation requirements as specified by Reserve Bank of India from time to time.; (iii) where the transfer of shares does not meet the pricing guidelines under the FEMA, 1999 provided that: a) The resultant FDI is in compliance with the extant FDI policy and FEMA regulations in terms of sectoral caps, conditionalities (such as minimum capitalization, etc.), reporting requirements, documentation etc.; b) The pricing for the transaction is compliant with the specific/explicit, extant and relevant SEBI regulations/guidelines (such as IPO, Book building, block deals, delisting, exit, open offer/substantial acquisition/SEBI SAST); and Chartered Accountants Certificate to the effect that compliance with the relevant SEBI regulations/guidelines as indicated above is attached to the form FC-TRS to be filed with the AD bank and iv) where the investee company is in the financial sector provided that: a) Any 'fit and

As per the existing policy of the Government of India, OCBs cannot participate in this Issue and in accordance with the extant FDI guidelines on sectoral caps, pricing guidelines etc. as amended by Reserve bank of India, from time to time.
